Leary, the Psychedelic High Priest, Surrenders

By WALTER S. CLARK Jr. and RAY TYSON

Amidst a bizarre surrounding that resembled the filming of a major motion picture, Dr. Timothy Leary today surrendered to Dutchess County authorities in the Town of Washington hall in Millbrook.

Television crews, newspapers and radio reporters from scores of cities in the northeast, jammed the quaint town hall auditorium as Dr. Leary, accompanied by his wife, the former Rosemary Woodruff, a former model, walked into the hall as flashlights flared and newsmen and women stared.

Identical Clothes

Leary, who is charged with conspiracy to violate the drug laws, conspiracy to commit criminal facilitation, conspiracy to commit criminal nuisance, and criminal facilitation and criminal nuisance, and his new wife, were both dressed identical. They each were attired in brown suede pants, brown crew neck sweaters with silver chalices hanging from their necks.

Leary, a former Harvard professor, wore moccasins and his wife desert boots. Leary's silver-gray hair was shoulder length.

William M. Hitchcock, 29, son of Tommy Hitchcock, internationally known polo player, and owner of the estate where Dr. Leary and his cult has been operating was expected to surrender to authorities in Poughkeepsie late today. He faces charges similar with those lodged against Dr. Leary.

It was rumored in official circles this morning that Hitchcock would be represented by one of three internationally famous attorneys, namely F. Lee Bailey, or Edward Bennett Williams or William Powell Maloney, counsel for noted gangsters.

Leary's arrest today by Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan and First Assistant District Attorney Albert M. Rosenblatt, followed the arrest of five persons, including the 18-year-old son of Dr. Leary and the chief "boo-boo" of the Neo-American Church, Arthur J. Kleps, 39 on Saturday.

The arrests were part of an operation by authorities to rid Dutchess county of narcotic activities. Friday night state police took into custody three men and eight women after seizure of the largest narcotics collection confiscated in the Mid-Hudson Valley area. Police officials said the seizure consisted of marijuana — 14 pounds — worth $25,000.

Innocent Plea

During the brief court appearance this morning, Leary entered a plea of innocent through his attorney, Noel Tepper, and was released in $2,500 bail.

"I have nothing to run from," Leary said. "The charges are not accurate. I have a solid case. Merry Christmas to all," he said as he faced a barrage of television and news cameras.

Leary came east by plane from the Pacific coast on Wednesday. His whereabouts since arrival in New York City were not disclosed until his appearance today before Judge Morey. He announced he had arranged for a press conference at his Castalia Foundation in Millbrook, which he had promised to discontinue some time ago.

The latest attack on narcotics operations Saturday night was headed by Sheriff Quinlan, who invaded the Millbrook estate owned by Hitchcock with Chief Deputy Borchers and 21 deputies. Quinlan noted that about 50 men, women and children now are living on the estate. Thirty of the adults were subpoenaed to appear before a grand jury soon.

Leary's son, John, and four others were seized on the 2,400-acre estate Saturday. Young Leary was charged with criminal possession of drugs. He had been sought by police in Laguna Beach, Calif., since Nov. 23, when a bench warrant was issued charging him with allegedly being under the influence of a drug.

John Leary was released Sunday in $1,500 bail pending grand jury action. The others were held in the county jail in lieu of bail ranging from $750 to $1,500.

In the Saturday raid, authorities seized numerous jars containing what they described as marijuana and LSD, a psychedelic coloring book published by the Neo-American Church, and a booklet on how to make LSD at home. Authorities said the coloring book on one page has a sketch labeled "Billy Hitchcock, monarch of Millbrook to the Rescue."

Hitchcock, whose wealthy Long Island family leases the Millbrook estate on which Leary makes his highly publicized trips, is a multi-millionaire and financier, with homes in Millbrook and New York City.

Others Arrested

Arrested with Leary's son were William Haines, 40, Arthur J. Kleps, who was identified as the "chief boo-boo" of the Neo-American Church, which has its headquarters at the Hitchcock estate; David Stoltz, 25, and Gregory Rowland, 28.

It was disclosed at the arraignment of the five accused men, that much of the information on which the charges were based was collected by a bearded undercover agent, Fintan O'Hare, 29, an art editor of a national magazine chain, with headquarters in Tarrytown, and a brother of William J. O'Hare,

Ray Defends Tax, Answers the Critics

By HUGH REYNOLDS

Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan today lashed back at critics of his proposed city sales tax, lumping them under the heading of "merchants and some professional screamers that cry all the way to the bank."

The mayor disclosed his plans for a two per cent city sales tax in Friday's Freeman. Opposition came quickly as the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, the Uptown Businessmen's Association and the Central Broadway Businessmen's Association issued strong statements against the tax.

A Sweeping Statement

In a sweeping statement which ran the gauntlet from shopping in Poughkeepsie to shooting in Vietnam Garraghan said:

"Real estate can no longer be the source of revenue to support the school system and welfare, the latter which includes Medicaid."

"A banker who owns mortgages and is against a sales tax better get out of the profession. As for the merchants and some professional screamers that cry all the way to the bank—they talk about people going out of the area to shop. Last week I met six families from Kingston and Ulster County shopping in Poughkeepsie and paying that city's sales tax as part of their purchases."

Estimates of Poughkeepsie's take on its one per cent sales tax range as high as $800,000 a year. A check by The Freeman revealed that $650,000 would be a more realistic figure.

Estimates of Kingston's take, if passed, are in the $400,000 range for each percentage point. Garraghan has asked for two per cent.

Continuing his statement Garraghan said, "Within a year every county in the state will have a sales tax unless the federal government takes over 75 per cent of the welfare which is their responsibility because they have permitted social problems to grow."

"The morale of the country is breaking down because of social problems. Our interference in Southeast Asia is the reason for the dollar value going down the drain," Garraghan said.

Urges Support

In urging support for his tax Garraghan said, "Whether you own a home, commercial property, or pay rent, you should be in favor of a sales tax. Those that pay rent may think a sales tax won't affect them. Well, it will as your rent will be increased a minimum of 12 per cent to help the landlord pay increased real estate taxes Don't forget it."

Speaking of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce the mayor said, "The chamber of commerce is more or less supported by the merchants. Does the chamber believe industry is going to move to Kingston and Ulster County or New York State, for that matter, if they are going to be burdened with excessive real estate taxes to support welfare which includes Medicaid?"

For an Opposing View on the City Sales Tax See Editorial on Page 4.

In conclusion Garraghan said, "As for the county legislature and Common Council—voters, watch how your representatives vote on a sales tax. If they vote against a sales tax they are voting against our system of ownership which is America. Remember, real estate taxes cannot pay for welfare costs. They can only pay for services rendered."

Garraghan's statement that every county in the state will have a sales tax is supported by the fact that 13 upstate counties have already adopted a sales tax. Those going into effect Mar. 1, 1967 include three per cent in the counties of St. Lawrence, Cattaraugus, Essex, Livingston, Montgomery, Schuyler, Warren, Yates and Ontario.

Suicidal Viet Cong Slaughtered

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong troops were badly mauled in a suicide assault Sunday on a fortified U.S. artillery post 50 miles north of Saigon while other guerrilla units made three sharp attacks on outposts within 25 miles of the capital.

The enemy death toll in major actions over the past week climbed past 1,200, according to U.S. and South Vietnamese calculations.

Point Blank

An estimated 400 Communists charged out of the predawn darkness toward bunkers in the American artillery post but were caught in a heavy crossfire of machine guns, grenade launchers, 40mm cannon and 105mm howitzers level for point-blank fire.

GIs found 124 enemy bodies on the battlefield and said many were only teen-agers. One American was killed and 31 wounded in the two-hour battle for the 120-man post.

Two of the attacks closer to Saigon were apparently diversions but in the third a wave of guerrillas broke the perimeter at a U.S. 9th Infantry Division camp at Nhut Tan before being thrown out in hand-to-hand fighting.

The U.S. Command reported that seven Americans were killed and 46 were wounded in the three skirmishes around Saigon, with almost all the casualties at Nhut Tan.

Skirmishes

Renewed skirmishing also was reported along the central coastal plains, where 30 Viet Cong died in one action. But guerrilla fire brought down a U.S. Air Force Phantom jet, and the two crewmen parachuted into the middle of a firefight between the American ground troops and the Viet Cong. A helicopter pulled the airmen to safety.

It was the 216th U.S. combat plane reported downed by enemy action in South Vietnam.

In the ground assault on the U.S. artillery post one Viet Cong who got through the barbed wire and deadly crossfire jumped into a U. S. bunker and was strangled by an American sergeant. The Communists overran one bunker and destroyed an M60 tank. An American in the bunker played dead and escaped with an eye wound.

The artillerymen took two prisoners, one of them a major who commanded the Viet Cong assault battalion.

The U.S. troops also reported finding packets of heroin on some of the enemy bodies.

"The only logical conclusion is that they take this stuff before an attack," said James D. Oenbrink, an Army Doctor from Palm Beach, Fla. "It makes them like a drunk person. They don't know what hit them and they don't care."

Maj. Gen. John Hay, commander of the 1st U.S. Infantry Division, told newsmen the attack—like those on nearby Loc Ninh and the Special Forces camp at Bu Dop—evidently was part of a campaign to shake U.S. control of Highway 13, a vital artery that parallels the Cambodian border. The 1st Division has been keeping it open for civilian traffic.

"When commerce is permitted to flow." Hay said, "it improves the economy of South Vietnam. It denies the Viet Cong taxes."

Delta Battle

The heaviest Viet Cong loss reported during the week was the killing of 451 in a battle with South Vietnamese forces in the Mekong Delta Friday.

Offshore, the 7th Fleet cruiser Newport nosed through heavy weather Sunday and opened up with eight-inch guns on a segment of the main north-south highway near the North Vietnamese city of Vinh. Shells looped as far as 15 miles inland and set off a series of fires which could be seen from the ship.

Air action today was highlighted by a saturation bombing strike by B52s almost on top of the Cambodian border seven miles north of Loc Ninh. The raids, one mile from Cambodia, followed soon after a warning from Moscow charging the United States was planning attacks on Cambodia and Laos. The Soviet news agency Tass said any such actions "will be strongly rebuffed by peace-loving nations of the world."

Bombs from the B52 strike today must have rattled windows in the Cambodian district town of Snoul, six miles across the border.

VICTIM — The nude, slashed body of Jill Brown, a 19-year-old Baylor University coed, was found yesterday in a brushy area near Lake Waco. Authorities say the girl's body had been dragged about 10 feet from a small dirt road. The girl, missing since Friday, had her throat cut and several slashes to her body. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

The Changing Weather— Rain, Snow, Freezing Rain

By JEAN F. DOLAN

You don't like the weather? Wait a minute and it will change. This seemed to be the nature of things in Ulster County and most of New York State today.

Starting as sleety rain at about 11:30 p. m. Sunday, the pre-holiday storm turned to snow shortly after midnight. Accumulations went from two inches in some areas of the county to a half inch in the city before the turnabout to freezing rain, then plain rain this morning.

At about 3 a. m. conditions were reported at their worst for the motorist, as freezing rain coated roads and windshields alike.

Sanding crews were out at about midnight and had most highways in passable condition for early morning commuters. The biggest menace at that hour was sloppy slush.

Slick roads were reported in the Ellenville area in pre-dawn hours but rain changed the accumulated snow to just wet highway conditions.

Belleayre Ski Center which could really use the fresh topping of white reported rain and sleet conditions this morning. The slopes are closed to skiers for lack of snow.

There were no school closings reported in Ulster County. However Wappingers Falls schools were closed due to lack of air—in the tires of some 35 school buses.

According to school officials, vandalism resulted in the unexpected school holiday but it will be business as usual tomorrow for the Wappingers Falls School System.

Across the state, most highways were slicked with the weather potpourri. The speed limit on the Taconic State Parkway was reduced to 35 miles per hour during the early hours today.

Freezing rain caused power failures and transportation difficulties for our neighbors in Orange and Rockland Counties. According to Associated Press, 10 utility crews were on duty through the night, repairing damage in the New City area. Meanwhile traffic in the area was backed up on skiddy terrain.

The New York State Thruway reported snow, freezing rain and icy spots over its entire length early today. A mid-morning check revealed that it was mostly just rain and wet pavement, however.

No power difficulties or traffic tie-ups were reported in Ulster County.

McCarthy Speaks Tonight At Grossinger's Hotel

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, the Minnesota Democrat who plans an anti-war campaign challenge to President Johnson in four 1968 primaries, will speak tonight a Grossingers.

He is scheduled to make an appearance at the famed resort hotel in nearby Sullivan County at 8:30 p. m. before the Mizrachi womens' organization.

McCarthy, who has represented Minnesota in Congress for 18 years, eight of them in the Senate, drew fire yesterday from the administration for suggesting that the United States concede some areas of South Vietnam to the Viet Cong as a bid to generate peace talks.

YES, VIRGINIA—It was 70 years ago that a New York newspaper answered a little girl's letter with the immortal editorial reply that began: "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus." The little girl that wrote that letter is now a great-grandmother, but she has retained her faith in the spirit of the jolly white-bearded figure in the red suit. Justice Dep't Heats Up Draft Law Enforcement

WASHINGTON (AP) — In putting the heat on draft law violators the Justice Department may also be re-establishing the line between criminal prosecution and administrative enforcement—a line which critics of draft chief Lewis B. Hershey say he tried to erase.

Hershey and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark announced jointly Saturday the Justice Department has directed all U.S. attorneys to speed up draft law prosecutions and has set up a special coordinating unit to help them.

In an Oct. 26 letter to local draft boards, Lt. Gen. Hershey recommended—he is not legally authorized to order—that the boards lift the deferment of anyone interfering with the draft or military recruiting and put such persons at the top of the induction list. The rule was felt to be aimed principally at college students.

Hershey said at a Nov. 8 news conference: "If the Department of Justice wants to prosecute him we'll certainly yield jurisdiction."

That is what the Justice Department says it now intends to do, as quickly as possible.

Daniel O. Omer, deputy director and general counsel of the Selective Service System, said in a Sunday telephone interview that once the Justice Department takes an alleged violation to court, the case would be out of the hands of the draft board.

"Once a violator is convicted," Omer said, "he's classified 4-F—unqualified for military service—until he's finished his prison sentence, then his classification is reopened and he is put in any class he's eligible for."

"I don't see how you could possibly run a guy both ways," Omer said. "Either you try him or you put him through the delinquency process."

"Either one of the channels are open to the government," said Hershey in a separate interview.

The two channels, however, stem from different parts of the draft law and Saturday's joint statement spelled out each of them separately.

"It has long been the law," the statement said, "that a registrant who violates any duty affecting his own status (for example, giving false information, failing to appear for examination or failing to have a draft card) may be declared a 'delinquent' registrant by his local draft board."

Such a delinquency statement means priority induction into the military for the violator.

That sanction is authorized by Selective Service regulations issued by the President to carry out provisions of the Military Selective Service Act of 1967.

That basic law deals directly with certain other offenses including altering or destroying draft cards, interfering with the draft system, and influencing others not to serve. It provides for up to five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on conviction.

Hershey's Oct. 26 letter urged draft boards to apply the delinquency procedure to those who violate the draft law in any way.

Critics charged Hershey was trying to use the draft to punish demonstrators and was overstepping his authority.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Hershey's recommendation would let draft boards "sit as both judge and jury." Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas said, "Hershey is a law unto himself."

$145 Million Surplus

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Department of Agriculture says that during the 1967 fiscal year, surplus food valued at about $145 million was distributed throughout nine Southeastern states.

The food went to school lunch programs, summer camps, needy persons in institutions and needy families in addition to victims of natural disasters.

Frown on Beard

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Schools send pupils home because of shaggy locks or improper clothing. But in Gary, substitute teacher Mike Hughes was told to leave because of his beard.

Wallace High School Principal William Vorwald told Hughes his beard would encourage students to disobey the rules.

BOWS TO DEMAND— Nicolae Ceauesescu, secretary general of Romania's ruling Communist Party, said Friday he was bowing to popular demand and would accept an additional post as president of the nation. The announcement was made at the closing session of a national party conference, which earlier had endorsed a proposal to abolish a clause in the party statutes forbidding party leaders from holding both party and government posts at the same time. This cleared the way for Ceausescu to take the presidency. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Wrong Timing

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Alice Sutton, 24, of nearby Pikeville, walked out of the Wayne County Health Department maternity clinic after a routine examination. A few minutes later, she was right back, and gave birth.

Nurses said her daughter arrived before they could summon a vehicle to take her to a hospital.

Ellenville Fault To Be Preserved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four sites in New York State have been selected as eligible for designation as natural landmarks.

The sites, announced Saturday by Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, were commended by the Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings and Monuments.

They will be placed in the National Registry of Natural Landmarks upon application by their owners. Participation is voluntary.

The New York State sites are:

Deer Lick Nature Sanctuary—a 400-acre tract four miles southeast of the village of Gowanda in Cattaraugus County.

Ellenville Fault — several ice caves five miles southeast of Ellenville in the Shawangunk Mountains.

Fossil Coral Reef—an inactive stone quarry four miles northwest of LeRoy in Genessee County.

Mendon Ponds Park—a park 11 miles south of Rochester.

Lynda and Her Captain Robb Honeymoon in Virgin Islands

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. (AP) — President Johnson's daughter Lynda and his new son-in-law honeymooned today in the privacy of one of the Virgin Island's most exclusive resorts after the first White House wedding in 53 years.

Lynda and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb spent their wedding night at the White House, then slipped aboard a commercial airliner Sunday afternoon and flew to San Juan, P.R. A private plane took them to St. Thomas, and then they had a 15-minute boat ride to St. John, three miles east of St. Thomas, where they are staying at the Cancel Bay Plantation.

A rumor persisted that the couple would go on to Hawaii, but there was no confirmation. Robb has leave from his military duties until Dec. 29.

Both Lynda and her mother have visited at the Caneel Bay home of millionaire Laurence S. Rockefeller, who has developed the northeast tip of the nine-mile-long island as an exclusive resort.

While the newlyweds relaxed in the Caribbean, Mrs. Johnson planned to fly to Texas today to join the President at their ranch. He flew down Saturday night after the wedding, saying he was "very tired."

Robb's family, from Milwaukee, held a big reunion Sunday at an inn near Winchester, Va., attended by his 83-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Harvey J. Sims, and 59 other relatives.

The workmen changed from wedding to Christmas decorations. They had plenty of red and white flowers, holly, mistle- and other evergreens left from the wedding.

The traditional floor-to-ceiling Christmas tree was being installed in the Blue Room, where the bridal couple and their parents greeted guests with hugs, kisses and handshakes after the ceremony.

In the place of the wedding altar in the East Room, a creche with a Nativity scene was being installed.

But the wedding itself isn't likely to be forgotten soon.

Lynda, 23, goes into the history books as the seventh presidential daughter to wed in the White House.

The President said the wedding couldn't have been better—"everything was great."

Another presidential daughter 83-year-old Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, who was married in the same spot in 1906, called it the "prettiest wedding I ever saw."

Lynda's wedding dress was by Geoffrey Beene, a simple long white satin A-line with a frilly veil and a 12-yard silk train. Her hair was swept up in a pompadour and she wore pale makeup and false eyelashes.

The bridegroom wore his Marine dress uniform.

The couple clasped hands, smiled into each other's eyes and whispered "I love you" after they exchanged marriage vows and rings. The ceremony started on the dot at 4 p.m. and they were declared man and wife 16 minutes later.

The solemn President, a white rose in the lapel of his cutaway, softly ad-libbed into the Episcopal wedding text "her mother and I do" when Canon Gerald N. McAllister of San Antonio asked: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?"

Five hundred guests crowded the East Room and the cross hall of the White House for the wedding and the reception which followed with dancing, a lavish buffet and champagne. The party spilled over into a pink-lined tent outside the state dining room.

Matron of honor Luci Johnson Nugent, 20, admitted tears welled in her eyes as she watched her sister marry. She cried at her own wedding, too. She and her husband, Patrick J. Nugent, said they enjoyed this one more than their own—"all the fun and none of the trauma," said Luci.

Pictures of the Wedding on Page 23.

Lynda pulled her husband's glittering sword from its scabbard and together they cut the first piece from a towering six-foot white wedding cake.

The President stayed behind to cut himself and Mrs. Johnson a piece of cake with the sword and then they joined the dancing. Even Luci's 5-month-old son, Patrick Lyndon, was brought in for the cake cutting.

Later the bridal couple stood on a stair landing and Lynda tossed her bouquet of white gardenias, white roses and white heather. It went to her maid of honor, Warrie Lynn Smith, 23, of San Antonio, a kindergarten teacher and former college and White House roommate of Lynda's.

Lynda ruled out of the toss Robb's 19-year-old sister Marguerite Trenholm Robb, whose unguarded remarks to reporters got her the most attention of the bridesmaids. "Trenny's too young," said the bride.

"Wouldn't you like to be 19?" said the President, watching with a smile.

Of the guests, two theatrical personalities probably attracted the most attention. One was George Hamilton, Lynda's former beau, who didn't stay for the reception. The other was Carol Channing, who wore a tunic and bloomers in bright yellow chiffon with matching yellow stockings.

The last guests left the White House around 10 p.m., long after the President's helicopter had left the south grounds.

The President, seeing his second daughter wed, declared:

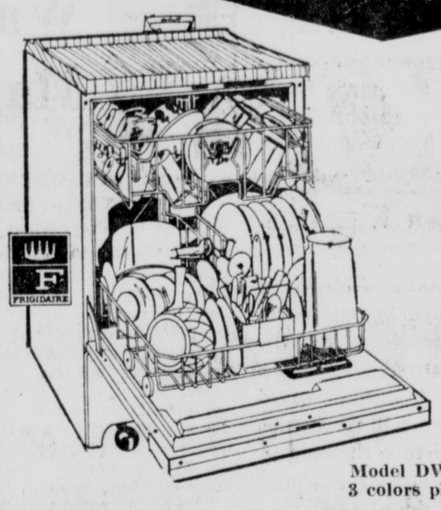

"There are not many girls who have picked young men like my two sons-in-law."

Ellenville Fault To Be Preserved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four sites in New York State have been selected as eligible for designation as natural landmarks.

The sites, announced Saturday by Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, were commended by the Advisory Board on National Parks, Historic Sites, Buildings and Monuments.

They will be placed in the National Registry of Natural Landmarks upon application by their owners. Participation is voluntary.

The New York State sites are:

Deer Lick Nature Sanctuary—a 400-acre tract four miles southeast of the village of Gowanda in Cattaraugus County.

Ellenville Fault — several ice caves five miles southeast of Ellenville in the Shawangunk Mountains.

Fossil Coral Reef—an inactive stone quarry four miles northwest of LeRoy in Genessee County.

Mendon Ponds Park—a park 11 miles south of Rochester.

Lynda and Her Captain Robb Honeymoon in Virgin Islands

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. (AP) — President Johnson's daughter Lynda and his new son-in-law honeymooned today in the privacy of one of the Virgin Island's most exclusive resorts after the first White House wedding in 53 years.

Lynda and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb spent their wedding night at the White House, then slipped aboard a commercial airliner Sunday afternoon and flew to San Juan, P.R. A private plane took them to St. Thomas, and then they had a 15-minute boat ride to St. John, three miles east of St. Thomas, where they are staying at the Caneel Bay Plantation.

A rumor persisted that the couple would go on to Hawaii, but there was no confirmation. Robb has leave from his military duties until Dec. 29.

Both Lynda and her mother have visited at the Caneel Bay home of millionaire Laurence S. Rockefeller, who has developed the northeast tip of the nine-mile-long island as an exclusive resort.

While the newlyweds relaxed in the Caribbean, Mrs. Johnson planned to fly to Texas today to join the President at their ranch. He flew down Saturday night after the wedding, saying he was "very tired."

Robb's family, from Milwaukee, held a big reunion Sunday at an inn near Winchester, Va., attended by his 83-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Harvey J. Sims, and 59 other relatives.

The workmen changed from wedding to Christmas decorations. They had plenty of red and white flowers, holly, mistle- and other evergreens left from the wedding.

The traditional floor-to-ceiling Christmas tree was being installed in the Blue Room, where the bridal couple and their parents greeted guests with hugs, kisses and handshakes after the ceremony.

In the place of the wedding altar in the East Room, a creche with a Nativity scene was being installed.

But the wedding itself isn't likely to be forgotten soon.

Lynda, 23, goes into the history books as the seventh presidential daughter to wed in the White House.

The President said the wedding couldn't have been better—"everything was great."

Another presidential daughter 83-year-old Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, who was married in the same spot in 1906, called it the "prettiest wedding I ever saw."

Lynda's wedding dress was by Geoffrey Beene, a simple long white satin A-line with a frilly veil and a 12-yard silk train. Her hair was swept up in a pompadour and she wore pale makeup and false eyelashes.

The bridegroom wore his Marine dress uniform.

The couple clasped hands, smiled into each other's eyes and whispered "I love you" after they exchanged marriage vows and rings. The ceremony started on the dot at 4 p.m. and they were declared man and wife 16 minutes later.

The solemn President, a white rose in the lapel of his cutaway, softly ad-libbed into the Episcopal wedding text "her mother and I do" when Canon Gerald N. McAllister of San Antonio asked: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?"

Five hundred guests crowded the East Room and the cross hall of the White House for the wedding and the reception which followed with dancing, a lavish buffet and champagne. The party spilled over into a pink-lined tent outside the state dining room.

Matron of honor Luci Johnson Nugent, 20, admitted tears welled in her eyes as she watched her sister marry. She cried at her own wedding, too. She and her husband, Patrick J. Nugent, said they enjoyed this one more than their own—"all the fun and none of the trauma," said Luci.

Pictures of the Wedding on Page 23.

Lynda pulled her husband's glittering sword from its scabbard and together they cut the first piece from a towering six-foot white wedding cake.

The President stayed behind to cut himself and Mrs. Johnson a piece of cake with the sword and then they joined the dancing. Even Luci's 5-month-old son, Patrick Lyndon, was brought in for the cake cutting.

Later the bridal couple stood on a stair landing and Lynda tossed her bouquet of white gardenias, white roses and white heather. It went to her maid of honor, Warrie Lynn Smith, 23, of San Antonio, a kindergarten teacher and former college and White House roommate of Lynda's.

Lynda ruled out of the toss Robb's 19-year-old sister Marguerite Trenholm Robb, whose unguarded remarks to reporters got her the most attention of the bridesmaids. "Trenny's too young," said the bride.

"Wouldn't you like to be 19?" said the President, watching with a smile.

Of the guests, two theatrical personalities probably attracted the most attention. One was George Hamilton, Lynda's former beau, who didn't stay for the reception. The other was Carol Channing, who wore a tunic and bloomers in bright yellow chiffon with matching yellow stockings.

The last guests left the White House around 10 p.m., long after the President's helicopter had left the south grounds.

The President, seeing his second daughter wed, declared:

"There are not many girls who have picked young men like my two sons-in-law."

No to City Sales Tax

Mayor Garraghan's request for a two per cent sales tax for the City of Kingston should be turned down by the Common Council because it is a regressive tax in that it would tend to drive business from within the corporate limits of the city. The imposition of this tax would have the effect of decreasing the taxable value of commercial properties in the city, which represents a substantial amount of the city's assessed valuation.

When one considers the decrease in property assessment due to the bulldozer in the downtown section, it doesn't make sense to risk further loss of real estate revenue through this city tax.

Members of the Board of Aldermen haven't acted favorably on many of the mayor's proposals in the past and it doesn't seem likely they will go along with him in the matter of the city sales tax. The mayor had been urging support of a county sales tax.

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has passed unanimously a resolution opposing the enactment of a sales tax which would apply only to the City of Kingston. The Chamber plans to undertake a Retail Shoppings Habits Survey to ascertain the current pattern of consumer activity in the Kingston area.

The proposal for a county sales tax as a means of alleviating the tax burden on real property has merit, but a full airing by the Board of Supervisors and the incoming County Legislators is warranted.

Real estate is carrying about all it can in taxes and it would seem that eventually there will be a sales tax administered by the county. But before the county government enacts a sales tax, the legislators must prove to the taxpayers that this additional tax revenue is needed for essential services and not just for a spending spree. Enactment of a sales tax doesn't mean that the county can forget all about efficiency and economy in government. The ultimate goal should be a reduction in real estate taxes.

One of the major benefits of a county-wide sales tax would be the sharing of the tax load by non-residents. Ulster County which has a large transit population would receive a large amount of revenue from vacationers.

Proposals for sales taxes always crop up when the annual real estate tax bills are in the making and especially so when they have proven to be exceedingly good producers.

A sales tax is still unpopular. Opponents declare it imposes a disproportionate burden on the little man who spends all the money he earns.

Proponents declare that combined with effective and thrifty county government a sales tax would relieve the burden on the property ower, encourage industry to settle here and stimulate home ownership.

Wage, Price Controls May Be Only Remedy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson hasn't reached a decision yet as to whether he should recommend wage-and-price controls to Congress. But he doesn't mind letting both businessmen and labor know that he might feel compelled to do so later.

Mr. Johnson at his press conference on Monday, when asked whether he would ask Congress for emergency authority to enact wage-and-price controls, replied:

"No such proposals are under consideration at this time. I say nothing at this time."

Then, on Wednesday, when the President was to address the Business Council—a group of the nation's top executives—the speech as issued to the press beforehand read as follows:

"For the first time, America is fighting for freedom abroad without resorting to wage-and-price controls at home. Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs unnecessary. This is the way it should be done."

When Mr. Johnson actually delivered his talk on Wednesday evening, however, he said that "voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs to this point unnecessary." The insertion of the phrase "to this point" is regarded as significant because this same qualification was thus made twice in the same week.

Some businessmen, on the other hand, have derived the impression that probably Mr. Johnson is talking about wage-and-price controls as a threat and doesn't really intend seriously to press for them.

Alfred Eisenpreis, vice president of the Allied Stores Corporation, said in a broadcast released by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce on Thursday morning:

"I think it is also very important to remember that the talking about it, the process of talking about it, the brandishing of controls as a threat, with little intention of really taking the step—this is a very serious game. And I think we should be very careful, at all levels, in discussing the imposition thereof."

The President in his remarks to the Business Council made a fervent plea for "voluntary" restraints. He declared:

"Nobody benefits from a wage-price spiral. Labor knows that it does not. And surely the American people do not.

"Yet business says it is labor's responsibility to break the spiral, and labor says it is yours. I say it is everyone's responsibility. It is the responsibility of government, of labor, and of business.

"I intend to urge labor to restrain its demands for excessive wage increases. I am urging business tonight to refrain from avoidable price increases, and to intensify its competitive efforts."

Wage-and-price controls would be more difficult to administer this time than ever before. Certainly Congress would have to give to wage-stabilization boards and price-control agencies more authority than was exercised during World War I, World War II or the Korean War. For the country's business is far more complex than it was a decade ago, and there is an added complication this time in connection with exports and imports.

Most perplexing is the matter of tariffs which have recently been reduced on many products. This has caused much concern in the steel, textile, oil and other industries in America which are finding their domestic market diminished by imports from countries where labor costs are very low.

So all in all, wage-and-price out to be the only remedy the controls, though distasteful to almost everybody, could turn government can use. For labor unions may keep on forcing wage costs upward, and various industries may find it necessary to raise their prices on specialized products so as to overcome the losses suffered by the influx of low-cost imports.

While wage-and-price controls may not be up for immediate consideration, President Johnson plainly does not want to close the door against possible enactment of such legislation at the next session of Congress. Certainly he will have to recommend it if other forms of control do not effectively reduce the inflation which has been steadily decreasing the purchasing power of the dollar and raising the cost of living.

Republicans Will Make Final Drive to Kill OEO

WASHINGTON — After nine months of anguish, the anti-poverty (officially OEO) bill comes up for a final vote in the House of Representatives today (Dec. 11), at which time its foes will make one last effort to kill it completely.

It's death will depend on whether all the Republicans vote no, and whether the big city Democrats, who usually take long weekends, turn up on Monday.

Meanwhile the story of what has happened to the anti-poverty bill is nothing short of a political miracle. It has risen from the dead.

At one point its employes were singled out as the only agency of government denied a pay raise. At another point they were payless. For nine months the entire agency was held in suspense while Congressmen Albert Quie of Minnesota and Charles Goodell of New York, with an assist from Bill Ayres of Akron, all Republicans, tried to undermine, sidetrack or dilute the program.

An important reaction then took place. Editorials poured in from all over the country in defense of the poor. Mayors began storming into Washington demanding that antipoverty be continued. Communities became aroused as they saw more than 50 community action programs fold up for lack of funds, with Head Start children sent home because volunteers were relieved of their duties.

In several cases, poor families on Indian reservations or in Negro slums took in Vista workers who were without pay.

Senatorial Saviors

Meanwhile a small group of Senators, headed by Joe Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia, Bobby Kennedy of New York, both Democrats, with Jack Javits of New York, Republican, had begun the work of resuscitation. They had their toughest battle in the closed-door conference with members of the House of Representatives.

For three weeks they bargained. Tempers ran high. There were 196 points of difference to be resolved between the two chambers.

At one time, Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the House conferees, declared: "We of the House have come here in good faith. But it doesn't appear that the same is true of you Senators, judging by the attitude of some of you."

"I consider that a personal affront," shot back Sen. Clark icily. "I hope that you're not referring to me."

Perkins hastened to quench the flareup.

At one point Rep. Goodell, who long had battled against OEO, said he didn't think that $1.95 billion for the current fiscal year was "enough money."

"Who are you kidding, Charlie?" said the startled Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill. "Your so-called 'Opportunity Crusade' bill provided only $1.4 billion. You probably figure that the more money we agree to in this conference, the greater the chance the House will roll it back. You obviously want Congress to pull the rug from under OEO altogether."

City Boss Control

"Oh, I wouldn't say that," countered Goodell, who sat immediately to the right of Chairman Perkins. Turning to Perkins, he added:

"Mr. Chairman, we Republicans are sitting on your right, but we've actually been on the left side of every issue—the liberal view so to speak—in this conference so far. Among other things, we have stood against the Green, or 'City Hall,' amendment."

He referred to the amendment of Mrs. Edith Green, D-Ore., turning control of OEO over to local authorities.

Most of the Senate conferees, including Clark, Kennedy and Javits, also opposed the Green amendment, and Goodell's remark prompted Kennedy to observe wryly:

"I must say I am intrigued by your comment, Charlie. Apparently, we have a conservative-liberal coalition at work here.

"We of the Senate feel that if you give local governments control of the OEO it will destroy tht heart of the program, which now gives the poor of a community a strong voice in planning their way out of poverty."

"I agree with you up to a point, Bobby," said Pucinski. "But the program needs to be shored up in a lot of communities. Without the leadership of responsible, elected officials, tht poor can't get off the ground in some areas. If there is any corruption or indifference, these officials can be bypassed and the OEO in Washington can take control. Your own bypass amendments make this possible."

So went the closed-door debate over one of the most important problems facing the nation — poverty. The Green amendment giving OEO control to local officials will still be the big issue in the final House vote today.

Westmoreland to Return? —President Johnson has told friends he may bring Gen. William Westmoreland back to Washington as chairman of the Joint Chiefs. The President added that Secretary of Defense McNamara had recommended Westmoreland for the chairmanship. McNamara, however, told friends he had wanted Gen. Earle Wheeler reappointed when his term expires next July.

Marine Corps Hassle — President Johnson's appointment of Gen. Leonard Chapman, Jr., as the new Marine Corps commandant was another slap in the face at Secretary of Defense McNamara. Four years ago McNamara urged the appointment of Gen. Victor Krulak, who pleaded that he didn't have sufficient seniority for the top post. There was a tacit understanding, however, that he would get the appointment in 1968. Accordingly, McNamara again proposed him for commandant. Opposing him, Gen. William Westmoreland stated his preference for Gen. Lewis Walt, who served under him in Vietnam. It's highly unusual for the Army to barge into promotions in the Marine Corps.

Henry J. Taylor Says

U.S. Should Use Debt Against de Gaulle

It is utterly preposterous for Washington to permit President Charles de Gaulle to kill off America's dwindling gold supply and not collect France's due debts.

There he sits treating America all the while like a bulldog treats a tramp. He's not only operating a de facto Paris-Moscow-Peking axis but is left free to conduct his declared war on our dollar at the cataclysmic risk of the United States and the entire free world.

American policy should not treat de Gaulle in the same way as it treats Western European allies who are not doing what he's doing. De Gaulle is not America's ally. He is America's declared enemy and actually seems to glory in this renegade role.

There has been a great deal of double-talk about France's debts to us, including the false question as to whether France "really owes us the money."

France owes us the money, all right. Here are the particulars. I have verified each figure with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York:

The basic French debt, so old that it goes back to the days of World War I and all of which remains due and payable to this very day, was $4.68 billion. It was actually much higher but — surprise, surprise—the French negotiated it down.

The Federal Reserve confirms to me that 16 other nations also owe some $21 billion in World War I debts. This has nothing to do with our $128 billion in foreign aid—all free. It refers only to truly due obligations incurred by debtor nations subject to collection.

Only three nations have returned the money to our taxpayers — Nicaragua, Liberia and pre-Castro Cuba. Of the regaining 17 debtors, only Finland has continuously met her obligation. Finland remained current by her latest check for $353,352 for her annual principal retirement and interest.

Britain owes us about $6.8 billion in this category; Italy about $2 billion; Belgium, Greece and Austria another billion each.

In addition to this $21 billion about the same number of countries also owe us roughly $19 billion for World War II and postwar debts. This is exclusive of their enormous obligations, likewise unpaid, for our uncollected interest.

The aggregate now due actually totals more than $40 billion, while we scrape the bottom of our impoverished gold barrel and President Johnson urges higher taxes on the American people.

The sum France owes us includes $1.97 billion as principal and $2.7 billion unpaid interest. Then there's $1.89 billion more in unmatured principal. In total de Gaulle owes the American taxpayers a tidy $6.57 billion, which is nearly exactly the amount (6.18 billion) of his entire gold reserve.

In 1931 France said she couldn't pay that year's installment. Washington declared a one-year moratorium. That was the end of that. Our taxpayers have made up the difference ever since. The de Gaulle government has the gall to no longer even carry these billions on official statements listing France's external debt.

In addition, France has outstanding three separate loans arising from World War II. These total about $400 million.

Now, as readers of this column recall, I have been after this matter with the Treasury Department for a solid three years asking why we don't clamp down on de Gaulle. The only answer I've been able to get is this incredible official reply from the Treasury to me:

"The United States does regard defaulted World War I debts as valid obligations, and it is true that France owes $6 billion plus to us from her World War I debt and $400 million piled up since 1940. But we know of no prospect that the United States will force payment by defaulting on its obligations to foreign countries."

Default! Force payment! Nonsense. Why don't we do exactly what de Gaulle would do if the shoe were on the other foot?

If a man owed you $1,000 for 27 years and now you finally owed him $100, wouldn't you say: "Charlie, that's fine. I'll just credit the $100 against the $1,000 you owe me."

You would. Anybody would. And de Gaulle, of course, would. We need ammunition against de Gaulle. Our government should have used this debt ammunition long ago. And the least Washington can do is to use it at once.

Record in the House

As the first session of the 90th Congress nears an end, the record it made is the subject of deep controversy between President Johnson and his adherents and the Republican leadership. Their views are at such odds, they sound more like a campaign debate than a congressional assessment.

There is no secret of the President's frustration that so many major Administration bills failed of passage in this session, despite the optimistic report put out by Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, the Administration's chief legislative liaison. The report glossed over the failures, notably the fact that no new antipoverty legislation has been secured and no civil rights measures, that the foreign aid bill was cut to the lowest figure in history, that the surtax has been denied for lack of sufficient spending cuts to offset it, and no new labor measures were passed, except on minimum wages.

Republican House Leader Gerald Ford and Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, compiled what they called a "remarkable record of achievement." They stressed the economy measures, which they said the majority of Republicans supported as anti-inflationary. They claimed that, largely because of votes in the House, Congress is expected to cut appropriations by $6 billion. They also claimed credit for substitution of bloc grants to states, with few strings attached, in place of categorical grants with specific federal standards for use, administered by huge federal bureaucracies.

Of 24 roll calls taken during the year, the Republican leadership claimed their position prevailed in 18 instances. They rejected the widespread belief that the first session was non-productive and negative in its approach. Instead, they insisted, it reflected the wishes of the electorate who gave the Republicans 47 new seats in 1966. If the electorate continues economy-minded, the Republicans hope to win control of the House in the 1968 election on this record.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

DALLAS, Texas—Four years after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the people here recall it as a nightmare. Roy Truly, manager of the Texas School Book Depository Building, says that his textbook company may move out soon. He had to hang a sign on the front door to keep the curious out.

Every day, small groups with cameras congregate in Dealy Square and point to the window on the sixth floor. They walk on the spot, in the middle lane of Elm Street, where part of the President's head flew off. Once a year, on Nov. 22, Parkland Hospital closes Trauma Room No. 1, and hangs a white wreath on the door. Ministers and priests and rabbis hold services at the bronze marker in the square.

Captain Will Fritz, chief of homicide, sits beside his cowboy hat and blinks his eyes. He had Lee Harvey Oswald for 44 hours and got nothing out of him. Chief Jesse Curry, who tried to please the press and was run over by the reporters, is tired, heart-broken and has quit. He's a private eye who is still trying to find out what the hell happened.

Marina Oswald is fairly happy. She married Ken Porter, a good-looking young fellow who was willing to teach her English, and they bought a neighborhood bar at Hester and Cole. They have a baby of their own, a year old. She heard that vandals had stolen the headstone from Lee Harvey Oswald's grave, but she had nothing to say. The theft solved nothing; neither would a comment.

Robert Oswald, the hard-working brother, has written a book. He thinks Lee probably killed the President. It takes courage to say it in print. He also thinks his mother is fascinated by money. A reporter says that she has sold everything of her son's, and is down to a few final letters.

The widow of J. D. Tippet, the cop who was killed by Oswald, has remarried. America felt sorry for her in her almost anonymous grief, and gave her more than $700,000. Her dead husband is the faceless man in the story. There is nothing to say about him except that he was a plodding policeman who admired girls.

Judge Joe B. Brown, who tried Jack Ruby, has had several heart attacks, but has dropped his weight considerably and married a lovely woman named Joy a year ago. James Hosty, the FBI man who trailed Oswald on his return from Russia, but had no reason to think he was dangerous, has been transferred to Kentucky.

Vernon Oneal sent his best casket ($3900) to Parkland Hospital as ordered by the Kennedy men, but had to wait 23 months to be paid, and then the U.S. Government sent a check for $3495. His business has suffered. Once, he averaged 300 funerals per year. Now he has 125. No one knows why.

Father Oscar Huber, who wanted to see his first "live" President, and walked three blocks to do it, also administered Extreme Unction within an hour. He is a gentle man, but if you mention a certain Kennedy writer, he seethes with righteous anger at what he calls "misstatements."

Doris Nelson, in charge of the Emergency Area at Parkland, is a stout jolly Floridian with a deep dimple. She's hurt because writers have said she "shoved" Mrs. Kennedy in an effort to keep her out of Trauma One. Witnesses say she didn't. Those who were there claim she tried to "reason" Mrs. Kennedy out of that room, but the First Lady went in anyway.

Even the official time of death—1 p.m.—is spurious. It was fixed to coincide with the departure of the two priests—Fathers Huber and Thompson—but the President's face was covered with a sheet when they arrived at 12:50. The final feeble heartbeat had been heard at 12:40. The doctors had left him. One book claims that Mrs. Kennedy and Admiral Burkley knelt in the President's blood. They stood. So did Father Huber.

Everyone connected with the case gets letters from strangers all over the country asking for autographs. Jack Jove, who runs the Love Field airport tower, watched the Secret Service men carry the casket up the rear ramp and almost drop it. Lyndon Johnson's secretive enemies urged him to leave the hospital early, be sworn in, and hurry back to Washington. He refused. Not once, but several times, "No matter what happens," he said, "I'm not leaving Dallas until Mrs. Kennedy and the President are on that plane."

Had he heeded the advice, he would have looked like a boor in history. Some of the dead chieftain's odoring writers have tried to make Johnson look bad in any case. Four years doesn't seem like a long time. In this case, it is going to be yesterday for many years to come . . .

Pay for Policing

Editor, The Freeman

Is there any reason why a recognized organization such as a civil rights group, parents organization, union group or similar body of people, when it signifies its intention of holding a demonstration in a certain place at a specific time, should not be made to pay directly to the government of such place the cost of policing such a demonstration?

JAMES INNES

Stop and Frisk Law

Pine Bush, N. Y.
Dec. 7, 1967

Editor, The Freeman:

It is obvious that no one in your department has ever been "stopped and frisked" or he wouldn't be so certain that all law enforcement officials should have this right or that grievance can be corrected in court. No to City Sales Tax

Mayor Garraghan's request for a two per cent sales tax for the City of Kingston should be turned down by the Common Council because it is a regressive tax in that it would tend to drive business from within the corporate limits of the city. The imposition of this tax would have the effect of decreasing the taxable value of commercial properties in the city, which represents a substantial amount of the city's assessed valuation.

When one considers the decrease in property assessment due to the bulldozer in the downtown section, it doesn't make sense to risk further loss of real estate revenue through this city tax.

Members of the Board of Aldermen haven't acted favorably on many of the mayor's proposals in the past and it doesn't seem likely they will go along with him in the matter of the city sales tax. The mayor had been urging support of a county sales tax.

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has passed unanimously a resolution opposing the enactment of a sales tax which would apply only to the City of Kingston. The Chamber plans to undertake a Retail Shoppings Habits Survey to ascertain the current pattern of consumer activity in the Kingston area.

The proposal for a county sales tax as a means of alleviating the tax burden on real property has merit, but a full airing by the Board of Supervisors and the incoming County Legislators is warranted.

Real estate is carrying about all it can in taxes and it would seem that eventually there will be a sales tax administered by the county. But before the county government enacts a sales tax, the legislators must prove to the taxpayers that this additional tax revenue is needed for essential services and not just for a spending spree. Enactment of a sales tax doesn't mean that the county can forget all about efficiency and economy in government. The ultimate goal should be a reduction in real estate taxes.

One of the major benefits of a county-wide sales tax would be the sharing of the tax load by non-residents. Ulster County which has a large transit population would receive a large amount of revenue from vacationers.

Proposals for sales taxes always crop up when the annual real estate tax bills are in the making and especially so when they have proven to be exceedingly good producers.

A sales tax is still unpopular. Opponents declare it imposes a disproportionate burden on the little man who spends all the money he earns.

Proponents declare that combined with effective and thrifty county government a sales tax would relieve the burden on the property ower, encourage industry to settle here and stimulate home ownership.

Wage, Price Controls May Be Only Remedy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson hasn't reached a decision yet as to whether he should recommend wage-and-price controls to Congress. But he doesn't mind letting both businessmen and labor know that he might feel compelled to do so later.

Mr. Johnson at his press conference on Monday, when asked whether he would ask Congress for emergency authority to enact wage-and-price controls, replied:

"No such proposals are under consideration at this time. I say nothing at this time."

Then, on Wednesday, when the President was to address the Business Council—a group of the nation's top executives—the speech as issued to the press beforehand read as follows:

"For the first time, America is fighting for freedom abroad without resorting to wage-and-price controls at home. Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs unnecessary. This is the way it should be done."

When Mr. Johnson actually delivered his talk on Wednesday evening, however, he said that "voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs to this point unnecessary." The insertion of the phrase "to this point" is regarded as significant because this same qualification was thus made twice in the same week.

Some businessmen, on the other hand, have derived the impression that probably Mr. Johnson is talking about wage-and-price controls as a threat and doesn't really intend seriously to press for them.

Alfred Eisenpreis, vice president of the Allied Stores Corporation, said in a broadcast released by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce on Thursday morning:

"I think it is also very important to remember that the talking about it, the process of talking about it, the brandishing of controls as a threat, with little intention of really taking the step—this is a very serious game. And I think we should be very careful, at all levels, in discussing the imposition thereof."

The President in his remarks to the Business Council made a fervent plea for "voluntary" restraints. He declared:

"Nobody benefits from a wage-price spiral. Labor knows that it does not. And surely the American people do not.

"Yet business says it is labor's responsibility to break the spiral, and labor says it is yours. I say it is everyone's responsibility. It is the responsibility of government, of labor, and of business.

"I intend to urge labor to restrain its demands for excessive wage increases. I am urging business tonight to refrain from avoidable price increases, and to intensify its competitive efforts."

Wage-and-price controls would be more difficult to administer this time than ever before. Certainly Congress would have to give to wage-stabilization boards and price-control agencies more authority than was exercised during World War I, World War II or the Korean War. For the country's business is far more complex than it was a decade ago, and there is an added complication this time in connection with exports and imports.

Most perplexing is the matter of tariffs which have recently been reduced on many products. This has caused much concern in the steel, textile, oil and other industries in America which are finding their domestic market diminished by imports from countries where labor costs are very low.

So all in all, wage-and-price out to be the only remedy the controls, though distasteful to almost everybody, could turn government can use. For labor unions may keep on forcing wage costs upward, and various industries may find it necessary to raise their prices on specialized products so as to overcome the losses suffered by the influx of low-cost imports.

While wage-and-price controls may not be up for immediate consideration, President Johnson plainly does not want to close the door against possible enactment of such legislation at the next session of Congress. Certainly he will have to recommend it if other forms of control do not effectively reduce the inflation which has been steadily decreasing the purchasing power of the dollar and raising the cost of living.

Republicans Will Make Final Drive to Kill OEO

WASHINGTON — After nine months of anguish, the anti-poverty (officially OEO) bill comes up for a final vote in the House of Representatives today (Dec. 11), at which time its foes will make one last effort to kill it completely.

It's death will depend on whether all the Republicans vote no, and whether the big city Democrats, who usually take long weekends, turn up on Monday.

Meanwhile the story of what has happened to the anti-poverty bill is nothing short of a political miracle. It has risen from the dead.

At one point its employes were singled out as the only agency of government denied a pay raise. At another point they were payless. For nine months the entire agency was held in suspense while Congressmen Albert Quie of Minnesota and Charles Goodell of New York, with an assist from Bill Ayres of Akron, all Republicans, tried to undermine, sidetrack or dilute the program.

An important reaction then took place. Editorials poured in from all over the country in defense of the poor. Mayors began storming into Washington demanding that antipoverty be continued. Communities became aroused as they saw more than 50 community action programs fold up for lack of funds, with Head Start children sent home because volunteers were relieved of their duties.

In several cases, poor families on Indian reservations or in Negro slums took in Vista workers who were without pay.

Senatorial Saviors

Meanwhile a small group of Senators, headed by Joe Clark, former mayor of Philadelphia, Bobby Kennedy of New York, both Democrats, with Jack Javits of New York, Republican, had begun the work of resuscitation. They had their toughest battle in the closed-door conference with members of the House of Representatives.

For three weeks they bargained. Tempers ran high. There were 196 points of difference to be resolved between the two chambers.

At one time, Rep. Carl Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the House conferees, declared: "We of the House have come here in good faith. But it doesn't appear that the same is true of you Senators, judging by the attitude of some of you."

"I consider that a personal affront," shot back Sen. Clark icily. "I hope that you're not referring to me."

Perkins hastened to quench the flareup.

At one point Rep. Goodell, who long had battled against OEO, said he didn't think that $1.95 billion for the current fiscal year was "enough money."

"Who are you kidding, Charlie?" said the startled Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill. "Your so-called 'Opportunity Crusade' bill provided only $1.4 billion. You probably figure that the more money we agree to in this conference, the greater the chance the House will roll it back. You obviously want Congress to pull the rug from under OEO altogether."

City Boss Control

"Oh, I wouldn't say that," countered Goodell, who sat immediately to the right of Chairman Perkins. Turning to Perkins, he added:

"Mr. Chairman, we Republicans are sitting on your right, but we've actually been on the left side of every issue—the liberal view so to speak—in this conference so far. Among other things, we have stood against the Green, or 'City Hall,' amendment."

He referred to the amendment of Mrs. Edith Green, D-Ore., turning control of OEO over to local authorities.

Most of the Senate conferees, including Clark, Kennedy and Javits, also opposed the Green amendment, and Goodell's remark prompted Kennedy to observe wryly:

"I must say I am intrigued by your comment, Charlie. Apparently, we have a conservative-liberal coalition at work here.

"We of the Senate feel that if you give local governments control of the OEO it will destroy tht heart of the program, which now gives the poor of a community a strong voice in planning their way out of poverty."

"I agree with you up to a point, Bobby," said Pucinski. "But the program needs to be shored up in a lot of communities. Without the leadership of responsible, elected officials, tht poor can't get off the ground in some areas. If there is any corruption or indifference, these officials can be bypassed and the OEO in Washington can take control. Your own bypass amendments make this possible."

So went the closed-door debate over one of the most important problems facing the nation — poverty. The Green amendment giving OEO control to local officials will still be the big issue in the final House vote today.

Westmoreland to Return? —President Johnson has told friends he may bring Gen. William Westmoreland back to Washington as chairman of the Joint Chiefs. The President added that Secretary of Defense McNamara had recommended Westmoreland for the chairmanship. McNamara, however, told friends he had wanted Gen. Earle Wheeler reappointed when his term expires next July.

Marine Corps Hassle — President Johnson's appointment of Gen. Leonard Chapman, Jr., as the new Marine Corps commandant was another slap in the face at Secretary of Defense McNamara. Four years ago McNamara urged the appointment of Gen. Victor Krulak, who pleaded that he didn't have sufficient seniority for the top post. There was a tacit understanding, however, that he would get the appointment in 1968. Accordingly, McNamara again proposed him for commandant. Opposing him, Gen. William Westmoreland stated his preference for Gen. Lewis Walt, who served under him in Vietnam. It's highly unusual for the Army to barge into promotions in the Marine Corps.

Henry J. Taylor Says

U.S. Should Use Debt Against de Gaulle

It is utterly preposterous for Washington to permit President Charles de Gaulle to kill off America's dwindling gold supply and not collect France's due debts.

There he sits treating America all the while like a bulldog treats a tramp. He's not only operating a de facto Paris-Moscow-Peking axis but is left free to conduct his declared war on our dollar at the cataclysmic risk of the United States and the entire free world.

American policy should not treat de Gaulle in the same way as it treats Western European allies who are not doing what he's doing. De Gaulle is not America's ally. He is America's declared enemy and actually seems to glory in this renegade role.

There has been a great deal of double-talk about France's debts to us, including the false question as to whether France "really owes us the money."

France owes us the money, all right. Here are the particulars. I have verified each figure with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York:

The basic French debt, so old that it goes back to the days of World War I and all of which remains due and payable to this very day, was $4.68 billion. It was actually much higher but — surprise, surprise—the French negotiated it down.

The Federal Reserve confirms to me that 16 other nations also owe some $21 billion in World War I debts. This has nothing to do with our $128 billion in foreign aid—all free. It refers only to truly due obligations incurred by debtor nations subject to collection.

Only three nations have returned the money to our taxpayers — Nicaragua, Liberia and pre-Castro Cuba. Of the regaining 17 debtors, only Finland has continuously met her obligation. Finland remained current by her latest check for $353,352 for her annual principal retirement and interest.

Britain owes us about $6.8 billion in this category; Italy about $2 billion; Belgium, Greece and Austria another billion each.

In addition to this $21 billion about the same number of countries also owe us roughly $19 billion for World War II and postwar debts. This is exclusive of their enormous obligations, likewise unpaid, for our uncollected interest.

The aggregate now due actually totals more than $40 billion, while we scrape the bottom of our impoverished gold barrel and President Johnson urges higher taxes on the American people.

The sum France owes us includes $1.97 billion as principal and $2.7 billion unpaid interest. Then there's $1.89 billion more in unmatured principal. In total de Gaulle owes the American taxpayers a tidy $6.57 billion, which is nearly exactly the amount (6.18 billion) of his entire gold reserve.

In 1931 France said she couldn't pay that year's installment. Washington declared a one-year moratorium. That was the end of that. Our taxpayers have made up the difference ever since. The de Gaulle government has the gall to no longer even carry these billions on official statements listing France's external debt.

In addition, France has outstanding three separate loans arising from World War II. These total about $400 million.

Now, as readers of this column recall, I have been after this matter with the Treasury Department for a solid three years asking why we don't clamp down on de Gaulle. The only answer I've been able to get is this incredible official reply from the Treasury to me:

"The United States does regard defaulted World War I debts as valid obligations, and it is true that France owes $6 billion plus to us from her World War I debt and $400 million piled up since 1940. But we know of no prospect that the United States will force payment by defaulting on its obligations to foreign countries."

Default! Force payment! Nonsense. Why don't we do exactly what de Gaulle would do if the shoe were on the other foot?

If a man owed you $1,000 for 27 years and now you finally owed him $100, wouldn't you say: "Charlie, that's fine. I'll just credit the $100 against the $1,000 you owe me."

You would. Anybody would. And de Gaulle, of course, would. We need ammunition against de Gaulle. Our government should have used this debt ammunition long ago. And the least Washington can do is to use it at once.

Record in the House

As the first session of the 90th Congress nears an end, the record it made is the subject of deep controversy between President Johnson and his adherents and the Republican leadership. Their views are at such odds, they sound more like a campaign debate than a congressional assessment.

There is no secret of the President's frustration that so many major Administration bills failed of passage in this session, despite the optimistic report put out by Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, the Administration's chief legislative liaison. The report glossed over the failures, notably the fact that no new antipoverty legislation has been secured and no civil rights measures, that the foreign aid bill was cut to the lowest figure in history, that the surtax has been denied for lack of sufficient spending cuts to offset it, and no new labor measures were passed, except on minimum wages.

Republican House Leader Gerald Ford and Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, compiled what they called a "remarkable record of achievement." They stressed the economy measures, which they said the majority of Republicans supported as anti-inflationary. They claimed that, largely because of votes in the House, Congress is expected to cut appropriations by $6 billion. They also claimed credit for substitution of bloc grants to states, with few strings attached, in place of categorical grants with specific federal standards for use, administered by huge federal bureaucracies.

Of 24 roll calls taken during the year, the Republican leadership claimed their position prevailed in 18 instances. They rejected the widespread belief that the first session was non-productive and negative in its approach. Instead, they insisted, it reflected the wishes of the electorate who gave the Republicans 47 new seats in 1966. If the electorate continues economy-minded, the Republicans hope to win control of the House in the 1968 election on this record.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

DALLAS, Texas—Four years after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the people here recall it as a nightmare. Roy Truly, manager of the Texas School Book Depository Building, says that his textbook company may move out soon. He had to hang a sign on the front door to keep the curious out.

Every day, small groups with cameras congregate in Dealy Square and point to the window on the sixth floor. They walk on the spot, in the middle lane of Elm Street, where part of the President's head flew off. Once a year, on Nov. 22, Parkland Hospital closes Trauma Room No. 1, and hangs a white wreath on the door. Ministers and priests and rabbis hold services at the bronze marker in the square.

Captain Will Fritz, chief of homicide, sits beside his cowboy hat and blinks his eyes. He had Lee Harvey Oswald for 44 hours and got nothing out of him. Chief Jesse Curry, who tried to please the press and was run over by the reporters, is tired, heart-broken and has quit. He's a private eye who is still trying to find out what the hell happened.

Marina Oswald is fairly happy. She married Ken Porter, a good-looking young fellow who was willing to teach her English, and they bought a neighborhood bar at Hester and Cole. They have a baby of their own, a year old. She heard that vandals had stolen the headstone from Lee Harvey Oswald's grave, but she had nothing to say. The theft solved nothing; neither would a comment.

Robert Oswald, the hard-working brother, has written a book. He thinks Lee probably killed the President. It takes courage to say it in print. He also thinks his mother is fascinated by money. A reporter says that she has sold everything of her son's, and is down to a few final letters.

The widow of J. D. Tippet, the cop who was killed by Oswald, has remarried. America felt sorry for her in her almost anonymous grief, and gave her more than $700,000. Her dead husband is the faceless man in the story. There is nothing to say about him except that he was a plodding policeman who admired girls.

Judge Joe B. Brown, who tried Jack Ruby, has had several heart attacks, but has dropped his weight considerably and married a lovely woman named Joy a year ago. James Hosty, the FBI man who trailed Oswald on his return from Russia, but had no reason to think he was dangerous, has been transferred to Kentucky.

Vernon Oneal sent his best casket ($3900) to Parkland Hospital as ordered by the Kennedy men, but had to wait 23 months to be paid, and then the U.S. Government sent a check for $3495. His business has suffered. Once, he averaged 300 funerals per year. Now he has 125. No one knows why.

Father Oscar Huber, who wanted to see his first "live" President, and walked three blocks to do it, also administered Extreme Unction within an hour. He is a gentle man, but if you mention a certain Kennedy writer, he seethes with righteous anger at what he calls "misstatements."

Doris Nelson, in charge of the Emergency Area at Parkland, is a stout jolly Floridian with a deep dimple. She's hurt because writers have said she "shoved" Mrs. Kennedy in an effort to keep her out of Trauma One. Witnesses say she didn't. Those who were there claim she tried to "reason" Mrs. Kennedy out of that room, but the First Lady went in anyway.

Even the official time of death—1 p.m.—is spurious. It was fixed to coincide with the departure of the two priests—Fathers Huber and Thompson—but the President's face was covered with a sheet when they arrived at 12:50. The final feeble heartbeat had been heard at 12:40. The doctors had left him. One book claims that Mrs. Kennedy and Admiral Burkley knelt in the President's blood. They stood. So did Father Huber.

Everyone connected with the case gets letters from strangers all over the country asking for autographs. Jack Jove, who runs the Love Field airport tower, watched the Secret Service men carry the casket up the rear ramp and almost drop it. Lyndon Johnson's secretive enemies urged him to leave the hospital early, be sworn in, and hurry back to Washington. He refused. Not once, but several times, "No matter what happens," he said, "I'm not leaving Dallas until Mrs. Kennedy and the President are on that plane."

Had he heeded the advice, he would have looked like a boor in history. Some of the dead chieftain's odoring writers have tried to make Johnson look bad in any case. Four years doesn't seem like a long time. In this case, it is going to be yesterday for many years to come . . .

Pay for Policing

Editor, The Freeman

Is there any reason why a recognized organization such as a civil rights group, parents organization, union group or similar body of people, when it signifies its intention of holding a demonstration in a certain place at a specific time, should not be made to pay directly to the government of such place the cost of policing such a demonstration?

McNamara Fed Up

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is tired. His personal staff is tired. They're still working long hours but they're beginning to drag.

McNamara is pictured as a hard, tough operator who dotes on conflict. But it is this reporter's experience after being at the Pentagon part of almost every working day during McNamara's seven years of office that he is personally extremely sensitive to what is said about him.

He has a terrific need to be right and to have people think he is right. He has been known to almost frantically buttonhole people who have accused him of error to try to prove he was right after all.

Criticism bothers McNamara more than any secretary of defense this reporter has ever watched in operation.

More and more of late, McNamara has seen his policies, openly or behind-the-scenes, criticized heavily by sections of the public, Congress, the administration and the press. He is close personally to some of the men who criticize our Vietnam policies most strongly.

More and more this criticism has been getting under McNamara's skin. He has been galled most by recent accusations that he has been dishonest in his statements, in the figures he gives out, in the proof he offers for his defense decisions.

McNamara likes to be top man. At the World Bank, he will be No. 1. In the Pentagon, he is No. 2; the President makes the final decisions. For McNamara, it's a severe strain to operate when the decisions are not his.

McNamara has never been comfortable with military men. He came to the Pentagon with preconceived notions of men on horseback. He has seen to the removal of some high-ranking officers whose attitudes disturbed him. Formally, in practice, his relationship with his military advisors has been correct. He has had no revolts, no organized sabotage of his programs. There has been no move toward mass or group resignations. But there has not been complete mutual trust.

McNamara is tired of his job. He has accomplished what he wanted to accomplish in the Pentagon. There are no new challenges to match the reorganizations and changes in the way of doing things that McNamara has already put through.

McNamara has told friends over the years that he had no interest in returning to private industry. He'd had that experience, he said. He wanted something new. He now feels the same way about his Pentagon job.

A man who cares so much about what people think, as McNamara does, has also a compulsion to change his image, especially if he wants to hold office again some time. As secretary of defense, he sees himself pictured as a man of war. In the World Bank, he'll be pictured, he thinks, as a man doing good for the world.

Sen. McCarthy's Dilemma: Pick 'Best Show' Primaries

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Friends of Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota say that today the chances of his entering the kickoff presidential primary in New Hampshire are no more than 50-50.

A few weeks ago, these backers indicate, the senator had all but decided upon a whirlwind New Hampshire effort involving as many as perhaps 30 days of on-scene campaigning.

Fresh appraisal of the outlook there suggests to the McCarthy forces, however, that this first key primary would be much tougher to win than was originally thought.

Significantly, it was this judgment, not the possible scheduling difficulties the senator might develop if he decides to visit Vietnam, which associates stressed in discussing New Hampshire.

If McCarthy should still choose to enter that primary (most likely against some stand-in for President Johnson), the decision probably will not be made until the holidays. And the senator might limit himself to just a few speech appearances there.

Now that he has added Massachusetts to his roster of primary states, the pressure to enter New Hampshire may be diminished. He has satisfied the obvious requirement that he do battle somewhere on the eastern seaboard.

Nevertheless, the altered appraisal of his New Hampshire prospects could be symptomatic of conditions McCarthy may encounter in other states where first judgments were rather optimistic.

In Wisconsin, for instance, one respected observer told this reporter that, though the Minnesotan has a chance to win national convention delegates in three congressional districts, he might well wind up winning nothing at all in the April 2 primary. He is said to be strongest in the 2nd, site of Madison's academic complex, with the 10th (northwest Wisconsin) and 5th (north Milwaukee) following in that order.

Even if McCarthy won those three, he would still own just a handful of Wisconsin's 1968 delegates (the total was 46 votes in 1964. The President, whose name would automatically be on the ballot there under Wisconsin law if he were a candidate,, would get the bulk.

California, where the prize would be huge (154 votes in 1964) and the senator would likely face another Johnson stand-in, is widely thought to be McCarthy's best bet. Yet even here some appraisers think he would have more trouble than the early talk suggested.

Led by the strongly left-leaning California Democratic Council, the antiwar, anti-Johnson elements are large and potent. But many established party figures are ranged on the President's side, and veteran observers stop short of forecasting their defeat on a pro-Johnson delegate slate. It is winner take all in California.

Massachusetts, McCarthy's newest primary state, may turn out to be his most promising. This judgment, by a correspondent familiar with the state, is founded on the likelihood of an extremely light primary vote—in which the militant antiwar groups in the Boston-Cambridge area might bulk very large.

The ame appraiser argues, however, that if the generally hawkish Democratic electorate of Massachusetts were fully aroused, McCarthy could take a clobbering there. A typical low-key campaign might serve him better than one heavily charged with the academic community's emotionalism.

Massachusetts, California and Wisconsin clearly are the senator's brightest prospects, but the indications today are that these and all his other 1968 undertakings may be much tougher than he and his backers imagine even in their most realistic moments.

Warns Against Defense Cuts for West Germany

By DONALD SHANOR
Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

BONN, Dec. 7—Further defense cuts would "irresponsibly endanger" West Germany's security, Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder warned economy-minded critics yesterday.

Meeting a week before the NATO Ministerial Council Conference in Brussels, parliament debated the extent of the economies made necessary by West Germany's recession and budget reductions.

The defense ministry let it be known last summer that a cut of 60,000 of the armed forces' 460,000 strength was necessary because of budget slashes.

This in turn produced warnings from Washington that the United States would be under pressure to reduce its 225,000 troops in Germany if the Germans reduced their strength.

The troop cut figure was then reduced to a few thousand.

Opposition speakers yesterday demanded a clear answer to the troop-strength question. As Free Democrat Fritiz Schultz said, last summer's troop cut talk "caused damage in our relations with our allies."

Schroeder produced a plan to make greater use of reserves and to introduce other economy measures.

He said the government would make no final decision on troop strength until NATO had been consulted.

But he made it clear that cuts already made or planned by Germany and its NATO allies have brought forces in Europe to the limit of safety in case of a Communist attack.

"The result of this is that if there is an attack in central Europe, it cannot be reacted to as speedily as heretofore," Schroeder said.

"The German Government must therefore make it fully clear that a further cut in defense expenditures would irresponsibly endanger the security of the Federal Republic, if the military-political situation does not change basically."

Schroeder's plan for integration of reserves had these three steps:

1. Fully combat ready units.
2. Cadre units, with skeleton staffing in peacetime but all the necessary arms and equipment.
3. Equipment units, which would be manned by mobilized reserves.

In last month's army maneuvers, this system was tested with the participation of 2,000 reserves in the 36,000-man maneuvers. Defense officials were pleased with the results.

McNamara Fed Up

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is tired. His personal staff is tired. They're still working long hours but they're beginning to drag.

McNamara is pictured as a hard, tough operator who dotes on conflict. But it is this reporter's experience after being at the Pentagon part of almost every working day during McNamara's seven years of office that he is personally extremely sensitive to what is said about him.

He has a terrific need to be right and to have people think he is right. He has been known to almost frantically buttonhole people who have accused him of error to try to prove he was right after all.

Criticism bothers McNamara more than any secretary of defense this reporter has ever watched in operation.

More and more of late, McNamara has seen his policies, openly or behind-the-scenes, criticized heavily by sections of the public, Congress, the administration and the press. He is close personally to some of the men who criticize our Vietnam policies most strongly.

More and more this criticism has been getting under McNamara's skin. He has been galled most by recent accusations that he has been dishonest in his statements, in the figures he gives out, in the proof he offers for his defense decisions.

McNamara likes to be top man. At the World Bank, he will be No. 1. In the Pentagon, he is No. 2; the President makes the final decisions. For McNamara, it's a severe strain to operate when the decisions are not his.

McNamara has never been comfortable with military men. He came to the Pentagon with preconceived notions of men on horseback. He has seen to the removal of some high-ranking officers whose attitudes disturbed him. Formally, in practice, his relationship with his military advisors has been correct. He has had no revolts, no organized sabotage of his programs. There has been no move toward mass or group resignations. But there has not been complete mutual trust.

McNamara is tired of his job. He has accomplished what he wanted to accomplish in the Pentagon. There are no new challenges to match the reorganizations and changes in the way of doing things that McNamara has already put through.

McNamara has told friends over the years that he had no interest in returning to private industry. He'd had that experience, he said. He wanted something new. He now feels the same way about his Pentagon job.

A man who cares so much about what people think, as McNamara does, has also a compulsion to change his image, especially if he wants to hold office again some time. As secretary of defense, he sees himself pictured as a man of war. In the World Bank, he'll be pictured, he thinks, as a man doing good for the world.

Sen. McCarthy's Dilemma: Pick 'Best Show' Primaries

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Friends of Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota say that today the chances of his entering the kickoff presidential primary in New Hampshire are no more than 50-50.

A few weeks ago, these backers indicate, the senator had all but decided upon a whirlwind New Hampshire effort involving as many as perhaps 30 days of on-scene campaigning.

Fresh appraisal of the outlook there suggests to the McCarthy forces, however, that this first key primary would be much tougher to win than was originally thought.

Significantly, it was this judgment, not the possible scheduling difficulties the senator might develop if he decides to visit Vietnam, which associates stressed in discussing New Hampshire.

If McCarthy should still choose to enter that primary (most likely against some stand-in for President Johnson), the decision probably will not be made until the holidays. And the senator might limit himself to just a few speech appearances there.

Now that he has added Massachusetts to his roster of primary states, the pressure to enter New Hampshire may be diminished. He has satisfied the obvious requirement that he do battle somewhere on the eastern seaboard.

Nevertheless, the altered appraisal of his New Hampshire prospects could be symptomatic of conditions McCarthy may encounter in other states where first judgments were rather optimistic.

In Wisconsin, for instance, one respected observer told this reporter that, though the Minnesotan has a chance to win national convention delegates in three congressional districts, he might well wind up winning nothing at all in the April 2 primary. He is said to be strongest in the 2nd, site of Madison's academic complex, with the 10th (northwest Wisconsin) and 5th (north Milwaukee) following in that order.

Even if McCarthy won those three, he would still own just a handful of Wisconsin's 1968 delegates (the total was 46 votes in 1964. The President, whose name would automatically be on the ballot there under Wisconsin law if he were a candidate,, would get the bulk.

California, where the prize would be huge (154 votes in 1964) and the senator would likely face another Johnson stand-in, is widely thought to be McCarthy's best bet. Yet even here some appraisers think he would have more trouble than the early talk suggested.

Led by the strongly left-leaning California Democratic Council, the antiwar, anti-Johnson elements are large and potent. But many established party figures are ranged on the President's side, and veteran observers stop short of forecasting their defeat on a pro-Johnson delegate slate. It is winner take all in California.

Massachusetts, McCarthy's newest primary state, may turn out to be his most promising. This judgment, by a correspondent familiar with the state, is founded on the likelihood of an extremely light primary vote—in which the militant antiwar groups in the Boston-Cambridge area might bulk very large.

The ame appraiser argues, however, that if the generally hawkish Democratic electorate of Massachusetts were fully aroused, McCarthy could take a clobbering there. A typical low-key campaign might serve him better than one heavily charged with the academic community's emotionalism.

Massachusetts, California and Wisconsin clearly are the senator's brightest prospects, but the indications today are that these and all his other 1968 undertakings may be much tougher than he and his backers imagine even in their most realistic moments.

Warns Against Defense Cuts for West Germany

By DONALD SHANOR
Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

BONN, Dec. 7—Further defense cuts would "irresponsibly endanger" West Germany's security, Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder warned economy-minded critics yesterday.

Meeting a week before the NATO Ministerial Council Conference in Brussels, parliament debated the extent of the economies made necessary by West Germany's recession and budget reductions.

The defense ministry let it be known last summer that a cut of 60,000 of the armed forces' 460,000 strength was necessary because of budget slashes.

This in turn produced warnings from Washington that the United States would be under pressure to reduce its 225,000 troops in Germany if the Germans reduced their strength.

The troop cut figure was then reduced to a few thousand.

Opposition speakers yesterday demanded a clear answer to the troop-strength question. As Free Democrat Fritiz Schultz said, last summer's troop cut talk "caused damage in our relations with our allies."

Schroeder produced a plan to make greater use of reserves and to introduce other economy measures.

He said the government would make no final decision on troop strength until NATO had been consulted.

But he made it clear that cuts already made or planned by Germany and its NATO allies have brought forces in Europe to the limit of safety in case of a Communist attack.

"The result of this is that if there is an attack in central Europe, it cannot be reacted to as speedily as heretofore," Schroeder said.

"The German Government must therefore make it fully clear that a further cut in defense expenditures would irresponsibly endanger the security of the Federal Republic, if the military-political situation does not change basically."

Schroeder's plan for integration of reserves had these three steps:

1. Fully combat ready units.
2. Cadre units, with skeleton staffing in peacetime but all the necessary arms and equipment.
3. Equipment units, which would be manned by mobilized reserves.

In last month's army maneuvers, this system was tested with the participation of 2,000 reserves in the 36,000-man maneuvers. Defense officials were pleased with the results.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Selective Exhibit Pays Homage to Memory of Marilyn Monroe

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sex goddess, supergirl, All-American Dream Queen—Marilyn Monroe was these and much more. She was a sort of magic kaleidoscope that presented something intensely personal, private and special to each eye that beheld her.

Nowhere is this more evident than in Homage to Marilyn Monroe, an exhibit of the works of 41 artists-sculptors-photographers who tried to say something about the Monroe image.

The exhibit at the Sidney Janis Galleries ranges from a 1954 Willem deKooning abstract oil portrait, executed during his so-called "women" series, to a 1967 Salvador Dali mixed media construction entitled "Mao Monroe Monarchy."

"This is a selective exhibit focusing upon the avant-garde artists of the United States and Britain, France and Italy," says Janis. "Here, we are placing the photographer on the artistic level of the painter and sculptor. And so, with deKooning, Claes Oldenburg, Andy Warhol, Peter Blake, Dali, Marisol and George Segal, we also have photographers Richard Avedon, Cartier-Bresson, Philip Halsman and Bert Stern."

The contribution by sculptor George Segal is called "The Movie Poster." It depicts a workingman in three-dimensional life size plaster, surveying the poster of a two-dimensional Marilyn Monroe from her film "Some Like It Hot," in which she is wearing a gown with a transparent bodice.

A year in planning, the one-month exhibit is being staged for the benefit of the Association for Mentally Ill Children in Manhattan.

One of the nonprofessional art pieces is a water color, entitled "Myself Exercising," which was done by Miss Monroe five [illegible] before her death in 1962.

Red Cross Appoints New Man

Zale Liese, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced the appointment of Robert H. Braun, 8 Onteora Court, Shokan, as Disaster Committee Chairman for the chapter.

In this position Braun will have the responsibility to develop a basic plan that covers the entire chapter jurisdiction and utilizes all available chapter and community resources to the best advantage, act for the chapter in mobilizing total resources for relief action when disaster strikes, report to the area office representative the effects of the disaster immediately upon its occurrence, plan with surrounding chapters for mutual assistance, and prepare final reports at the conclusion of all chapter administered operations.

Braun, who is employed as assistant director of vocational education by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services of Ulster County, moved to Ulster County August 1964 and for three years conducted an on the job training program for B.O.C.E.S. with the cooperation of Ellenville, Rondout Valley, Onteora and Saugerties High Schools. He transferred to his present position at the beginning of the current school year. He holds a B.S. degree from the State University College at Buffalo and an M.S. degree from the State University College at Albany. In addition, he has completed other graduate studies at the State University College at Oswego.

Active in community affairs, Braun is vice-chairman of Troop 63, Boy Scouts of America; advocate, Council 4369, Knights of Columbus; Onteora School District Representative to the Board of Education; a member of the Bennett School P.T.A.; and has served as recording secretary and vice-president of the Vocational Industrial Coordinators Association Inc. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Braun and his wife, Lucille, are parents of four children; Robert, Lauralee, Deanne, and Andrea.

Car Strikes Leeds Man

A Brooklyn man was injured at 3 p. m. Sunday when he was hit by a car as he walked across Route 23A in the village of Tannersville.

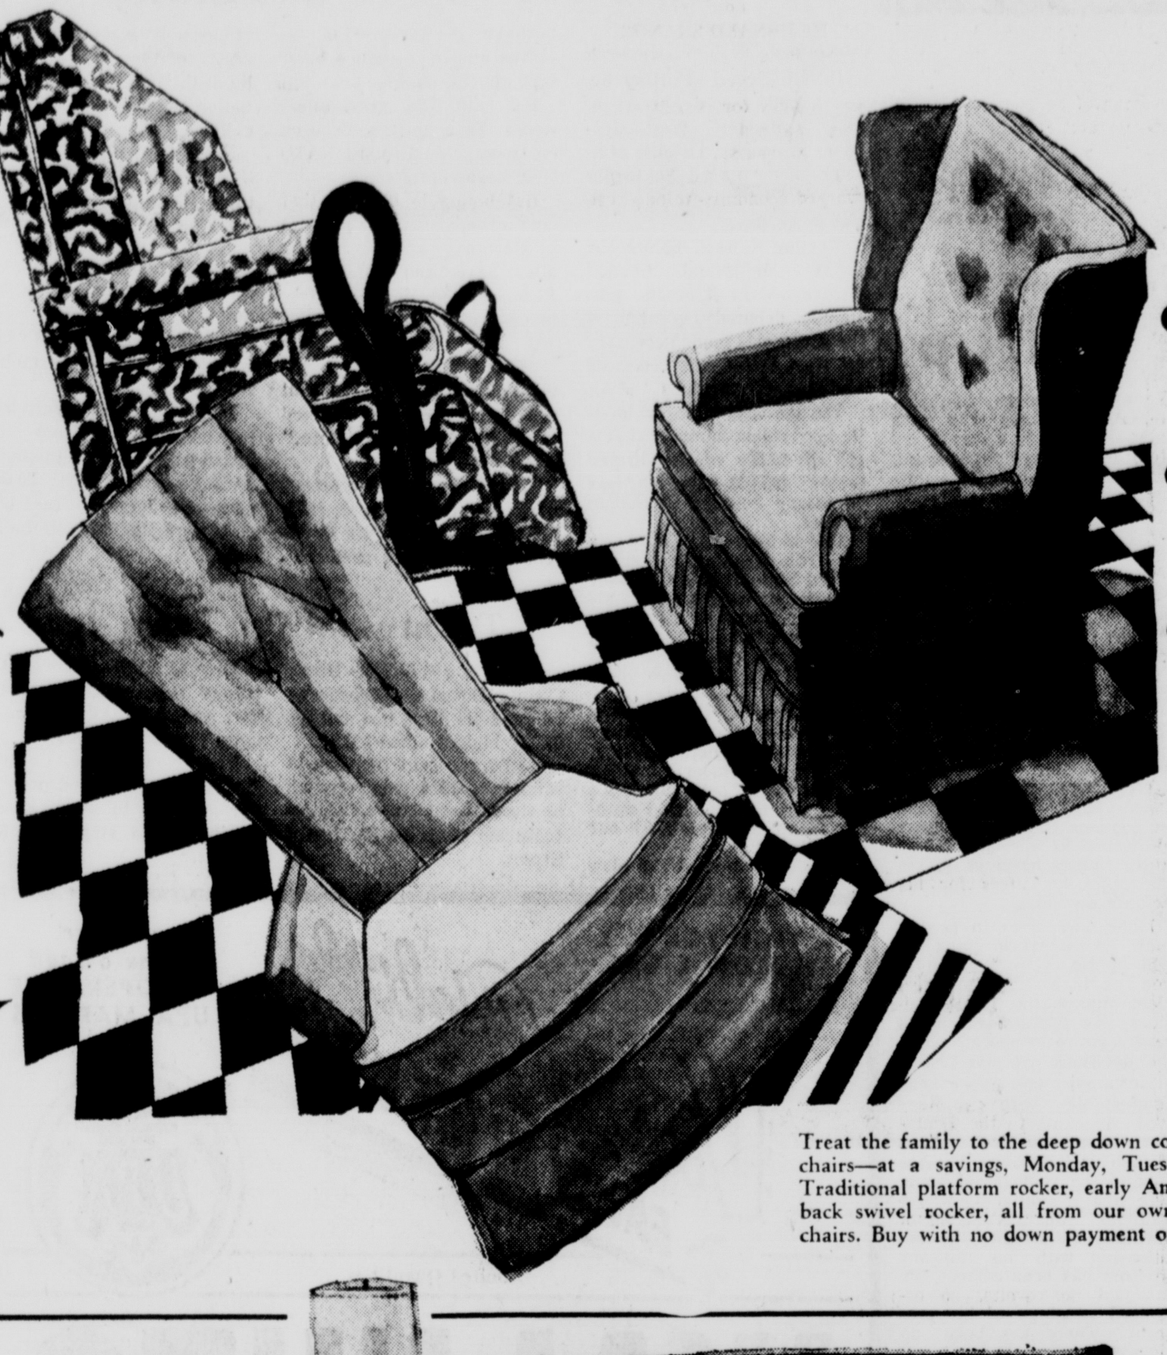

Leeds State Trooper D. N. Perry reported John J. Hirsch, 24, of Red Hook, accompanied by his wife and four children, was driving west along the highway when Daniel Hanley, 27, stepped from the sidewalk into the side of the Hirsch car.

Hanley was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, by the Hunter police ambulance crew. He was treated for abrasions of the left leg and elbow and later released.

Questions from Local Senior Citizens: Advisory Council Supplies the Answers

The newly formed Senior Citizen Advisory Council in a continuing effort to help area elders plans a question and answer series through the courtesy of the Social Security Administration.

The council recently instituted a trouble phone service. Senior citizens with problems may call 338-0933 between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m. Monday through Friday for assistance. The number may be used by those knowing of senior citizens with problems.

Q. I am 74 years old and a widow. I receive $52 a month social security benefit. Why am I not entitled to the special age 72 benefit of $35 a month?

A. You are not entitled to the special age 72 benefit of $35 a month because you are receiving a governmental insurance payment (social security) which exceeds the $35 special benefit. Under the law if a person is eligible for any monthly or periodic benefit under a governmental pension system, the special age 72 benefit of $35 a month for single people and $52.50 for married couples will be reduced by the amount of the governmental payment.

Q. I am 64 years old. Six years ago I divorced my husband. He is now receiving social security benefits. Am I entitled to receive anything on his social security?

A. As a divorced wife you may qualify for benefits if you were married to him for at least 20 years; have not remarried; are not entitled to a higher social security benefit on your own account, and if you are receiving substantial contributions from him under a written agreement or there is a court order in effect for substantial contributions from him.

Q. I have had medical bills this year amounting to $84. I paid the doctor and sent in the bills amounting to $34 to Medicare. I have been notified by Medicare that I am not entitled to reimbursement because I did not meet the $50 deductible. I did meet it, however.

A. You should send in all bills showing the amount paid including the $50 deductible amounts. This is necessary in order to establish that you did in fact incur more than $50 in medical bills.

Chimps! Hearts for Humans?

LONDON (AP) — The hearts of chimpanzees may well be successfully transplanted into humans, says Dr. William Cleland, one of Britain's leading heart surgeons.

"I do not see any objection to a chimpanzee's heart in a human," Cleland said today.

"We are already using some animal parts in surgery, for instance the valves of pigs and calves. The next stage will be to think in terms of transplanting whole organs.

"There are obviously a large number of biochemical and other problems to be solved, but this is likely to be the next field of research."

Cleland said doctors are beginning to face the problem of not having enough spare human parts ready at the right time.

For every 100 patients who urgently needed transplants there might be only one or two donors available, he said.

But if there was an alternative source of supply—such as monkeys—perhaps 90 of the 100 could be treated.

Cleland said the hearts of the larger monkeys, such as chimpanzees, were fairly similar to human ones.

Accord Family In Test Group Of Farm Journal

Mrs. John L. Schoonmaker, Jr., Box 47, Accord, has been named a member of the Family Test Group of Farm Journal magazine, according to Miss Gertrude Dieken, Woman's Editor.

Mrs. Schoonmaker and her family are one of 500 member-families of the group. The families are selected for their special skills and interests in some phase of farming, homemaking or community work. They are located all across the country.

Family Test Group members help the editors of the national farm magazine by acting as a sounding board for editorial ideas, and by reflecting local opinions, problems and customs. This service supplements travel and farm visits by the 38 editors of Farm Journal.

These families also test products, both on the farm and in the home.

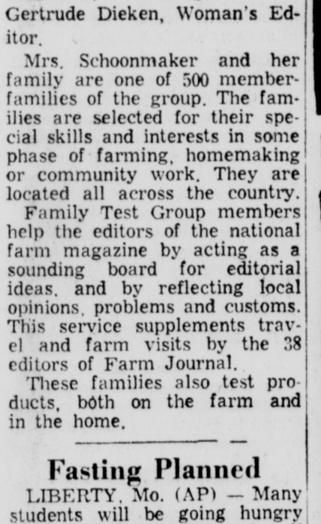

Fasting Planned

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Many students will be going hungry this winter at William Jewell College. They want it that way.

They're demonstrating with fasts to call attention to the problem of world food supplies.

More than 90 have volunteered to stage an unbroken chain of fasts leading up to a population conference planned for March 29 in Kansas City.

Plans call for as many as three students at a time going without solid food for 24-hour periods.

UPI APPOINTMENT — Appointment of C. Q. I am 64 years old. Six years ago I divorced my husband. He is now receiving social security benefits. Am I entitled to receive anything on his social security?

A. As a divorced wife you may qualify for benefits if you were married to him for at least 20 years; have not remarried; are not entitled to a higher social security benefit on your own account, and if you are receiving substantial contributions from him under a written agreement or there is a court order in effect for substantial contributions from him.

Q. I have had medical bills this year amounting to $84. I paid the doctor and sent in the bills amounting to $34 to Medicare. I have been notified by Medicare that I am not entitled to reimbursement because I did not meet the $50 deductible. I did meet it, however.

A. You should send in all bills showing the amount paid including the $50 deductible amounts. This is necessary in order to establish that you did in fact incur more than $50 in medical bills.

Chimps! Hearts for Humans?

LONDON (AP) — The hearts of chimpanzees may well be successfully transplanted into humans, says Dr. William Cleland, one of Britain's leading heart surgeons.

"I do not see any objection to a chimpanzee's heart in a human," Cleland said today.

"We are already using some animal parts in surgery, for instance the valves of pigs and calves. The next stage will be to think in terms of transplanting whole organs.

"There are obviously a large number of biochemical and other problems to be solved, but this is likely to be the next field of research."

Cleland said doctors are beginning to face the problem of not having enough spare human parts ready at the right time.

For every 100 patients who urgently needed transplants there might be only one or two donors available, he said.

But if there was an alternative source of supply—such as monkeys—perhaps 90 of the 100 could be treated.

Cleland said the hearts of the larger monkeys, such as chimpanzees, were fairly similar to human ones.

Accord Family In Test Group Of Farm Journal

Mrs. John L. Schoonmaker, Jr., Box 47, Accord, has been named a member of the Family Test Group of Farm Journal magazine, according to Miss Gertrude Dieken, Woman's Editor.

Mrs. Schoonmaker and her family are one of 500 member-families of the group. The families are selected for their special skills and interests in some phase of farming, homemaking or community work. They are located all across the country.

Family Test Group members help the editors of the national farm magazine by acting as a sounding board for editorial ideas, and by reflecting local opinions, problems and customs. This service supplements travel and farm visits by the 38 editors of Farm Journal.

These families also test products, both on the farm and in the home.

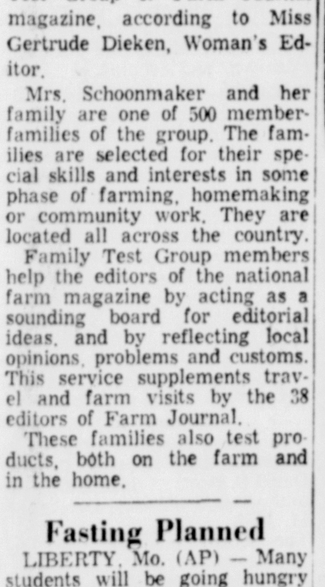

Fasting Planned

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Many students will be going hungry this winter at William Jewell College. They want it that way.

They're demonstrating with fasts to call attention to the problem of world food supplies.

More than 90 have volunteered to stage an unbroken chain of fasts leading up to a population conference planned for March 29 in Kansas City.

Plans call for as many as three students at a time going without solid food for 24-hour periods.

AFL-CIO Begins Annual Convention

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO, after hearing from a host of top Johnson administration officials, turned to its own convention business Monday but stressed it will welcome President Johnson any time he wants to drop in.

"We're at his convenience," said a spokesman for the big labor federation which hopes Johnson will speak to the 1,200 delegates sometime this week.

Meanwhile, behind the scene, AFL-CIO President George Meany, who leads the federation's all out political support for Johnson on Vietnam, considered launching a major attack in defense of one of the administration's beleaguered homefront measures in Congress.

It was learned the 14-million member labor federation's hierarchy is thinking of major attack on what it considers a watered down version of Johnson's Social Security bill in Congress, and a demand that the White House bill be passed.

"It retreats from the humanitarian position that this nation has always had for the poor people," a federation spokesman said of a senate-house compromise Social Security measure expected to come up in congress this week.

On another subject, the AFL-CIO considered a resolution that would call on President Johnson to "renounce publicly" any idea of using the Taft-Hartley Act to halt the strike of some 60,000 members of 26 unions that has virtually halted all U.S. copper production for nearly five months.

There has been no hint so far of the White House invoking the 80-day "cooling off" injunction under Taft-Hartley.

The resolution also asked the White House to promise aloud it won't release any copper from government stockpiles.

Earlier, the AFL-CIO Executive Council voted $50,000 toward a special fund to help the copper strikers and their families. The fund could amount to millions of dollars if all 129 unions contribute to it as asked by Meany.

a deputy state attorney general and former assistant district attorney.

Dutchess County District Attorney John R. Heilman Jr. told newsmen, "our combined law enforcement agencies will continue to utilize every effort at our command to make such future activity (narcotics) unhealthy for anyone in this county."

Dr. Leary is currently appealing a 30-year prison sentence and a $30,000 fine he received in a federal court in Laredo, Tex., two years ago for illegally importing marijuana from Mexico. He and two associates were taken into custody on narcotics charges in a raid on the Millbrook estate in April 1966. Those charges were dismissed in September of that year.

Red Inspired?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of whether the Morgenthau plan to turn post-war Germany into an agrarian state was Communist inspired has been raised in a study published by the Senate internal security subcommittee.

The study recalls that the Morgenthau plan was written by Harry Dexter White, a wartime Treasury official who later was portrayed in congressional hearings as a Communist spy. The study does not answer the question of whether the plan was dictated to White by the Soviet Union.

White denied accusations against him before a House committee in 1948. He was found dead from an overdose of sleeping pills a few days later.

Rare Bird Find

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Maui Nukupuu, "a small perching bird with a long down-curving bill and a tubular tongue for extracting nectar," has been seen for the first time in 71 years, the Interior Department reports.

The bird—bearer of the scientific name of Hemignathus Lucidus Effinus—was sighted flitting through the Kipahulu Valley of Maui Island, Hawaii, by an expedition co-sponsored by the Interior department and Nature Conservancy.

The department says it will attempt to acquire the 9,600-acre Haleakala area on the island as a wildlife sanctuary to preserve the near-extinct Maui Nukupuu and other rare local species.

Stays Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will stay in Washington to work on the 1969 defense program and budget and will not attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Brussels, the Pentagon has announced.

Deputy Defense Secretary Paul H. Nitze will attend the meeting in McNamara's place. The Pentagon said McNamara was remaining in Washington "at the request of the President."

Cops' Yule Party For Children Is Set on Saturday

The annual Kingston Patrolmen's Association Christmas party for children will be held Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m. in the Community Theater, Broadway.

This year's party will feature Jo-Jo the Clown along with Santa Claus. Gifts will be distributed by members of the police department. New bicycles will be given away; one for a boy and one for a girl.

Meyer Levy, vice president of the KPA, is chairman for the affair which attracted more than 1,600 children last year. Working with Levy are Douglas Longto and Gerald Tierney.

Levy, in a statement to The Freeman today, said, "This is our major event of the year. Our Christmas party is open to all the children of Kingston. We'll have candy and cookies in addition to the gifts. A full length movie is planned with numerous cartoons."

Navy Warns Its Personnel

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has warned its personnel in South Vietnam and around the world to be wary of anti-war groups trying to talk them into deserting, a spokesman said today.

The directive, issued last month, was "obviously" spurred by the recent desertion of four sailors from the carrier Intrepid who have since gone to the Soviet Union, the spokesman added.

fective Mar. 1 have been passed in Otsego, Alleghany and Steuben counties. Hamilton County will adopt a three per cent tax June 1.

Kingston Common Council will meet tonight at 9:30 to consider Garraghan's tax proposal, among other things. Whether the aldermen will vote on the measure is not known. If they do vote and approve it, the city would have to wait at least 90 days before it could be levied. All sales taxes must be approved by the State Sales Tax Bureau and come under review for 90 days.

Reason for the widespread rush to county sales taxes is reportedly fear of Gov. Rockefeller's hiking the present state sales tax from two to five per cent. If the governor does raise the tax, and this is expected in the spring, and a county does not have a tax of its own, all five per cent will revert to the state.

Garraghan says he doesn't want the city to get caught short if Rockefeller does go for a five per cent tax. By passing a two per cent tax now, Garraghan expects that the city will get to keep at least one per cent if the governor's five per cent is approved.

Scofflaws

NEW YORK (AP) — City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes says hiking the fines for traffic violations he just isn't working, explaining that "it has been common practice in New York for many years to just ignore traffic tickets."

Barnes told an interviewer on the WNBC-TV "Searchlight" program Sunday that there were just as many parking violations today as there were before fines here were tripled in some instances, effective Dec. 1.

The commissioner suggested that increased fines won't clear up traffic congestion unless a more efficient system of collecting the fines is developed. He also urged that no driver be allowed to renew his license unless he has paid traffic tickets.

Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of our beloved brother, David Post, who passed away four years ago today, December 11, 1963.
He is gone, but not forgotten,
As it dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always there,
Sacred Heart of Jesus have mercy on him.

AFL-CIO Begins Annual Convention

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO, after hearing from a host of top Johnson administration officials, turned to its own convention business Monday but stressed it will welcome President Johnson any time he wants to drop in.

"We're at his convenience," said a spokesman for the big labor federation which hopes Johnson will speak to the 1,200 delegates sometime this week.

Meanwhile, behind the scene, AFL-CIO President George Meany, who leads the federation's all out political support for Johnson on Vietnam, considered launching a major attack in defense of one of the administration's beleaguered homefront measures in Congress.

It was learned the 14-million member labor federation's hierarchy is thinking of major attack on what it considers a watered down version of Johnson's Social Security bill in Congress, and a demand that the White House bill be passed.

"It retreats from the humanitarian position that this nation has always had for the poor people," a federation spokesman said of a senate-house compromise Social Security measure expected to come up in congress this week.

On another subject, the AFL-CIO considered a resolution that would call on President Johnson to "renounce publicly" any idea of using the Taft-Hartley Act to halt the strike of some 60,000 members of 26 unions that has virtually halted all U.S. copper production for nearly five months.

There has been no hint so far of the White House invoking the 80-day "cooling off" injunction under Taft-Hartley.

The resolution also asked the White House to promise aloud it won't release any copper from government stockpiles.

Earlier, the AFL-CIO Executive Council voted $50,000 toward a special fund to help the copper strikers and their families. The fund could amount to millions of dollars if all 129 unions contribute to it as asked by Meany.

a deputy state attorney general and former assistant district attorney.

Dutchess County District Attorney John R. Heilman Jr. told newsmen, "our combined law enforcement agencies will continue to utilize every effort at our command to make such future activity (narcotics) unhealthy for anyone in this county."

Dr. Leary is currently appealing a 30-year prison sentence and a $30,000 fine he received in a federal court in Laredo, Tex., two years ago for illegally importing marijuana from Mexico. He and two associates were taken into custody on narcotics charges in a raid on the Millbrook estate in April 1966. Those charges were dismissed in September of that year.

This report evaluates the administration of civil service and includes a comprehensive review of the local commission's records, procedures and operations for the period from June 1966 to July 1967. This report may be reviewed at the Kingston Civil Service Commission office located at 467 Broadway.

Today In Washington

Red Inspired?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of whether the Morgenthau plan to turn post-war Germany into an agrarian state was Communist inspired has been raised in a study published by the Senate internal security subcommittee.

The study recalls that the Morgenthau plan was written by Harry Dexter White, a wartime Treasury official who later was portrayed in congressional hearings as a Communist spy. The study does not answer the question of whether the plan was dictated to White by the Soviet Union.

White denied accusations against him before a House committee in 1948. He was found dead from an overdose of sleeping pills a few days later.

Rare Bird Find

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Maui Nukupuu, "a small perching bird with a long down-curving bill and a tubular tongue for extracting nectar," has been seen for the first time in 71 years, the Interior Department reports.

The bird—bearer of the scientific name of Hemignathus Lucidus Effinus—was sighted flitting through the Kipahulu Valley of Maui Island, Hawaii, by an expedition co-sponsored by the Interior department and Nature Conservancy.

The department says it will attempt to acquire the 9,600-acre Haleakala area on the island as a wildlife sanctuary to preserve the near-extinct Maui Nukupuu and other rare local species.

Stays Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will stay in Washington to work on the 1969 defense program and budget and will not attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Brussels, the Pentagon has announced.

Deputy Defense Secretary Paul H. Nitze will attend the meeting in McNamara's place. The Pentagon said McNamara was remaining in Washington "at the request of the President."

Cops' Yule Party For Children Is Set on Saturday

The annual Kingston Patrolmen's Association Christmas party for children will be held Saturday, beginning at 10 a. m. in the Community Theater, Broadway.

This year's party will feature Jo-Jo the Clown along with Santa Claus. Gifts will be distributed by members of the police department. New bicycles will be given away; one for a boy and one for a girl.

Meyer Levy, vice president of the KPA, is chairman for the affair which attracted more than 1,600 children last year. Working with Levy are Douglas Longto and Gerald Tierney.

Levy, in a statement to The Freeman today, said, "This is our major event of the year. Our Christmas party is open to all the children of Kingston. We'll have candy and cookies in addition to the gifts. A full length movie is planned with numerous cartoons."

Navy Warns Its Personnel

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has warned its personnel in South Vietnam and around the world to be wary of anti-war groups trying to talk them into deserting, a spokesman said today.

The directive, issued last month, was "obviously" spurred by the recent desertion of four sailors from the carrier Intrepid who have since gone to the Soviet Union, the spokesman added.

fective Mar. 1 have been passed in Otsego, Alleghany and Steuben counties. Hamilton County will adopt a three per cent tax June 1.

Kingston Common Council will meet tonight at 9:30 to consider Garraghan's tax proposal, among other things. Whether the aldermen will vote on the measure is not known. If they do vote and approve it, the city would have to wait at least 90 days before it could be levied. All sales taxes must be approved by the State Sales Tax Bureau and come under review for 90 days.

Reason for the widespread rush to county sales taxes is reportedly fear of Gov. Rockefeller's hiking the present state sales tax from two to five per cent. If the governor does raise the tax, and this is expected in the spring, and a county does not have a tax of its own, all five per cent will revert to the state.

Garraghan says he doesn't want the city to get caught short if Rockefeller does go for a five per cent tax. By passing a two per cent tax now, Garraghan expects that the city will get to keep at least one per cent if the governor's five per cent is approved.

Scofflaws

NEW YORK (AP) — City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes says hiking the fines for traffic violations he just isn't working, explaining that "it has been common practice in New York for many years to just ignore traffic tickets."

Barnes told an interviewer on the WNBC-TV "Searchlight" program Sunday that there were just as many parking violations today as there were before fines here were tripled in some instances, effective Dec. 1.

The commissioner suggested that increased fines won't clear up traffic congestion unless a more efficient system of collecting the fines is developed. He also urged that no driver be allowed to renew his license unless he has paid traffic tickets.

Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of our beloved brother, David Post, who passed away four years ago today, December 11, 1963.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
As it dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always there,
Sacred Heart of Jesus have mercy on him.

Governor
JOHN L. SLIZEWSKI,
Secretary

DIED

RYAN—In this city December 10, 1967, Mary Lucas Ryan of 182 Hasbrouck Avenue. Beloved mother of Edward Lucas of Newburgh, John Brodhead, Mrs. Margaret Williams, Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Helen Williams, Mrs. Catherine Cline, all of this city. Sister of Mrs. Lillian Feasel, of Kingston. Also surviving are 22 grandchildren and several great grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Funeral will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, 176 Broadway, thence to St. Mary's Church, where at 10 a. m. a high requiem Mass will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday from 7 to 9 and Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

SHORT — Charlotte (Lottie) (nee Van Dermark) on Wednesday, December 6, 1967, of Richmond, California, formerly of 105 Franklin Street. Beloved wife of the late Augustus Short; mother of Benjamin A. Short; four grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held from the Wilson & Katser Mortuaries, 24th Street, Richmond, California. Graveside service will take place at 1 p. m. Tuesday, December 12, at Montrepose Cemetery. The Rev. Carl J. Goette will give the committal. Local arrangement by Henry J. Bruck.

SHIVERY — Suddenly in this city, December 8, 1967, George N. Shivery of Edgewood Ave., Rolling Meadows. Husband of Kathleen Braun; father of Major William D. Dickinson with the armed forces in Vietnam. Son of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Shivery of Willmington, Del., and brother of Mrs. Luther Critzer of Whittier, Calif. Two grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the A. Carr & Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl Street, on Tuesday at 2 p. m. Relative and friends are invited. Interment in Montrepose Cemetery. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p. m. on Monday. The family requests that in lieu of flowers, contributions be made to The Heart Fund.

Attention Members of Great Consistory of Old Dutch Church

All members of the Great Consistory of the Old Dutch Church are requested to meet at 8 o'clock this evening (Monday) at the A. Carr & Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl Street to pay their respects to the late Senior Elder, Mr. George N. Shivery.

JOHN R. WARREN
Senior Deacon

SOWLES—Pauline, suddenly on December 10, 1967, of Saugerties. Wife of Edward and mother of George Robert Sowles.

The funeral service will be held at the Hartley & Lamouree Inc. Funeral Home, Main and Second Streets, Saugerties, on Wednesday at 2 p. m. Burial in Blue Mountain Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening and Tuesday afternoon and evening.

ZOLLER—At rest Dec. 10, 1961, Frederick John Zoller, of 587 Abeel Street; brother of Mrs. Eveline (Frank) Walter, and Miss Ella Zoller.

Entrusted to the care of the Keyeser Funeral Service, Albany and Manor Avenues, where the Rev. David C. Gaise, DD, will officiate on Wednesday at 11 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment in Montrepose Cemetery. The family will receive their friends at the Kingston Chapel Tuesday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Memoriam

In loving memory of a dear husband and devoted father, David S. Post, who passed away four years ago today, December 11, 1963.

The world changes year to year
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.

Cite Glasco Youth Twice Within Hour

A Glasco youth was cited Saturday night by Kingston State Police for two charges that stemmed from separate accidents his car was involved in within an hour in the Town of Ulster.

State Trooper John McMickle said John Bonelli, Jr., 18, of Route 32, was driving his car west on Old Stage Road at 9:50 p. m., when the vehicle veered out of control, hit a mail box and crossed the highway before coming to a stop. Bonelli escaped injury but was summoned by Trooper J. J. Brainard for failure to keep to the right.

At 10:45 p. m., according to Trooper McMickle, Bonelli was driving his car east on Titan Road, Town of Ulster, when he lost control on a sharp curve. The vehicle left the the right side of the highway and slammed headon into a rock cut.

Trooper Brainard cited Bonelli for driving while intoxicated, Trooper McMickle said. The summons is returnable before Town of Ulster Justice Arthur A. Reilly. Bonelli sustained fractured ribs and suffered from shock in the second mishap. A passenger, Arlene Durling, 19, of Route 1, Box 373, Kingston, received lacerations of the lower lip.

Health for All

Tar and feathers. A grisly, old combo. Nobody gets that treatment these days. Today there's another grim twosome. Tar and nicotine.

Cigarette smoking is the modern punishment, self-imposed. The body takes a beating. What causes the strain on the system is not clear. Hot smoke itself? Tar and nicotine? Nobody knows for sure. But smoking plays havoc with the lungs, the heart, and the set-up for survival.

The Surgeon General says smokers should stop. Lots have tried. Some have succeeded. Quitting, for others, seems out of the question. And, unfortunately, many anti-smoking clinics attract the type of troubled smoker who is least likely to quit. A surprising number of smokers, a recent study shows, use cigarettes to avoid feeling down in the dumps. Many smoke to relax. Or to feel alert. Some smoke from compulsion. Breaking these patterns is not easy.

Why are certain people more dependent on cigarettes than others? Experts at the First World Conference on Smoking and Health, held last September, were undecided about the reasons why. Some of the factors are certainly psychological. But many Conference experts stated their suspision that nicotine may be a factor in inducing dependency.

Smoking and its contribution to chronic respiratory conditions is a major concern of your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. Using Christmas Seals supports its activities, including the anti-smoking campaign. "It's a Matter of Life and Breath," after all.

Taxpayers' Reminder:
Payment Deadline Friday

Taxpayers in the City School District of Kingston (Consolidated) are reminded that only a few days remain in which to pay the current 1967-68 school taxes at the office of the collector in the George Washington School building, 67 Wall Street.

Payments must be in the office of the collector by Friday, Dec. 15. Early mailing is suggested because of the volume of Christmas mail which may cause delay in delivery.

Payments received after Dec. 15 must be returned to the sender and will then be subject to a penalty of five per cent, plus interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month, until paid.

The Collector's office is open for payment of taxes from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. each day, Monday through Friday.

Taxes unpaid at the close of business on Dec. 15 will be certified to the City Treasurer for those parcels in the City of Kingston, and to the County Treasurer for those outside the city, as delinquent. This list will be submitted to these Treasurers on Jan. 5, and may then be paid at these offices subject to the interest and penalty outlined above. These taxes are not payable to anyone during the period from Dec. 16 through Jan. 4, 1968.

All-new Mercury Montego has 4 extra inches of riding comfort in every 2-door hardtop.

Three competitive car lines fall considerably short of Montego this year. As the chart shows, they give you 4 inches less wheelbase. Less rear passenger room. Less trunk space.

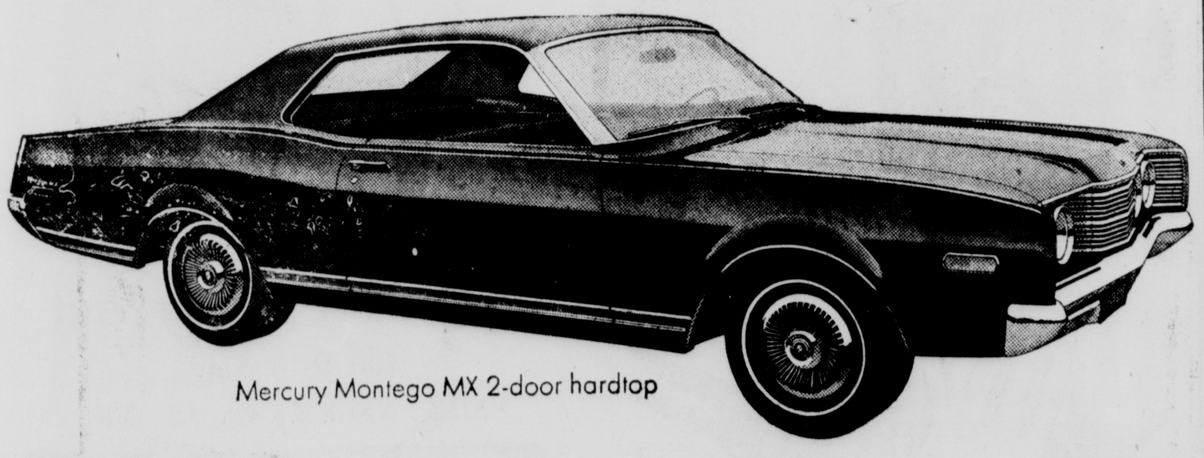

Montego doesn't think you want to be sold this short. Besides, we're solidly committed to the Fine Car Touch inspired by the Lincoln Continental. Which means giving you more.

We think you'll prefer Montego's 116-inch wheelbase for its extra riding comfort and Cougar handling excitement. Six of you can pile in without feeling like a crowd. And there's a trunk that's at least 20% bigger than our competitors'.

Mercury's got it! Come see the new Montego while your Mercury dealer's in a "catch-up" mood.

Tar and feathers. A grisly, old combo. Nobody gets that treatment these days. Today there's another grim twosome. Tar and nicotine.

Cigarette smoking is the modern punishment, self-imposed. The body takes a beating. What causes the strain on the system is not clear. Hot smoke itself? Tar and nicotine? Nobody knows for sure. But smoking plays havoc with the lungs, the heart, and the set-up for survival.

The Surgeon General says smokers should stop. Lots have tried. Some have succeeded. Quitting, for others, seems out of the question. And, unfortunately, many anti-smoking clinics attract the type of troubled smoker who is least likely to quit. A surprising number of smokers, a recent study shows, use cigarettes to avoid feeling down in the dumps. Many smoke to relax. Or to feel alert. Some smoke from compulsion. Breaking these patterns is not easy.

Why are certain people more dependent on cigarettes than others? Experts at the First World Conference on Smoking and Health, held last September, were undecided about the reasons why. Some of the factors are certainly psychological. But many Conference experts stated their suspision that nicotine may be a factor in inducing dependency.

Smoking and its contribution to chronic respiratory conditions is a major concern of your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. Using Christmas Seals supports its activities, including the anti-smoking campaign. "It's a Matter of Life and Breath," after all.

Taxpayers' Reminder:
Payment Deadline Friday

Taxpayers in the City School District of Kingston (Consolidated) are reminded that only a few days remain in which to pay the current 1967-68 school taxes at the office of the collector in the George Washington School building, 67 Wall Street.

Payments must be in the office of the collector by Friday, Dec. 15. Early mailing is suggested because of the volume of Christmas mail which may cause delay in delivery.

Payments received after Dec. 15 must be returned to the sender and will then be subject to a penalty of five per cent, plus interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month, until paid.

The Collector's office is open for payment of taxes from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. each day, Monday through Friday.

Taxes unpaid at the close of business on Dec. 15 will be certified to the City Treasurer for those parcels in the City of Kingston, and to the County Treasurer for those outside the city, as delinquent. This list will be submitted to these Treasurers on Jan. 5, and may then be paid at these offices subject to the interest and penalty outlined above. These taxes are not payable to anyone during the period from Dec. 16 through Jan. 4, 1968.

All-new Mercury Montego has 4 extra inches of riding comfort in every 2-door hardtop.

Three competitive car lines fall considerably short of Montego this year. As the chart shows, they give you 4 inches less wheelbase. Less rear passenger room. Less trunk space.

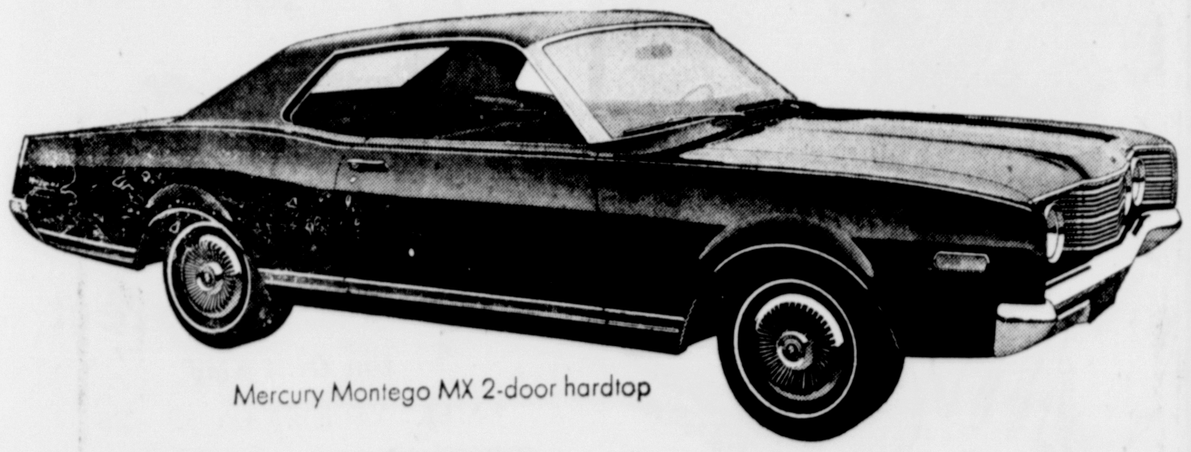

Montego doesn't think you want to be sold this short. Besides, we're solidly committed to the Fine Car Touch inspired by the Lincoln Continental. Which means giving you more.

We think you'll prefer Montego's 116-inch wheelbase for its extra riding comfort and Cougar handling excitement. Six of you can pile in without feeling like a crowd. And there's a trunk that's at least 20% bigger than our competitors'.

Mercury's got it! Come see the new Montego while your Mercury dealer's in a "catch-up" mood.

Shriver Pledges A Close Watch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver promises Congress he'll keep a close watch on the way cities carry out a controversial proposal to put community antipoverty programs under public control.

The director of the Office of Economic Opportunity sent the assurance to Congress as the House prepared to vote today on a two-year extension of the antipoverty program.

The bill, a compromise between earlier House and Senate versions, would authorize $1.98 billion for the current fiscal year and $2.18 billion next year. The House is expected to send it to the White House, ending a long, rought trip through Congress.

Although the bill makes many changes in administration and operation of the three-year-old program, most debate has centered around a House-adopted provision to permit states or local governments to designate tion agencies.

Nearly all the agencies which receive and allocate federal funds for various programs are private although public officials generally serve on their governing boards.

When the Senate passed the measure 62 to 16 Friday, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the House provision would turn the program over to politicians. Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said it would be emasculated.

But Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who fought unsuccessfully to eliminate the provision in a House-Senate conference, said there was "nothing disastrous about it" and predicted many cities would permit existing agencies to continue rather than take on the task themselves.

Clark noted also that any city wishing to have itself designated as an antipoverty agency would have to meet OEO criteria and carry out a program in an acceptable manner or it could be bypassed in favor of a private agency.

In a letter to Clark read during the debate, Shriver promised to report to Congress by next fall on the implementation of the provision in various cities.

If a conflict develops over the designation of an agency, he said, "I intend to seek a solution that is thoroughly nonpolitical and nonpartisan and which fully respects the role of the poor."

The program's two-year extension would be the longest it has received and the $4.16 billion its largest authorization. The authorization merely sets a ceiling, however. The actual money made available in a separate appropriations bill is expected to be substantially lower.

State Agency Says Medicaid Serves Poor

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Social Services Department said today a recent survey of medicaid recipients showed the program is serving those for whom it was designed — the truly needy.

This was the interpretation the department placed on a sampling of the 1.5 million persons who were registered for publicly financed medical care during August and September. The total since has risen to 2 million.

The department concentrated its study on medicaid recipients who were not also drawing welfare benefits, to determine the income pattern of those aided by the new program.

Medicaid critics have contended that the income eligibility level is too high, tending to bring into the program many people who might be able to pay for their own medical care.

On the contrary, the department said, its survey showed that those registered for medicaid lived in households with an average weekly gross income of $61. The average was about three persons per household.

Slightly more than half of the eligible recipients, the agency said, lived in one or two-person households with an average gross income of $35 a week. Most of the rest averaged five persons per household, with gross weekly income of less than $93.

The department said that less than a tenth had income deemed sufficient to pay for even a part of medicaid services and that only a quarter had any private health insurance protection.

During September, 300,000 persons not on the welfare rolls received medicaid benefits, while 232,000 welfare recipients also benefited from the medicaid program.

"These facts," said Deputy Commissioner George W. Chesbro, 'indicate that medicaid has been serving the citizens it was set up to serve — the destitute, the low - income groups and others with medical care costs they cannot meet."

Governor Invites DA To Conference

Joseph P. Torraca, Ulster County district attorney, has accepted an invitation from Rockefeller to attend a conference on crime to be held Friday, Oct. 15, at the New York Hilton Hotel, New York City.

Governor Rockefeller plans to open the conference with an address and to participate in discussions during the day. The panelists and those attending will be guests at a luncheon to be given by the Governor.

Richard J. Bartlett, chairman of the New York State Crime Control Council, will be one of the principal speakers at the conference.

Torraca as a law enforcement professional, will be invited to join in discussions on such topics as police organization, civil disorder, juvenile delinquency, organized crime and new scientific developments in law enforcement weaponry.

Police Seek Woman in Theft Of Pocketbooks

State Police today issued a warning to women Christmas shoppers to be on the alert for a young Negro woman who is sought for questioning in connection with the theft of three wallets taken from pocketbooks of women in area stores.

The much-sought woman was described by Trooper John McMickle of the Kingston substation, as between 20 and 25 years of age, weighing about 140 pounds, stocky build with shoulder length hair. Anyone who is confronted by this woman while shopping is asked to immediately notify security officers if available in the store or management or call the nearest police agency.

Trooper McMickle said Kathleen Mellert, of RD 2, West Hurley, was shopping in Waldbaum's store Friday night, when this woman previously described, stopped and talked with her about merchandise and shopping. After the woman left, the West Hurley resident discovered her wallet with about $36 missing from her pocketbook.

Later, Grace Virginia Proper, of Athens was confronted by a woman answering the same description. A similar conversation took place and later the Greene County woman noticed her wallet containing about $81 was missing.

Saturday night, Ruth A. Dutcher, of 150 Fair Street, Kingston, told authorities she was confronted by a woman answering the description of the one sought by police, and after a conversation, the city resident discovered her wallet containing about $50 was gone.

Sheriff Martin Going To N.Y. Crime Parley

Sheriff William B. Martin has accepted an invitation from Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to attend a conference on crime to be held Friday at New York City's Hilton Hotel.

Rockefeller intends to open the conference and participate in discussions during the day. The panelists and guests will attend a luncheon to be given by the Governor.

Sheriff Martin will participate in the various discussions. Topics to be covered include police organization, civil disorder, juvenile delinquency, organized crime and new scientific developments in law enforcement weaponry.

Man Shot At Party

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — A 30-year-old farm worker faced a court hearing today on an assault charge in the fatal shooting of another man at a party in nearby Elba.

Percell Patterson of Elba was arrested early Saturday on a charge of first-degree assault after William Armstrong, 27, of Batavia, was struck in the upper legs by deer slugs from a 12-guage shotgun.

A short time later, Genesee County sheriff's deputies said, Armstrong died in Genesee Memorial Hospital here from loss of blood. Patterson was arraigned before a peace justice and jailed in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Deputies said the two men argued during the party, at the home of a third person in Elba, and that Patterson snatched the weapon, which was nearby, and fired three times at Armstrong.

Patterson fled from the home but surrendered at State Police Troop A headquarters here about two hours later, they added.

Soviets Arrest 4 in Overthrow Try

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has brought four young intellectuals to trial on charges of being part of an armed terrorist network trying to undermine or overthrow the Communist state, informed sources said today.

An information blackout made independent confirmation of the report impossible, but the sources said the case was regarded as so serious that the Soviet Communist party's ruling Central Committee met secretly to discuss its implications.

With the arrest of the four in Leningrad, the scene of the trial, secret police discovered caches of arms that included machine guns and grenades, the sources said. A Soviet military officer is suspected of having supplied the weapons, one source said.

The Leningrad group was linked with similar secret groups in the region of the Soviet Ukraine and in the big industrial city of Sverdlovsk in the Ural Mountains, the sources said.

The report of the Leningrad trial came as the government prepared to open its case Monday against four young writers and editors in what was described as the biggest crackdown on dissent since the Sinyavsky-Daniel trial of 1966.

Sources said they will be charged with anti-Soviet propaganda.

The case is separate from the Leningrad trial.

Satirists Andrei D. Sinyavsky and Yuli M. Daniel were sentenced respectively to seven and five years in labor camps for smuggling abroad articles which a court branded as anti-Soviet.

Vanity Prevails

CENTRALIA, Wash. (AP) — Female vanity has had a small triumph over bureaucracy.

Everyone taking classes at Centralia Community College's adult evening school is asked to fill out a registration form, including blanks after "date of birth: day, month, year."

One woman filled in the blanks with one word "irrelevant."

Soviets Arrest 4 in Overthrow Try

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has brought four young intellectuals to trial on charges of being part of an armed terrorist network trying to undermine or overthrow the Communist state, informed sources said today.

An information blackout made independent confirmation of the report impossible, but the sources said the case was regarded as so serious that the Soviet Communist party's ruling Central Committee met secretly to discuss its implications.

With the arrest of the four in Leningrad, the scene of the trial, secret police discovered caches of arms that included machine guns and grenades, the sources said. A Soviet military officer is suspected of having supplied the weapons, one source said.

The Leningrad group was linked with similar secret groups in the region of the Soviet Ukraine and in the big industrial city of Sverdlovsk in the Ural Mountains, the sources said.

The report of the Leningrad trial came as the government prepared to open its case Monday against four young writers and editors in what was described as the biggest crackdown on dissent since the Sinyavsky-Daniel trial of 1966.

Sources said they will be charged with anti-Soviet propaganda.

The case is separate from the Leningrad trial.

Satirists Andrei D. Sinyavsky and Yuli M. Daniel were sentenced respectively to seven and five years in labor camps for smuggling abroad articles which a court branded as anti-Soviet.

Vanity Prevails

CENTRALIA, Wash. (AP) — Female vanity has had a small triumph over bureaucracy.

Everyone taking classes at Centralia Community College's adult evening school is asked to fill out a registration form, including blanks after "date of birth: day, month, year."

One woman filled in the blanks with one word "irrelevant."

Gov. Clinton Meeting

March of Dimes Kickoff for Wednesday

There will be a campaign kickoff meeting of the Ulster County Chapter, March of Dimes Wednesday, Dec. 13, at 7 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel, for officers and volunteer members of the Chapter. This meeting will celebrate the 30th year as a part of the National Foundation volunteer health organization which was founded by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938 to fight polio.

The theme of the meeting will be pre-natal care and birth defects. There are now 250,000 children born with birth defects every year and birth defects affect the daily lives of 15 million children and adults.

Doctors can now do a great deal to protect the health of pregnant women and their unborn children yet many do not take advantage of this pre-natal care. At any time there are more than 3 million pregnant women in the U. S. and an alarming number of them do not seek medical attention until actual delivery of their babies.

"We hope to encourage every pregnant woman to protect herself and her unborn child," a spokesman said. The National Foundation has launched a pre-natal care program. This program is corrdinated with local, state and federal agencies, the medical professions and groups.

The March of Dimes now supports nearly 100 birth defects research centers throughout the country. Each center has the combined skills of teams of medical experts to bear on the complex of birth defects problems.

These centers are made possible by public contributions and we of Ulster County have taken a great part in raising funds to help this cause. The Ulster County Chapter has also spent approximately $153,000 since 1952 to the present time for patient aid. Please volunteer to help us in the campaign when it starts in January 1968. There are no paid employes in the Ulster County Chapter, March of Dimes. All work is done by volunteers," a chapter spokesman

HRVC Spotlight to Focus on Columbia County

The Hudson River Valley Commission will focus on Columbia County in the first of a series of conferences on "The Next Decade" in the Hudson Valley.

Alexander Aldrich, executive director of the commission, and Hudson Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler will be co-chairmen of the conference which will be held at the First Reformed Church in Hudson on Jan. 10.

Aldrich said: "The legislation under which the Hudson River Commission functions is deeply responsive to the concepts of home rule responsibility. The legislation calls for consultation with and advice from all those living along the Hudson River in arriving at plans that will be mutually acceptable to each sec tion of the Valley as well as to the Valley as a region. It is in this framework that the Commission, guided and strongly assisted by a local steering committee, is holding a regional meeting in Columbia County on Jan. 10.

Members of the steering committee for the conference, in addition to Mayor Wheeler, include Henry Bender, William E. J. Connor, Raymond Kennedy, Mary Ann Knauss, Arthur Koweek, Gus Kramer, Louis A. Pierro, Craig Thorn III and J. Warren Van Deusen.

4 Elevated to Life Scouters In Ulster Troop 10 Ceremony

ADVANCEMENT CEREMONY — Four Boy Scouts of Troop 12 were advanced to Life Scout rank at this week's Family Night program held at Ulster Hose Company firehouse. Rceeiving the awards were (L-R) Victor Nyulassy, William Nyulassy, Robert Kirkpatrick and Paul Fowler.

Elevation of four boys to the rank of Life Scout nigh-lighted the recent Troop 10, Family Night at Ulster Hose Co. No. 5 Firehouse, Town of Ulster.

Scoutmaster Carlton L. Deyo served as master of ceremonies for the advancement program and officiated at a candlelight service that invested the following to Tenderfoot: Gavin Miller, Neal Redmond, Richard Volk, John Terwilliger, Peter Mercier, Brian Hill, Louis Casciaro, Scott Porter and David Fowler.

Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Fowler presented First Class Badges to Joseph Fassino, Theodore Pfeiffer, Bruce Kirkpatrick, Roger Scholl, Randy McClearn, Randall Geuss and John Hill.

Troop Officers Badges were awarded by Assistant Scoutmaster John Parmenter as follows: Senior Patrol Leader, Mark Ohlson; Troop Scribe, Kevin Krajick; Troop Quartermaster, Paul Fowler and William Quick; Troop Librarian, William More; Patrol Leader, Robert Kirkpatrick, William Myulassy, Thomas Higgins and Victor Myunlassy; Assistant Patrol Leader, Robert Winchell, Randall Geuss, Paul Terwilliger and Richard Quick.

A merit badge court was conducted at which the following received a total of 39 awards: Conservation of Natural Resource, Randy McClearn and Kevin Krajick; lifesaving, Kevin Krajick; Nature, Louis La Conture; Cooking, Steven Rafalowsky, Eric Berger, Louis La Conture, Barry Rose, Michael Philip and Randall Hobbs; Personal Fitness, Steven Rafalowsky and Robert Kirkpatrick; Hiking, William Myulassy, Victor Myulassy, Michael Philip, Ronald Van Kleeck and James Corrigan; Radio, Mark Ohlson; Swimming, Paul Fowler, James Corrigan and Ronald Van Kleeck. Home Repairs, Robert Kirkpatrick and Paul Fowler; Coin Collecting, Ran Fowler; Coin Collecting, Randall Robbs; Forestry, Kevin Krajick; Camping, Paul Fowler, William Nyulassy, Victor Nyulassy and Kevin Krajick; Citizenship in the Community, Thomas Higgins and Robert Kirkpatrick; Music, Steven Rafalowsky; Aviation and Bugling to Eric Berger.

Robert Bechmann, field executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council and a guest of the troop, bestowed the rank of Star Scout upon Thomas Higgins and Eric Berger.

He also presented the unit with an honor ribbon for their roundup effort in obtaining new members.

T-Bird First

Scoutmaster Deyo announced that the "T-Bird Patrol" had earned first place in a recent troop inter-patrol contest.

He then presented Kevin Krajick with the Gold Quill award for his interest in methods of communications.

Assistant Scoutmasters Fowler and Parmenter, conducted a service at which the rank of Life Scout was bestowed upon Victor Nyulassy, William Nyulassy, Robert Kirkpatrick and Paul Fowler.

Each advancing scout presented his mother with a pin.

A magic performance was presented by George Redmond, a scout father.

Scoutmaster Deyo was congratulated for his 15th anniversary as a scouter. He was given a leather brief case on behalf of the troop committee.

Movies were shown of troop activities taken over the past several months.

The evening activity was concluded with refreshments.

Will Study Latest Nuclear Explosion

By JAKE BOOHER JR.
Associated Press Writer

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP) — Scientists seek today to determine whether the first industrial nuclear explosion will render new wealth from the bowels of the earth.

A thermonuclear device was exploded 4,240 feet below the earth's crust Sunday. Preliminary indications were that the explosion, called Project Gasbuggy, had done its job by creating a huge subterranean chamber from which natural gas can be recovered, spokesmen said.

Dr. Robert H. Thalgott, Gasbuggy deputy project manager for the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen at a briefing after the blast that no radioactivity had escaped from the ground and none was expected to.

Dr. Harry Reynolds, a scientific advisor for Gasbuggy, said there was reason to believe that an underground chamber 160 feet in diameter and as tall as a 35-story building had been created 3,500 feet below ground zero.

To Begin Drilling

The AEC said drilling into the chamber begins today, although no substantial evidence on whether the nuclear stimulation concept really worked is expected for several weeks or months.

Scientists estimate the nation's natural gas reserves will be doubled if nuclear blasts are found to be a feasible way to free gas from underground rock formations.

The nuclear device, which had an explosive punch estimated as equivalent to 20,000 to 30,000 tons of TNT, was detonated in the Picture Cliffs formation of the gas-bearing San Juan Basin.

Windows rattled in Farmington, 55 miles to the west. Newsmen and others, at an observation sight five miles from the detonation point, felt the sharp shock wave which thundered under the northwest New Mexico hills.

Service Interrupted

Telephone service at the site was interrupted when equipment was shaken out of place. AEC spokesman said the ground at the observation site heaved one-third of an inch, while the shock was described as far more severe at Gasbuggy control complex 2½ miles from the detonation point.

"We were rising in the air," one scientists at the complex reported.

Joint sponsors who have been working four years on the $4.7 million Gasbuggy Project include the AEC, El Paso Natural Gas Co. and the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Robert Bechmann, field executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council and a guest of the troop, bestowed the rank of Star Scout upon Thomas Higgins and Eric Berger.

He also presented the unit with an honor ribbon for their roundup effort in obtaining new members.

T-Bird First

Scoutmaster Deyo announced that the "T-Bird Patrol" had earned first place in a recent troop inter-patrol contest.

He then presented Kevin Krajick with the Gold Quill award for his interest in methods of communications.

Assistant Scoutmasters Fowler and Parmenter, conducted a service at which the rank of Life Scout was bestowed upon Victor Nyulassy, William Nyulassy, Robert Kirkpatrick and Paul Fowler.

Each advancing scout presented his mother with a pin.

A magic performance was presented by George Redmond, a scout father.

Scoutmaster Deyo was congratulated for his 15th anniversary as a scouter. He was given a leather brief case on behalf of the troop committee.

Movies were shown of troop activities taken over the past several months.

The evening activity was concluded with refreshments.

Will Study Latest Nuclear Explosion

By JAKE BOOHER JR.
Associated Press Writer

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP) — Scientists seek today to determine whether the first industrial nuclear explosion will render new wealth from the bowels of the earth.

A thermonuclear device was exploded 4,240 feet below the earth's crust Sunday. Preliminary indications were that the explosion, called Project Gasbuggy, had done its job by creating a huge subterranean chamber from which natural gas can be recovered, spokesmen said.

Dr. Robert H. Thalgott, Gasbuggy deputy project manager for the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen at a briefing after the blast that no radioactivity had escaped from the ground and none was expected to.

Dr. Harry Reynolds, a scientific advisor for Gasbuggy, said there was reason to believe that an underground chamber 160 feet in diameter and as tall as a 35-story building had been created 3,500 feet below ground zero.

To Begin Drilling

The AEC said drilling into the chamber begins today, although no substantial evidence on whether the nuclear stimulation concept really worked is expected for several weeks or months.

Scientists estimate the nation's natural gas reserves will be doubled if nuclear blasts are found to be a feasible way to free gas from underground rock formations.

The nuclear device, which had an explosive punch estimated as equivalent to 20,000 to 30,000 tons of TNT, was detonated in the Picture Cliffs formation of the gas-bearing San Juan Basin.

Windows rattled in Farmington, 55 miles to the west. Newsmen and others, at an observation sight five miles from the detonation point, felt the sharp shock wave which thundered under the northwest New Mexico hills.

Service Interrupted

Telephone service at the site was interrupted when equipment was shaken out of place. AEC spokesman said the ground at the observation site heaved one-third of an inch, while the shock was described as far more severe at Gasbuggy control complex 2½ miles from the detonation point.

"We were rising in the air," one scientists at the complex reported.

Joint sponsors who have been working four years on the $4.7 million Gasbuggy Project include the AEC, El Paso Natural Gas Co. and the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Cancer Deaths Rise

Death rates from cancer of the lung continue to rise to record heights, while death rates from cancer of the uterus continue to decline, Ulster County's Unit of the American Cancer Society said today.

The unit stated that recent figures show lung cancer deaths will mount to an all time high with 55,000 deaths estimated for 1968 as compared with 52,000 in 1967.

However, a decline is indicated for the death rate from uterine cancer. The unit attributes this decrease with early diagnosis while in the curable stage.

According to the new figures, cancer of the colon continues to lead as cancer's leading killer. And cancer of the stomach continues to decrease.

Up to $1,000,000 will be made available by the American Cancer Society for support of research into cigarette smoking, the unit disclosed. The grant is part of an intensified effort into research of smoking.

Currently there are 1,400,000 Americans alive today who have been cured of cancer; about 200,000 will be saved during 1968. Approximately 915,000 Americans will be under medical care for cancer and 600,000 new cases of cancer will be discovered in 1968.

In 1968, an estimated 4,500 children under 15 years old will die of cancer, about half of them of leukemia. And roughly 1,000 more deaths from cancer of the breast are expected in 1968 than occurred in 1967. The new estimate is for 65,000 new cases and 28,000 deaths.

Aid for Oldsters Gains Momentum

The Senior Citizens Advisory Council held it's second meeting and started work on several projects aimed at serving the senior citizens of the area.

Alexander Yosman, coordinator of the Council announced that Russell Brott of the New York State Employment Service had joined the council as the result of a need for his services.

The special telephone number established by the council for senior citizen problems was termed a success in it's first week of operation. The telephone at 338-0933 is available from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Several projects were undertaken by members of the council. Brott is working on increased publicity for the Senior Citizen telephone number.

Anthony Uhl and John Sullivan of Gateway Industries will be coordinating a project designed to promote a "buddy system" for senior citizens. It is anticipated that cards will be printed for distribution to senior citizens to be placed in their windows every morning to assure neighbors that all is well. This system, used by the Kingston Housing Authority at Wiltwyck Gardens has proved very effective.

Mrs. Marian Ostrander and Mrs. Margaret Scherer of the Ulster County Health Department have volunteered to compile a list of "shut-ins" suffering from loneliness so that these senior citizens may be contacted by volunteers. The project will be completed with the assistance of area doctors and clergy.

One of the biggest problems facing the senior citizen today is transportation. Yosman of the Kingston Housing Authority and James Thompson of the Recreation Commission have undertaken a study of how this problem may be alleviated.

Attending the meeting were: Marian N. Ostrander, Ulster County Department of Health; Margie Scherer, Ulster County Department of Health; Anthony Uhl, Gateway Industries Inc.; John Sullivan, Gateway Industries Inc.; Russell Brott, N.Y.S. Employment Services; George Habernig, Social Security Administration; James Thompson, Kingston Recreation Commission; Alexander Yosman, Kingston Housing Authority; Bea Jaenisch, Kingston Housing Authority.

Fire Engine Aids Cop

WOONSOCKET, R.I. (AP) — A police officer got his man but he had to use a fire engine to do it.

Patrolman Everett Bishop said he was standing in a doorway when he saw a man ring a fire alarm and then hurry away. Bishop commandeered the first engine to answer the alarm, gave chase and jumped from the vehicle landing on the man, who later pleaded guilty in District Court to ringing a false alarm.

Hears Plaints On Vietnam

ROME (AP) — Nine touring U.S. congressmen were greeted over the weekend here with protests of the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

The congressmen, led by Rep. Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., went to the Italian Chamber of Deputies Saturday for what was expected to be a ceremonial visit. They had arrived Dec. 3 in Italy as guests of the Interparliamentary Union.

A Communist deputy of the Italian Parliament gave the group a petition signed by 24 colleagues asking "unconditional cessation" of bombardments in North Vietnam.

The deputy, Laura Diaz, said a halt to the bombings prior to any negotiations could be a courageous act of good will."

"The problems that stir Southeast Asia can be resolved in our opinion not with the illusion of military escalation but with the moral force of dialogue at all levels," he said.

Well, that's a problem close to home. But so are we.

So rent a new Ford from us.

'Tis the season to be jolly. And it's a lot jollier when the family has enough cars to go around. Here's the easy answer. Just drop around the corner and ask us for whatever size sleigh you need. Then . . . Ho! Ho! Ho! Dash away Mustang, and Fairlane, and Ford, and all!

P.S. You'll find the rates won't upset even a holiday budget (insurance is included).

'Y' Board Adds Three Members; Rev. Schadewald, Smedes, Baltz

Ralph Stewart, president of the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County, announced today the appointment of three new members to the Board of Directors. They are the Rev. Harold Schadewald, Stuart Smedes and Chester Baltz, Jr.

Rev. Schadewald has been pastor of the Hurley Reformed Church for better than nine years, having served previously in Fairlawn, N. J., and Bayone, N. J., where he was the "Y" board of directors for eight years.

He is a native of West New York, N. J., and attended Rutgers University, receiving his degree from Bloomfield College. He received his pastorate training at New Brunswick Theological Seminary, and resides with his wife, Elsie in Hurley. They have three grown children.

Smedes is a Kingston native and attended Kingston schools. He has had his own plumbing, heating and air-conditioning business since 1955, before which he served in the U. S. Navy during the Korean conflict. He is a past master of No. 343 Masonic Lodge, and resides with his wife Shirley and four children at 17 New Street.

Baltz is also a native of Kingston, his family having been in the clothing manufacturing business in the city for many years. He has long been associated with the YMCA, having been an officer on previous boards. He is a member of Kiwanis and is chairman of the finance committee of the YMCA Building Fund. He and his wife, Evelyn, live on Madison Avenue with their family. He is also president of the Kingston Library Association.

Very Fortunate

"We are extremely fortunate," Stewart said", in getting people of this calibre to contribute their time to the YMCA. We are one of the thirteen member agencies of the Ulster County Community Chest, and only through the willingness of volunteer participants can our agency continue to make the contribution our County so deeply needs."

Hospital Appoints Ferguson

The appointment of M. Ray Ferguson of Lancaster, Pa., as administrator of The Kingston Hospital was announced today by Edward C. Byman, president of the hospital's Board of Trustees.

Mr. Ferguson is currently serving as assistant administrator of the 502-bed Lancaster, (Pa.) General Hospital. He will assume his duties here January 15, 1968, succeeding Robert M. Schnitzer, who resigned in October to accept an appointment as associate director of hospital affairs for the New York State Department of Health.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, Mr. Ferguson completed the basic course in Medical Administration at the Air University, Gunter Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala., and received his M.A. degree in Hospital Administration at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. He was elected to membership in the American College of Hospital Administrators in 1963.

Prior to becoming assistant director at the Lancaster General Hospital in 1964, Mr. Ferguson served as assistant administrator of Reid Memorial Hospital, Richmond, Indiana, 1960-64; and administrative assistant at the E. W. Sparrow Hospital, Lansing, Mich., 1959-60, where he had completed his residency in hospital administration. He was personnel officer at the 320th U. S. Air Force Hospital at Elgin Air Force Base, Florida, 1955-57. He is married and has two children.

Woman Slain In Wanton Shooting

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP) — Two youths passing in an automobile fired at a house with a rifle and killed an elderly woman while she was lying in bed, police said.

Charged with manslaughter in the shooting were Robert House, 18, of Lockport, and Kenneth Cousins, 18, of the Buffalo suburb of Amherst.

They appeared Sunday before Judge Lawrence Finley in Police Court and were held at the Madison County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bail each.

The victim was Mrs. Millicent Williams, 71, of Oneida. She was struck Saturday morning by a bullet that came through a window and grazed her husband, John, while the couple was in bed, police said.

Six rifle shots were fired at houses along West Road, where the Williams live, police said.

The two defendants were arrested at Lockport after another youth told police of the shooting, authorities said.

They were accompanied in the car by two other youths, 18 and 15 years old, from Canastota, police said. The older youth was held as a material witness and the other was turned over to Family Court authorities.

Educators Meet

Discuss 'Middle School'

Henry Hopper, District Superintendent, announced that educators from Ulster County met recently and related to the theme of "The Middle School."

In the early part of the afternoon, a newly formed group, vitally interested in the middle school, held a council meeting.

At this session, consultants to the BOCES inservice workshop, Joseph Savino, principal, and Mrs. Elaine Flynn, helping teacher, both with the Minisink Valley Middle School in Slate Hill, met with the council and later with workshop participants.

At the council meeting, visitation plans for Middle School principals, and a report about a "tele-lecture series for middle schools" was presented by Leon Greenberg of the BOCES staff. Following this, the consultants gave a preview of the middle school workshop which was to be given later in the day. After a lively discussion period, ideas for future middle school council meetings, and inservice education were expressed by the group.

At the late afternoon session, more than thirty participants from the Central Schools of New Paltz, Onteora, Rondout Valley, Wallkill, and Kingston took art in the BOCES Inservice Program.

During the meeting, the consultant discussed, analyzed, and answered questions related to the importance of teacher attitudes toward a middle school; what differences exist in the training and orientation of the junior high school and elementary teachers involved in this plan; and the steps involved in successfully launching a middle school.

Savino and Flynn distributed an array of materials which included a selected bibliography on the middle school, schedule plans for classes, and copies of Savino's own publication, "The nature and objectives of the Minisink Valley Middle School."

Hopper said he was pleased with the interest and enthusiasm displayed by these Ulster County educators toward this new school pattern that is currently coming into focus for educational purposes. He related the concept that this pattern recognizes the ralatively high level of social maturity in many pupils below the seventh grade level as well as the need for a high school based on state program requirements. Hopper went on to say that these types of exploratory meetings are included among the many instructional improvement services offered to the Central Schools of Ulster County by the BOCES program of Curriculum Development.

High Falls

Brownie Troop 57, under the leadership of Mrs. James Feth, held its investiture ceremonies at the High Falls fire hall recently.

This was the big night for 13 girls who officially became Brownie Girl Scouts. After repeating the Brownie promise, they were awarded their pins by assistant leader Mrs. Huyler VanWagenen Jr.

Girls honored were Susan Albano, Susan Bowden, Susan Feth, Susan LaFera, Susan Rappolt, Patti Ann Gross, Carol Royce, Laura Slifer, Robin Van Demark, Linda vanLaer, Roxanne VanWagenen, Wanda Visconti and Liza MacArdle.

Second year pins were awarded to Carolyn Burr and Barbara Coddington.

All girls sang a Brownie song for their parents.

Refreshments were served by Brownie helpers Julie Gross, Lee Gros, and Nancy Royce. Featured in the refreshments was a decorated cake spelling out, "Welcome to Brownieland," a gift from new Brownie Wanda Visconti.

Retired Man Works On Cyprus Problems

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Soon after the New Year, Everett H. Huntoon, a 66-year-old resident of Sun City, Ariz., interrupts the retirement he worked decades for in order to handle the problems of some strangers in far-off Cyprus.

As payment for uprooting himself from the serenity of retirement, Huntoon and his wife will receive a daily living allowance, exposure to a foreign culture and the satisfaction of helping others. Nothing more.

Huntoon, who spent 27 years with Montgomery Ward and on retirement was manager of merchandising and purchasing in New York, will lend his knowledge and advice to a Cypriot drygoods wholesaler and retailer.

The job, to last about three months, will cost the wholesaler about $1,000 a month, but Huntoon will get none of it. Instead it will go to the International Executive Service Corps, which made the arrangements.

The corps, which most people know as the Executive Peace Corps or by the even more familiar term of Paunch Corps, already has completed 361 foreign assistance projects in less than three years and is expanding steadily.

In addition, 90 projects are under way, 69 are about to begin and many more are now being arranged in communications between Madison Avenue headquarters and private enterprises in 40 foreign nations.

All this has been accomplished on an annual budget of about $2 million, 40 per cent of which is donated by American corporations or received in service fees, and 60 per cent of which comes from the U.S. government.

"We feel we run a tight ship," said a spokesman for the corps, which is staffed by highly experienced personnel, headed by President Frank Pace Jr., former secretary of the Army and former chairman of General Dynamics.

Maintain Skills Bank

A skills bank of 3,500 names is now maintained and added to as the result of personal applications, recommendations and more recently from recruiting drives among corporations.

From this bank the corps attempts to fill requests such as these.

—A records production manager to spend three or four months assisting a recording and tape manufacturer in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

—A production executive with experience in the manufacture of sewing machine needles to spend three months in Taipei, Taiwan.

—A glass technologist to help an Istanbul, Turkey firm go into the manufacture of windshields.

When the requests come in—and that is the only way in which the corps agrees to get involved—the following questions are asked:

—Is the requesting firm willing to pay a fee for assistance, a fee which amounts to only a small percentage of what would be charged by a private consultant, were he available?

—Is the client firm sound enough to profit from the help and advice?

—Will the firm's success be of probable benefit not only to itself but to the free enterprise system of its country?

Most of the requests came originally from Latin America. While interest there remains high, based on the number of requests through November, expansion in the Middle and Far East has been strong, and requests from African companies now are coming in.

Terminal to Stay

Mrs. James Elder, owner of the Crown Street Bus Terminal, told The Freeman that reports of the terminal moving to Kingston Plaza were untrue. Mrs. Elder said the terminal will stay right where it is.

Financial and Commercial

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a narrow gain in active trading early Monday.

Advances of individual stocks outnumbered declines by about 150.

Brokers said they felt that investors were encouraged by favorable business news over the weekend. This included reports that manufacturers expect their sales to increase 3.5 per cent this quarter and another 3 per cent in the first three months of 1968, and that business men plan to be cautious in building up inventori.es

Gulf & Western Industries, EG&G, Howard Johnson and High Voltage Engineering advanced a point or so.

Steels eased with Bethlehem and Jones & Laubhlin taking fractional losses.

Homestake Mining moved up more than 2 points.

Opening blocks included Benguet, up ⅛ at 8 on 24,000 shares, and Gillette, up at 60 on 11,500 shares.

Friday, The Associated Press 60-stock average declined .7 to 317.2.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Unexcelled gained more than a point.

Main Stock Difference Is in Rate of Growth

Q—My husband took my son's Bar Mitzvah money last year and invested it in General Motors. This year he felt the auto industry wasn't a good investment and he switched to American Home Products. Do you feel that American Home is a good growth stock to help pay for my sons' education? I am wondering if he did the right thing or would the money be better off in RCA or American Telephone?—H.B.

A—Your son's money, I am glad to say, is in an excellent stock for growth over the years ahead. The company is essentially a merchandiser of consumer goods—drugs, cosmetics, foods and household products—and a very good one. Earnings and dividends have increased in every year for more than a decade and I estimate that growth will continue in the future at the rate of 10%, at least. RCA is an excellent stock, strong in all phases of electronics; Telephone is good but a moderate gainer. I see no advantage in switching American Home, since it has made good price progress over the years. The main difference in stocks is in the rate of growth. At present I believe you're on the right course for your objective, and the best of luck to you.

Q—I own 200 shares of Webb & Knapp common stock. Could you tell me the value of these shares (if any)?—J.J.

A—I regret very much to tell you that, according to my records, Webb & Knapp is in bankruptcy and the shares have been delisted from the American Stock Exchange. My broker informs me that there is a bid of 5 cents for the shares over-the-counter. At that level I think you have little to gain by selling.

3 telltale signs that your husband needs the extra support of a Munsingwear® SlimU®

1. If he comes home looking strained and tired after a day on his feet—or a round of golf. A SlimU Brief will support his sagging stomach muscles, comfort his back without binding or squeezing (machine washable, quick-drying).

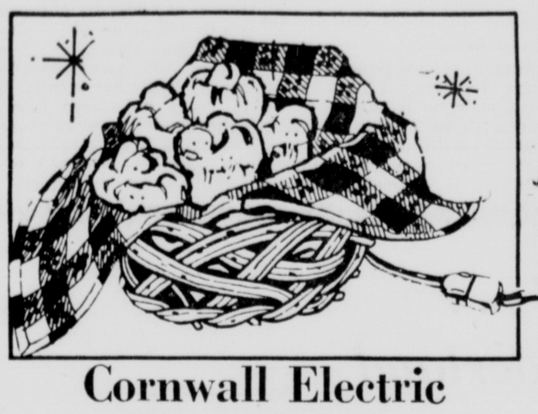

2. If there is less than 8 inches difference between his chest measurement and his waist. Flatten his bay window before it starts! SlimU does just that—whittles the waistline, makes a man look slimmer, feel younger. Might even put a new gleam in his eye!

3. If he grabs his back when he gets up from a chair. Some men find it more tiring to sit than to stand. Meetings are the worst. If he's that type, a SlimU will do wonders.

Retired Man Works On Cyprus Problems

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Soon after the New Year, Everett H. Huntoon, a 66-year-old resident of Sun City, Ariz., interrupts the retirement he worked decades for in order to handle the problems of some strangers in far-off Cyprus.

As payment for uprooting himself from the serenity of retirement, Huntoon and his wife will receive a daily living allowance, exposure to a foreign culture and the satisfaction of helping others. Nothing more.

Huntoon, who spent 27 years with Montgomery Ward and on retirement was manager of merchandising and purchasing in New York, will lend his knowledge and advice to a Cypriot drygoods wholesaler and retailer.

The job, to last about three months, will cost the wholesaler about $1,000 a month, but Huntoon will get none of it. Instead it will go to the International Executive Service Corps, which made the arrangements.

The corps, which most people know as the Executive Peace Corps or by the even more familiar term of Paunch Corps, already has completed 361 foreign assistance projects in less than three years and is expanding steadily.

In addition, 90 projects are under way, 69 are about to begin and many more are now being arranged in communications between Madison Avenue headquarters and private enterprises in 40 foreign nations.

All this has been accomplished on an annual budget of about $2 million, 40 per cent of which is donated by American corporations or received in service fees, and 60 per cent of which comes from the U.S. government.

"We feel we run a tight ship," said a spokesman for the corps, which is staffed by highly experienced personnel, headed by President Frank Pace Jr., former secretary of the Army and former chairman of General Dynamics.

Maintain Skills Bank

A skills bank of 3,500 names is now maintained and added to as the result of personal applications, recommendations and more recently from recruiting drives among corporations.

From this bank the corps attempts to fill requests such as these.

—A records production manager to spend three or four months assisting a recording and tape manufacturer in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

—A production executive with experience in the manufacture of sewing machine needles to spend three months in Taipei, Taiwan.

—A glass technologist to help an Istanbul, Turkey firm go into the manufacture of windshields.

When the requests come in—and that is the only way in which the corps agrees to get involved—the following questions are asked:

—Is the requesting firm willing to pay a fee for assistance, a fee which amounts to only a small percentage of what would be charged by a private consultant, were he available?

—Is the client firm sound enough to profit from the help and advice?

—Will the firm's success be of probable benefit not only to itself but to the free enterprise system of its country?

Most of the requests came originally from Latin America. While interest there remains high, based on the number of requests through November, expansion in the Middle and Far East has been strong, and requests from African companies now are coming in.

Mrs. James Elder, owner of the Crown Street Bus Terminal, told The Freeman that reports of the terminal moving to Kingston Plaza were untrue. Mrs. Elder said the terminal will stay right where it is.

Financial and Commercial

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a narrow gain in active trading early Monday.

Advances of individual stocks outnumbered declines by about 150.

Brokers said they felt that investors were encouraged by favorable business news over the weekend. This included reports that manufacturers expect their sales to increase 3.5 per cent this quarter and another 3 per cent in the first three months of 1968, and that business men plan to be cautious in building up inventori.es

Gulf & Western Industries, EG&G, Howard Johnson and High Voltage Engineering advanced a point or so.

Steels eased with Bethlehem and Jones & Laubhlin taking fractional losses.

Homestake Mining moved up more than 2 points.

Opening blocks included Benguet, up ⅛ at 8 on 24,000 shares, and Gillette, up at 60 on 11,500 shares.

Friday, The Associated Press 60-stock average declined .7 to 317.2.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Unexcelled gained more than a point.

Scout Report Lists Overall News Roundup

"One of the chief reasons boys become Scouts is to enjoy the experiences of camping and in learning to live in the great out-of-doors," Henry P. Eighmey, Chairman of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America reported today.

"The Rip Van Winkle Council has a responsibility to provide adequate supervision and facilities so that boys can take part in an effective and enjoyable year-round camping program," Eighmey said.

"A sizable portion of the funds which are being raised in the current Boy Scout campaign throughout Greene County and in the nine non-Chest towns in Ulster County will be utilized in defraying camp related expenses," Mr. Eighmey stated. Included among these items are camp maintenance, repairs, insurance, promotion, central staff salaries and part-time ranger service.

It was emphasized that the Tri-Mount Scout Reservation is operated on a year-round basis for camping, special events and training purposes.

A new high in summer camp attendance of 958 boys was established in 1967 according to Mr. Eighmey. This included nearly 80 Scouts who attended the first week-long Junior Leader Training Camp ever held in the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Each year sees a number of improvements being made in Camp Tri-Mount buildings and facilities.

"We consider the camping program to be one of the most important functions of our Scout Council," chairman Eighmey stated.

Stand Stress Better

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — American fighting men in Vietnam are more resilient emotionally and mentally than soldiers of earlier generations, an Army psychiatrist says.

Lt. Col. Edwin T. Cooke, a psychiatrist at Brooke Army Medical Center, said only three per cent of the medical evacuees from Vietnam are psychiatric casualties. The figure for World War II was 23 per cent and 11 per cent for the Korea War, he said.

The American soldier today, said Cooke, "is better able to withstand the stress" than earlier generations.

A giant calla lily grows more than eight feet high.

SANTA GETS HIGH—"Santa Claus" begins the climb on a scaffold to place an ornament atop the National Christmas Tree which is being decorated on the Ellipse. In background is the White House. The tree will be lighted on Friday during the 1967 Christmas Pageant of Peace Opening Ceremonies. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Rocky Lauded by Holcomb For Christmas Seal Help

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., 1967 honorary chairman of the Ulster County Christmas Seal Campaign warmly commended official action taken by Governor Rockefeller in recognition of the 61st Annual Christmas Seal TB-RD Campaign.

"Health must be a major concern of government officials, for without it, the entire structure of society must fall," Dr. Holcomb noted. "Tuberculosis still does great harm ranking even vet as the 6th leading cause of disability," he continued. "The other Respiratory Diseases with which we struggle are far out of control. Scout Report Lists Overall News Roundup

"One of the chief reasons boys become Scouts is to enjoy the experiences of camping and in learning to live in the great out-of-doors," Henry P. Eighmey, Chairman of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America reported today.

"The Rip Van Winkle Council has a responsibility to provide adequate supervision and facilities so that boys can take part in an effective and enjoyable year-round camping program," Eighmey said.

"A sizable portion of the funds which are being raised in the current Boy Scout campaign throughout Greene County and in the nine non-Chest towns in Ulster County will be utilized in defraying camp related expenses," Mr. Eighmey stated. Included among these items are camp maintenance, repairs, insurance, promotion, central staff salaries and part-time ranger service.

It was emphasized that the Tri-Mount Scout Reservation is operated on a year-round basis for camping, special events and training purposes.

A new high in summer camp attendance of 958 boys was established in 1967 according to Mr. Eighmey. This included nearly 80 Scouts who attended the first week-long Junior Leader Training Camp ever held in the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Each year sees a number of improvements being made in Camp Tri-Mount buildings and facilities.

"We consider the camping program to be one of the most important functions of our Scout Council," chairman Eighmey stated.

Stand Stress Better

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — American fighting men in Vietnam are more resilient emotionally and mentally than soldiers of earlier generations, an Army psychiatrist says.

Lt. Col. Edwin T. Cooke, a psychiatrist at Brooke Army Medical Center, said only three per cent of the medical evacuees from Vietnam are psychiatric casualties. The figure for World War II was 23 per cent and 11 per cent for the Korea War, he said.

The American soldier today, said Cooke, "is better able to withstand the stress" than earlier generations.

Rocky Lauded by Holcomb For Christmas Seal Help

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., 1967 honorary chairman of the Ulster County Christmas Seal Campaign warmly commended official action taken by Governor Rockefeller in recognition of the 61st Annual Christmas Seal TB-RD Campaign.

"Health must be a major concern of government officials, for without it, the entire structure of society must fall," Dr. Holcomb noted. "Tuberculosis still does great harm ranking even yet as the 6th leading cause of disability," he continued. "The other Respiratory Diseases with which we struggle are far out of control. Emphysema alone is our second leading disabler, and along with chronic bronchitis, asthma, and the other respiratory diseases, takes heavy toll in suffering, disablity and death. The proclamation by Gov. Rockefeller, officially establishing December as 'Christmas Seal Month' is important to every aware, circumspect citizen."

Governor Rockefeller's Christmas Seal proclamation issued initially at Albany read:

"Tuberculosis continues to strike down new victims in New York State each year. In 1966, there were 5,296 new active cases of TB reported in the State. However, the people of the State can now look forward to the day when tuberculosis will be eliminated as a public health threat.

Eradication of this once-dread killer is within our grasp because of the determined efforts of the State and local health departments. In the fight to make New York State safe from TB, our health departments have had forceful and energetic partners in the citizenry, banded together in voluntary tuberculosis and respiratory diseases associations. Their program of public and professional education, service to the community and patients, and support for needed medical research has greatly strengthened governmental efforts.

In addition to fighting tuberculosis, the TB Association in New York State have accepted the challenge of other diseases that loom as a menace to the public health. Chronic bronchitis, asthma, and especially emphysema are increasing at an alarming rate in our State. TB Associations also are devoting program time to the problem of air pollution which aggravates respiratory conditions.

The tuberculosis and respiratory disease associations finance their work through the annual Christmas Seal Campaign, which for sixty-one years has given everyone an opportunity to be a partner in the fight against tuberculosis.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Governor of the State of New York, do hereby proclaim the month of December, 1967 as Christmas Seal Month in New York State.

Dr. Holcomb pointed out that the Ulster County Christmas Seal Campaign now underway, continues through Dec. 31, and urged all Ulster County people to support the county's Christmas Seal program with their vital contribution now.

Florida Tornado Kills 2

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Roaring tornadoes shattered Sunday morning quiet in 10 Florida panhandle cities, leveling hundreds of homes and buildings and killing two persons, injured in Florida, most in a housing area at nearby Tyndall Air Force Base and at Fort Walton Beach 60 miles west of Panama City. Several were in critical condition. A watchman at a wrecked shopping center was reported missing.

One twister hit an Alabama border county.

More than 200 were reported

A DROPOUT—Buxom Pamme Brower, who dropped out of the University of Florida after the school slapped her with a disciplinary probation for posing nude for an off-campus magazine, poses in her "Subterranean Circus," local psychedelic shop. Pamme faces a court hearing on charge of selling obscene literature from the shop. She was jailed briefly, but posted her own $300 bond. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Officials estimated damages at more than $7 million. Gov. Claude Kirk asked federal help for what he termed a disaster area.

Helmeted National Guardsmen toting rifles patroled the cities and highways to prevent looting, turned back sightseers and helped in the massive cleanup.

Kirk toured the Bayou Wood section of Fort Walton Beach Sunday hours after a twister spun off from a violent thunderstorm had smashed 50 homes at 3 a.m.

As the storm bounced over a lake and tore a five-mile long swath it left 220 homes wrecked.

Five hours later another funnel ripped into a row of duplex homes at the housing area for Air Force families, flattening 30 of them and damaging 24 others, leaving one dead, nine seriously hurt and about 400 persons homeless. That tornado touched down five more times before fizzling out.

Damage was estimated in the Fort Walton Beach area at more than $5 million by Okaloosa County Sheriff Ray Wilson and at $1.5 million to housing at Tyndall by public information officer Hank Harsham.

Water, gas, electricity and telephone service was cut off in the northwest section of Fort Walton Beach.

Tornadoes also hit at small towns between Panama City and Pensacola 150 miles west.

One twister smashed into the Alabama coasttine, damaging homes at Miflin and raking a boatyard in Bon Secour, Ala., where the uninsured loss was estimated at $20,000.

Three-year-old Joan Coker, one of six children dug out of the wreckage of their Fort Walton Beach home, died at Eglin Air Force Base Hospital Sunday where her mother gave birth to her seventh child during the storm, hospital officials said.

The parents were identified only as M. Sgt. and Mrs. H. Coker. Officials said the Cokers' two-story home was leveled by the twister.

Loveta Byrd, 29, the wife of M. Sgt. Jerry J. Byrd, died of a crushed skull and her husband was critically injured when their two-family house splintered before the tornado at Tyndall.

A six-month-old baby adopted by the Byrds two weeks earlier was asleep in the same bedroom but was unhurt.

Albany Deer Goes Places

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A four - point buck deer made his way safely through city streets Sunday before running afoul of police.

Two policemen bulldogged and tied the animal after chasing him for several blocks. He was turned over to Conservation authorities.

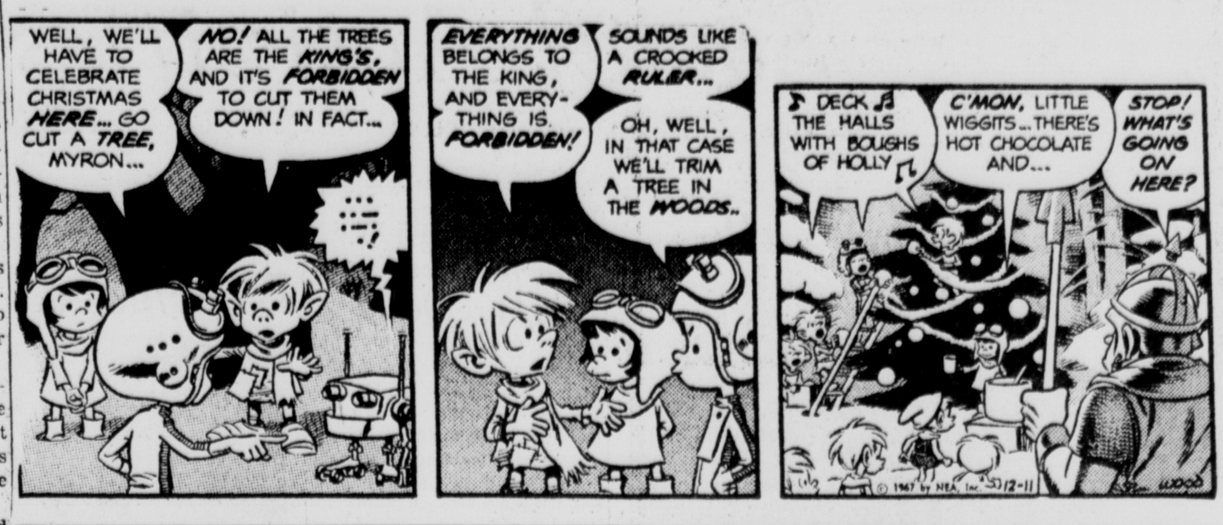

Police said he was seen in several places in the Albany - Troy - Schenectady area, which has a population of more than 250,000.

Rusk Seeks to Calm German-Italian Fears

BRUSSELS (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today took on the task of overcoming West German and Italian opposition to the proposed treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

Rusk arrived Sunday night for the semiannual meeting of the North Atlantic Council, the policy body of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The NATO chiefs of staff were meeting, today, and Rusk planned a round of talks with West European leaders.

The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed on a nuclear treaty except for the section on how to inspect peaceful nuclear industry to see that no uranium or plutonium is diverted to make weapons.

West Germany says inspection by the International Atomc Energy Agency (IAEA), which the Soviet Union insists on, would destroy the authority of a body laboriously built up by West European allies, the European Atomic Energy Community, bettern known as EURATOM, a branch of the Common Market.

The Italians agree. They are worried that nuclear industry will prefer to go to France, where there is no likelihood of IAEA inspection.

On the Communist side objections have been heard from Romania—the maverick in the Eastern bloc.

American diplomats have come up with several proposals for "marrying" IAEA inspection to the system that Euratom has developed. At least one of these compromises may satisfy Moscow, but Bonn has not bought any yet.

To put pressure on the objectors, President Johnson announced last week that the United States would throw open all its own peaceful nuclear installations to IAEA inspection. Britain said it would follow suit. But from Moscow there was only silence.

If the United States supports West German objections, the Soviets will say it wants to make West Germany a military nuclear power. If the United States overrides West German objections, it will arouse the resentment of its own allies, who will accuse it of making agreements with Moscow over their heads.

Jackie Steals Limelight At Dem Fund Raising Event

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, in her first political appearance since the 1963 assassination of her husband, took most of the spotlight Sunday night at a New York State Democratic dinner.

One of her rivals for attention was Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., who is campaigning in opposition to President Johnson for the 1968 presidential nomination.

McCarthy was one of a score of senators and six governors to welcome Mrs. Kennedy to the $500-a-plate fund-raising dinner at the Plaza Hotel.

After the roast beef dinner, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., took note of the presence, along with himself, of his sister-in-law; his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and his brother-in-law, Stephen Smith, husband of Jean Kennedy, by telling the 500 guests:

"Welcome to the Kennedy Christmas party."

The senator added: "And now may I introduce the evening's guest of honor, Mrs. John F. Kennedy."

Mrs. Kennedy clad in a black minidress trimmed with sequins at the neckline, pockets and cuff, stood up—and so did everyone else at dinner, to applaud the presidential widow.

There were no speeches at the affair, held to help the financially ailing Democratic state party, but there were introductions of some prominent guests and a word of thanks from Robert Kennedy.

The dinner proceeds were expected to put some $200,000 toward the state party's more than $300,000 debt.

After-dinner entertainment was provided by comedian Alan King and singer Tony Bennett.

Mishap Kills Dutchess Man

A 23-year-old Dutchess County man was killed early today when the car in which he was a passenger, overturned on South Avenue near the north-south arterial highway in Poughkeepsie.

Police Lieut. Edward Shanahan said the victim was Thomas P. Dumphy, 23, of 24 Bertha Drive, Beacon. He was pronounced dead at the scene. Police reported Dumphy was a hitchhiker and had been picked up by Joseph Laraia, 28, of 18 East Shelby Drive, Worcester, Mass., a short time prior to the mishap.

Laraia was taken to Vassar Hospital by Alamo ambulance.

According to investigators, Laraia was driving south on South Avenue when the vehicle left the pavement, ran up a guide wire on a pole for about 13 feet and then toppled over.

Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, chairman of the board of trustees of the National Geographic Society at the time of his death, combined a half-dozen careers in his active lifetime. He was a distinguished editor, geographer, trator.

Troy Fire Destroys Auto Agency

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Fire destroyed the three-story Knowles Pontiac Inc. building and more than 30 new and customer - owned automobiles early today.

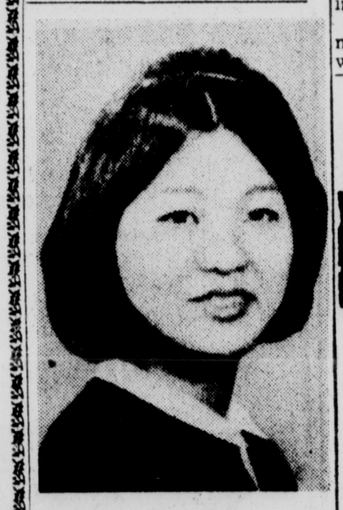

Twenty-seven residents of five nearby apartment buildings were evacuated from their homes while firemen battled to prevent the fire from spreading.

There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

An employe said approximately $50,000 in auto parts alone were destroyed. Firemen pushed three fire - damaged cars from the building.

The fire was discovered by a police patrol shortly before 2 a. m. It spread from a paint shop to other parts of the building and, briefly, to a nearby building, firemen said.

A supply area used by a neighboring lumber firm also was destroyed.

CHARGED — Karen Darlene Nomiya, a petite 21-year-old coed, was charged with the fatal stabbing of a Duluth furrier's wife and daughter on Thursday in their home near the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch. Miss Nomiya of Chicago was charged with killing Mrs. Eugene M. Cohn, 55, and her daughter, Suzanne, 21. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

(Reynolds photo)

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell H. Gray, 77 Holland Lane, West Hurley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Doreen Elizabeth, to Wilbert K. Finley, son of Aaron Finley of Fountain, Fla., and Mrs. Dorothy Finley of Flushing.

Miss Gray is a graduate of Saugerties High School and is employed as a secretary by Ferroxcube Corp., Saugerties.

Her fiance is a graduate of Roosevelt High School. He served in the U. S. Air Force for four years and is now employed by Ferroxcube Corp., as a programmer.

A Fall 1968 wedding is planned.

Mendelssohn Concert Tuesday

The Christmas Concert of the Mendelssohn Club is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. on Tuesday in the auditorium of Kingston High School. Edward L. Sprute, president, announced that the group's Christmas Concert has been developed to include and highlight the music of the holidays through male choral interpretation.

The Mendelssohn Club will present groups of choral selections under the leadership of club director Albert G. Hunter Jr. Guest participants in the evening of music will be the Poughkeepsie Community Mixed Chorus, also directed by Hunter. A special feature of the concert program will be the combined voices of the Kingston Mendelssohn Club and the Poughkeepsie Mixed Chorus in selections from Handel's Messiah with piano and organ. On December 6th at Poughkeepsie both groups joined with the Mid-Hudson Philharmonic in the presentation of this work. "We wish to bring to this Mendlessohn Christmas Concert some of the outstanding excerpts from that major performance as a unique and outstanding program feature," Sprute stated.

Brian Steeves will serve as the Club's assistant director at the Christmas Concert, and Mrs. William E. Rylance as Mendlesshon Club accompanist.

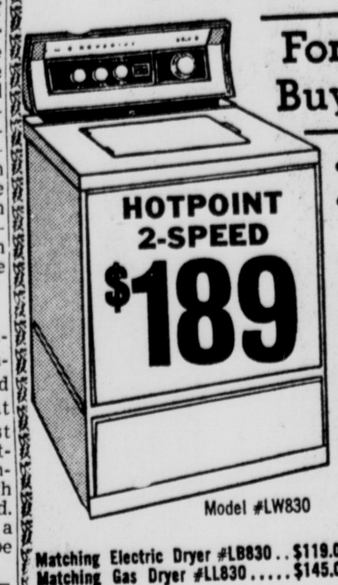

Complimentary tickets for the Christmas Concert may be procured from all Mendelssohn Club members and associate members, or by contacting Edward L. Sprute.

Vanderlyn Council

The regular meeting of Vanderlyn Council No. 41, Daughters of America, will be held Tuesday, Dec. 12, at 8 p.m. at American Legion Hall, 18 West O'Reilly Street. After the meeting all members having birthdays from July 1 through December 30, will be honored. Gifts will be exchanged and a covered dish supper will be served after the party.

MISS LYNN M. GALLO
(Lakeside Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore J. Gallo, 103 Southfield Street, Kingston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynn Mariea, to Sgt. Neil R. Bechtold, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. John Bechtold, 337 Foxhall Avenue, Kingston.

Miss Gallo and her fiance are both graduates of Kingston High School. She is employed as a secretary in the KHS Guidance Office. Sgt. Bechtold is serving in the U. S. Air Force, stationed at Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico.

A June wedding is planned.

Audubon Wildlife Film at OCCC

"The Wild Rivers of North America" will be the subject of the second program of the 1967-68 Audubon Wildlife Series at Orange County Community College on Wednesday, Dec. 13. Dr. John D. Bulger of Pulaski, N.Y. will lecture at the 7:45 p. m. program in OCCC's Orange Hall auditorium, Middletown.

Featured in Dr. Bulger's color film are the Allagash, St. Lawrence, Hudson and Buffalo rivers as well as streams in the Northwest Territories in Canada. Nutria, mink, fisher and pine marten, caribou, beluga, curlew and ptarmigan and scenes of Eskimos bringing in white whale are included in the film. Admission to the program is nominal.

Legion Auxiliary's 20th Anniversary Held Here Dec. 5

The Town of Esopus Unit No. 1298, American Legion Auxiliary, celebrated its 20th anniversary at a dinner at Sky Top Restaurant on Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Attending were seven charter members who were given gifts and 20-year pins in appreciation for their outstanding service to the organization. Receiving pins were Mrs. Pauline Barth, now serving a second term as president; Mrs. Mary Dempsey, first president and organizer of the Unit, who also served two terms as president; Mrs. Peggy Dunham; Mrs. Ida Henry; Mrs. Ethel Howard, who served as president for three terms; Mrs. Alice Jones and Mrs. Mary Ann Zoda.

After dinner Christmas gifts were exchanged and a songfest was held under the leadership of Ann Ryerson and Veronica Corcorcan. Mrs. Hilda Davis, past county chairman and member of Unit No. 1298 served as mistress of ceremonies.

Serving on the committee for arrangements were the Mmes. Hilda Davis, Grace Tsitsera and Florence Beichert.

Gospel Values Of Peanuts

Robert Short, author of "The Gospel According to Peanuts," the No. 1 non-fiction best seller of 1965, will speak at Mount Saint Mary College at 7 p. m., Monday, Dec. 11. Sponsored by the Religious Affairs Committee, the speech will be held in the Dining Hall of the Newburgh college and is open to the public.

Since the book's publication, Short has traveled extensively in this country and Europe lecturing on the religious values in "Peanuts" and in other forms of art. His book breaks records in its sale and has been translated into many foreign languages.

Short has numerous articles to his credit relating to theology and the arts, the field in which he has done work toward his PhD at the University of Chicago. He holds degrees from the University of Oklahoma; Southern Methodist; and North Texas State University, where he also taught in that school's Departments of English and Philosophy.

Lynda Bird Weds Her Marine

FATHER OF THE BRIDE—President Johnson beams down on daughter Lynda as they pose on the stairway in the White House Saturday, enroute to the East Room for the wedding ceremony. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

MARINE CAPT. CHARLES ROBB and his bride, the former Lynda Johnson, walk through an arch of drawn swords as they leave the East Room of the White House on Saturday following the wedding ceremony. The couple arrived Sunday in Cancel Bay, St. John, after a secret flight from Washington. It is reported they may go on to Hawaii but neither Lynda Bird Robb, President Johnson's older daughter, nor her Marine captain husband would reveal their honeymoon plans following their historic White House wedding. Cancel Bay is on the northeast tip of the nine-mile long island and the area has been developed for recreation by the Rockefellers, it is reported. Laurance S. Rockefeller establishd the Cancel Bay plantation to provide tourist accommodations near the swimming, fishing and sailing provided by the beaches. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

PRESIDENT JOHNSON digs into a slice of Lynda's wedding cake at a reception in the State Dining Room after her marriage to Capt. Charles Robb. Guests kept the wedding party going until 10 p. m. following the late afternoon wedding ceremony. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

As a supervisor with a telephone company, I would like to offer a little advice to your readers on phone calls.

When you answer your phone and someone asks, "Who is this?", my best advice is don't answer that question.

Come back with this reply: "With whom do you wish to speak" or "What number were you calling?" Usually if the person can't answer these two questions correctly, your answer should be:

"There is no one living here by that name or you have dialed the wrong number."

Never tell ANY unidentified person your name or phone number.

For those who have unlisted numbers:

Once in a while you will get a call from a stranger saying, "You have just won so and so if you can answer this question, or do you buy such and such..." Then is the time to always say, "How did you obtain my phone number?"

These people use a numerical sequence system and just dial a prefix and go down all of the numbers. If you want to listen to their sales talk — fine. If these calls annoy you — hang up.

Many of your readers blame us for giving out unlisted numbers, but this is not the telephone company's doing.

You do not have to talk to these persons who call. Just remember that is your privilege.

We DO protect our subscribers.

Dear Heloise, I beg of you to pass along this advice. You'd be surprised how many problems it might save on unwanted phone calls . . .

If people get repeated annoying calls, or calls that are obscene, they should call their local telephone supervisors.

Telephone Eexcutive

* * *

Thank you, Sir, with all of my heart. You have taught us a mighty good lesson.

And children who answer the phone should be taught never to answer the question, "Is your mother there?" if she isn't. The correct answer is, "May I take your number and I will have her call you back . . . she can't come to the phone right now." Mothers, please EXPLAIN this to your children. Even teenagers should know.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Evidently you've never been to a party where you bring your own liquor! A person doesn't drink only from the bottle he brought, and by the end of the party no one could possibly know what portion of what bottle could be called his own. Therefore, how are the host and hostess supposed to return the proper bottle and know just how much is supposed to be in it? — Mrs. A. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Apparently "BYOB" parties vary in different areas. Around my hometown the hostess does not expect to keep the left-over liquor, and she often suggests that guests put their names on the bottles and take home whatever is left.

If the liquor is pooled, as your letter suggests, there would be confusion about what bottle belonged to whom. Therefore, unless the hostess insists that everyone take some bottle home, the remains might be left for her.

* * *

Playing Favorites Not Good Etiquette

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know why it is considered wrong to refuse an invitation from one boy, then accept the same invitation from a boy you like better.—Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Why? Because it says loud and clear to the first boy "I like Boy B better than you." When word gets around, other boys will hesitate to ask you out for fear of being turned down for a better invitation. The first rule of etiquette is consideration for others, and hurting Boy A's feelings doesn't show one bit of that characteristic.

* * *

Wife's Applause Shows Pride In Husband

Dear Mrs. Post: Frequently I accompany my husband when he is a banquet speaker. I never know whether I should clap with the audience. Please tell me what is proper—Alice M.

Dear Mrs. M.: By all means, clap. There is nothing wrong with a wife showing pride and pleasure in her husband's achievements. Sitting dead-pan would demonstrate nothing but boredom or disinterest, and you wouldn't want other guests to think that was how you felt!

Helpful Hints

Don't discard your torn, plastic laundry basket.

Cut the solid bottom off and use it to put under the garbage can in your kitchen.

Use it at the outside door to hold dripping umbrellas and boots.

It can be used as a "pick-up sled" for children. Attach a long string to one side of it. It can be dragged on the floor to pick up toys, blocks and all small playthings. Children love to pick up things this way.

Make your personalized bar of shower soap by putting a soap bar in the toe of an old nylon stocking and tying a knot above the soap. No more dropped soap, and the nylon gives an extra scrubbing.

Rub talcum powder into a fresh oil or grease spot and let it sit for awhile. Then remove powder with a stiff brush and launder as usual.

Dear Heloise, I beg of you to pass along this advice. You'd be surprised how many problems it might save on unwanted phone calls . . .

If people get repeated annoying calls, or calls that are obscene, they should call their local telephone supervisors.

Telephone Eexcutive

Thank you, Sir, with all of my heart. You have taught us a mighty good lesson.

And children who answer the phone should be taught never to answer the question, "Is your mother there?" if she isn't. The correct answer is, "May I take your number and I will have her call you back . . . she can't come to the phone right now." Mothers, please EXPLAIN this to your children. Even teenagers should know.

Dear Mrs. Post: Evidently you've never been to a party where you bring your own liquor! A person doesn't drink only from the bottle he brought, and by the end of the party no one could possibly know what portion of what bottle could be called his own. Therefore, how are the host and hostess supposed to return the proper bottle and know just how much is supposed to be in it? — Mrs. A. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Apparently "BYOB" parties vary in different areas. Around my hometown the hostess does not expect to keep the left-over liquor, and she often suggests that guests put their names on the bottles and take home whatever is left.

If the liquor is pooled, as your letter suggests, there would be confusion about what bottle belonged to whom. Therefore, unless the hostess insists that everyone take some bottle home, the remains might be left for her.

Playing Favorites Not Good Etiquette

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know why it is considered wrong to refuse an invitation from one boy, then accept the same invitation from a boy you like better.—Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Why? Because it says loud and clear to the first boy "I like Boy B better than you." When word gets around, other boys will hesitate to ask you out for fear of being turned down for a better invitation. The first rule of etiquette is consideration for others, and hurting Boy A's feelings doesn't show one bit of that characteristic.

Wife's Applause Shows Pride In Husband

Dear Mrs. Post: Frequently I accompany my husband when he is a banquet speaker. I never know whether I should clap with the audience. Please tell me what is proper—Alice M.

Dear Mrs. M.: By all means, clap. There is nothing wrong with a wife showing pride and pleasure in her husband's achievements. Sitting dead-pan would demonstrate nothing but boredom or disinterest, and you wouldn't want other guests to think that was how you felt!

Helpful Hints

Don't discard your torn, plastic laundry basket.

Cut the solid bottom off and use it to put under the garbage can in your kitchen.

Use it at the outside door to hold dripping umbrellas and boots.

It can be used as a "pick-up sled" for children. Attach a long string to one side of it. It can be dragged on the floor to pick up toys, blocks and all small playthings. Children love to pick up things this way.

Make your personalized bar of shower soap by putting a soap bar in the toe of an old nylon stocking and tying a knot above the soap. No more dropped soap, and the nylon gives an extra scrubbing.

Rub talcum powder into a fresh oil or grease spot and let it sit for awhile. Then remove powder with a stiff brush and launder as usual.

UCCC Senators Rip Rockland Community 131-83

ALL AMERICA DEBUT — Eddie Miles (14) of Detroit Pistons dribbles toward Bill Bradley, in game in which the former Princeton All-America made his professional debut with the New York Knicks. Bradley scored 8 points in the 21 minutes he played. Detroit won, 124-121. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Post Highest Total of Season; Uhl Scores 21

Ulster County Community College's high flying Senators racked up their highest point total of the season Saturday in crushing Rockland Community, 131-83, in their second Mid-Hudson Conference game of the season at Suffern High school gym.

The point total was not a school record for Coach Mike Perry's charges. They set it with 155 against the same team in the same gym last season.

The Senators did get into the record book in a somewhat dubious manner, as they set a school mark for most fouls committed with 41. The Rockland team cashed in on 27.

The healthy total sent UCCC's offensive average for the season soaring to 103.6 points. On defense, the locals have permitted an even 80 points in five straight wins — eight in a row with a 3-game carryover from the 1966-67 campaign.

Uhl Scores 21

Jumpin' Joe Uhl led the Senators with a modest (for him) 21-point total. But the UCCC balance is what counted. Five other players scored in double figures and all 12 players used by Coach Perry crashed the scoring column.

Let the record show, however, that Uhl bagged his 21 points in only 25 minutes of play. Among other contributions to the cause, he had 11 assists, was 8 for 15 from the field and a perfect 5-5 from the free throw line.

Even Coach Perry, who has been critical of the Senators' defensive play, could find no fault with this one.

"This was a good ball club, let there be no doubt about it," he said.

When Lester Mobley, who scored 23 points for Rockland, was in trouble with 4 fouls in the first half, the Senators were home free.

Ulster's zone press baffled from the outset. The Senators broke to a 12-3 lead and were in front 55-22 with 7 minutes left in the first half. The half ended with UCCC in front, 71-33.

Bill DuBois was in the starting five with Uhl, Leon Hanna, Bill Boines and Frank Roselli. Hanna was the defensive ace with 21 rebounds before fouling out. Roselli, one of the team's defensive bulwarks, did an outstanding job blocking out. His hustle and steals were vital to the Ulster win. Bill Zilliox had 15 rebounds.

"Our passing worked great," said Perry, "as Uhl, DuBois, Chando, Derrenbacher and Quill were substituted in and out to vitalize the press and maintain steady pressure on Rockland." "The boys never let up," Perry added. "It was our greatest team effort so far."

Hanna with 18 points was runnerup to Uhl. Other double figure shooters included Roselli 16, Derrenbacher 17, Chando 15 and White 11.

Ulster was 53 for 101 for a 52.4 shooting percentage from the floor. Rockland dipped to 30.8 with 20 for 91.

Ulster is now 2-0 in the Mid-Hudson Conference, behind Sullivan Community's 3-0. Westchester is 1-1, Dutchess 0-1, Orange, 0-2, and Rockland, 0-1.

Ulster hosts Northwestern Connecticut tonight at 8 o'clock at the municipal auditorium. The first Mid-Hudson showdown of the early season is slated Thursday against unbeaten Sullivan at the auditorium.

The scores:

Ulster (131)	FG	FP	T	Rockland (83)	FG	FP	T
Uhl	8	5	21	Mobley	7	9	23
DuBois	2	1	5	Lupi	2	1	5

Moore Scores First Goal for St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If memory serves correctly, Dickie Moore was one of the National Hockey League's all-time top goal-getters with 256 before he retired after the 1964-65 season.

The low-scoring, little winning St. Louis Blues remembered several weeks ago and Sunday night Moore showed them he still recalls how he got those goals.

The 36-year-old left wing who came off a two-year layoff to play with the desperate Blues, drove home his first goal for the expansion team and lifted St. Louis to a stunning 2-1 victory over powerful Toronto in St. Louis.

The loss left the Maple Leafs still three points behind leading Boston in the established East Division after Los Angeles upset the Bruins 3-1 in Boston.

New York edged Montreal 3-2, in New York. Chicago blanked host Philadelphia 3-0 and visiting Minnesota hammered Pittsburgh 7-4 in other games.

Moore's goal came with 11:20 gone in the final period to break a 1-1 deadlock and give the last place Blues only their seventh victory in 25 games.

Jim Pappin had given Toronto an early lead, but Frank St. Marseille scored his first NHL goal in the second period for St. Louis.

Los Angeles pulled a less spectacular upset by spotting the injury-ridden Bruins a first period goal by Eddie Shack and then blasting home two scores in the last 86 seconds of the second period. Ted Irvine scored at 18:34 and Gordon Labossiere won it at 19:45.

Lowell MacDonald sealed Boston's first loss in nine games with a third-period goal as Boston played without Bobby Orr and Ted Green.

The victory shoved the Kings ahead of Philadelphia as Bobby Hull tapped in his 23rd and 24th goals and Denis DeJordy stopped the Flyers with his first shutout this season.

Vic Hadfield's second-period goal gave New York a 3-1 lead and the Rangers held off fast-closing Montreal, which has not won in eight games.

Seven Minnesota players scored, including Ray Cullen, who assisted on two goals.

Z Is for Zelmo in St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pros know their basketball from A to Z, and in the case of the St. Louis Hawks, Z is for Zelmo.

Zelmo Beaty scored 12 straight points in the third quarter, made the basket which sent the game into overtime and then scored four points in the extra period as the Hawks nipped the Baltimore Bullets 114-112, Sunday night.

In the only other National Basketball game, Seattle outlasted Los Angeles 133-123.

Baltimore, dropping its sixth straight game, led by seven points with 3:40 left, but then the Hawks surged back to send the game into overtime at 106-106 on Beaty's goal.

Paul Silas scored 25 and Beaty 22 for the Western Division leading Hawks. Don Ohl poured in 27 and Earl Monroe 26 for Baltimore.

Al Tucker scored 35 points for Seattle, which ended Los Angeles' winning streak at five games. Elgin Baylor notched 35 for the Lakers.

Can Buccaneers Steal the ABA?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New Orleans Buccaneers look like they're stealing the Western Division title of the American Basketball Association.

The Buccaneers have played only 25 games, but they have won 19 and hold a six-game lead over second-place Denver.

New Orleans' latest triumph came Sunday night as Doug Moe led the way with 25 points in a 125-110 blasting of Dallas. Bobby Wilson paced Dallas with 24 points.

Minnesota maintained its one-half game lead over runner-up Indiana in the Eastern Division as both lost in the only other games on the schedule. Minnesota bowed 114-99 to Pittsburgh, and Indiana was taken 107-87 by Houston.

Minnesota hit on only six field goal attempts in the first 21 minutes, and the Pipers, led by Art Heyman, who finished with 31 points, pulled to a commanding 52-34 halftime lead. Les Hunter scored 21 for the Muskies, who suffered their first loss in nine home games.

Art Becker scored 21 and Willie Somerset 20, including 10 in the final quarter, to pace the Houston victory. Roger Brown led Indiana with 23.

St. Louis edged Baltimore 114-110 in overtime, and Seattle topped Los Angeles 133-123 in Sunday's only National Basketball Association action.

Brown Victor In Ivy Hockey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A funny thing happened to Cornell on its way to defending its NCAA crown in college hockey.

The Big Red was stunned, 6-3, by Brown in an Ivy League opener Saturday night. The loss stopped Cornell's winning streak at 19 games — 16 of them last year and 3 this year.

The Bruins led 2-0 after the first period and 4-1 at the end of the second en route to the upset. Goalie Don McGinnis of Brown stopped 38 shots, while Cornell goalie Ken Dryden was credited with 23 saves.

In other games Saturday, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute coasted to a 9 - 4 victory over Providence College, St. Nick's (N.J.) club team turned in a 6-5 upset of Colgate, and Army posted a 6-4 triumph over Middlebury.

In Three Games

135 Points for Murphy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bonnies of St. Bonaventure are on the march again after a long absence from the ranks of college basketball powers.

The Bonnies posted their third triumph in a row Saturday by nipping highly ranked Toledo University 94 - 93 in overtime. Bill Butler led his teammates with 30 points.

It was the first time this season that the Bonnies scored less than 100 points.

More than 3,000 students and fans registered their approval Sunday when the team returned to the tree - shaded campus in Olean. The Bonnies play Xavier tonight.

The Bonnies' victory almost overshadowed the 100 - 76 triumph of Niagara University over Iona.

Calvin Murphy, the 5 - foot - 10 Niagara dynamo, dumped in 37 points as the Puple Eagles won their second game in three starts. He has scored 135 points in his first three varsity starts.

In the nightcap of the twin bill at Buffalo, Canisius upset Murray State, Ky., 71-68.

Cornell lost its first game of the young season, 73-59, to Army.

Buffalo also went down to defeat for the first time in four starts, 85 - 63, at the hands of Syracuse.

Rutgers romped to an 82 - 69 conquest of Colgate.

In other games:

Alfred bounced back from a halftime deficit to beat Brockport State, 90-78; LeMoyne scrambled to a 74-64 win over Scranton; Geneseo edge Harpur, 66-64, in overtime; Hartwick won a hard-fought 100-93 decision over Ithaca; Roberts Wesleyan downed McMaster, Ont., 96-68; Rochester Tech rolled past Fredonia, 81-74; St. John Fisher led all the way in downing Waterloo, Ont. Lutheran, 76-61; Rochester withstood a closing rush and beat Toronto, 86-79; Buffalo State coasted past Cortland, 94-69; Assumption dumped Siena, 91-72; Brooklyn College stopped Plattsburgh, 82-72; MIT eked out a 68-67 decision over RPI, and Potsdam State slammed Queen's, Ont., 86-60.

Alcindor's 45 Points Pace UCLA's 121-80 Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Wooden didn't say so, but he may have been thinking of Houston.

"Although I feel the Bruins would win over any opponent in a series of games on a neutral court," said the coach of top-ranked and unbeaten UCLA, "I know quite well the hazards that often befall visiting teams and the possibility of good teams coming up with great nights."

Wooden's juggernaut rolled over Iowa State 121-80 Saturday night, making the Cyclones their 37th consecutive victim and third this year. And it left Iowa State Coach Glen Anderson shaking his head in bewilderment.

"They're the finest college basketball team I've ever seen," he said.

Lew Alcindor tossed in 45 points and five other Bruins scored in double figures.

Houston, ranked No. 2 in the nation, scored its fourth straight victory, beating Illinois 54-46 at Champaign with Elvin Hayes scoring 25 points.

Houston and UCLA meet Jan. 20 in the Astrodome a game that could set a college basketball attendance record.

UCLA is idle this week, while Houston plays in its own Bluebonnet Classic Wednesday and Thursday. The Courgars' first round opponent is George Washington.

While UCLA and Houston rolled along as expected, three other members of the Top Ten suffered upsets in Saturday action. No. 3 Louisville and No. 4 Kansas were upset in a doubleheader at Chicago while No. 5 North Carolina lost to eighth-ranked Vanderbilt 89-76 at Nashville, Tenn.

Chicago Loyola tumbled Kansas 83-73 and unheralded Northwestern stunned Louisville 88-83 in the Chicago doubleheader.

All other top ten teams in action won, No. 7 Purdue rebounding from a Friday defeat by Washington and beating the same team 84-77. Rick Munt scored 30 points for the winners.

Kentucky, No. 9, playing at home, pushed its record to 4-0 with a 64-49 triumph over Penn while No. 10 Boston College beat Connecticut 76-70 on the road.

Kingston Club Pistol Winners

Kingston Pistol Club posted a 1093 aggregate to lead the Ulster County Pistol League competition.

New Paltz was runnerup with 1078, followed by Upper Esopus 1021 and Wittenberg, 967.

Frank Steltz of Kingston and Nelson Christiana of New Paltz tied for high gun honors with 277.

The results:

Kingston (1093) — Frank Steltz 277, Hugh Helsley 273, Earl Buton 273, William Coler 270.

New Paltz (1078) — Nelson Christiana 277, Gil Lasher 270, Louis Cheka 267, Bud Confer 264.

Upper Esopus (1021)—Nelson Sears 263, Charles Smith 258, Edward Herman 258, James Smth Jr. 241.

Wittenberg (967) — Robert Cross 260, Lester Shultis 255, Edward Snyder 228, George Lennard 224.

Middleweight Non-Title Bout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Emile Griffith, the world middleweight champion, will appear in a non-title bout in Rome Friday night against Italy's Remo Golfarino on a card that also includes bouts involving Johnny Persol and young Forest Ward, New York heavyweights, against European opponents.

Luis Rodriguez, former world welter champion, tops the Friday show at New York's Madison Square Garden in a rematch with Benny Briscoe of Philadelphia. Rodriguez, who reigned three months in 1963 between bouts with Griffith, won a decision over Briscoe March 20 in Philadelphia.

Maurice Cullen, the British lightweight champion, will make his U.S. debut on the same Garden show in a 10-round match with Mike Cruz of Puerto Rico

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (AP)—Dave Davis of Phoenix, Ariz., won the tion $70,000 National Championship at Madison Square Garden Sunday be defeating fellow Arizonan Pete Tountas 216-191 in the final game.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Bernie A. Shively, 64, athletic director at the University of Kentucky since 1938, died Sunday after suffering a heart attack.

Post Highest Total of Season; Uhl Scores 21

Ulster County Community College's high flying Senators racked up their highest point total of the season Saturday in crushing Rockland Community, 131-83, in their second Mid-Hudson Conference game of the season at Suffern High school gym.

The point total was not a school record for Coach Mike Perry's charges. They set it with 155 against the same team in the same gym last season.

The Senators did get into the record book in a somewhat dubious manner, as they set a school mark for most fouls committed with 41. The Rockland team cashed in on 27.

The healthy total sent UCCC's offensive average for the season soaring to 103.6 points. On defense, the locals have permitted an even 80 points in five straight wins — eight in a row with a 3-game carryover from the 1966-67 campaign.

Uhl Scores 21

Jumpin' Joe Uhl led the Senators with a modest (for him) 21-point total. But the UCCC balance is what counted. Five other players scored in double figures and all 12 players used by Coach Perry crashed the scoring column.

Let the record show, however, that Uhl bagged his 21 points in only 25 minutes of play. Among other contributions to the cause, he had 11 assists, was 8 for 15 from the field and a perfect 5-5 from the free throw line.

Even Coach Perry, who has been critical of the Senators' defensive play, could find no fault with this one.

"This was a good ball club, let there be no doubt about it," he said.

When Lester Mobley, who scored 23 points for Rockland, was in trouble with 4 fouls in the first half, the Senators were home free.

Ulster's zone press baffled from the outset. The Senators broke to a 12-3 lead and were in front 55-22 with 7 minutes left in the first half. The half ended with UCCC in front, 71-33.

Bill DuBois was in the starting five with Uhl, Leon Hanna, Bill Boines and Frank Roselli. Hanna was the defensive ace with 21 rebounds before fouling out. Roselli, one of the team's defensive bulwarks, did an outstanding job blocking out. His hustle and steals were vital to the Ulster win. Bill Zilliox had 15 rebounds.

"Our passing worked great," said Perry, "as Uhl, DuBois, Chando, Derrenbacher and Quill were substituted in and out to vitalize the press and maintain steady pressure on Rockland." "The boys never let up," Perry added. "It was our greatest team effort so far."

Hanna with 18 points was runnerup to Uhl. Other double figure shooters included Roselli 16, Derrenbacher 17, Chando 15 and White 11.

Ulster was 53 for 101 for a 52.4 shooting percentage from the floor. Rockland dipped to 30.8 with 20 for 91.

Ulster is now 2-0 in the Mid-Hudson Conference, behind Sullivan Community's 3-0. Westchester is 1-1, Dutchess 0-1, Orange, 0-2, and Rockland, 0-1.

Ulster hosts Northwestern Connecticut tonight at 8 o'clock at the municipal auditorium. The first Mid-Hudson showdown of the early season is slated Thursday against unbeaten Sullivan at the auditorium.

The scores:

Ulster (131)	FG	FP	T	Rockland (83)	FG	FP	T

Moore Scores First Goal for St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If memory serves correctly, Dickie Moore was one of the National Hockey League's all-time top goal-getters with 256 before he retired after the 1964-65 season.

The low-scoring, little winning St. Louis Blues remembered several weeks ago and Sunday night Moore showed them he still recalls how he got those goals.

The 36-year-old left wing who came off a two-year layoff to play with the desperate Blues, drove home his first goal for the expansion team and lifted St. Louis to a stunning 2-1 victory over powerful Toronto in St. Louis.

The loss left the Maple Leafs still three points behind leading Boston in the established East Division after Los Angeles upset the Bruins 3-1 in Boston.

New York edged Montreal 3-2, in New York. Chicago blanked host Philadelphia 3-0 and visiting Minnesota hammered Pittsburgh 7-4 in other games.

Moore's goal came with 11:20 gone in the final period to break a 1-1 deadlock and give the last place Blues only their seventh victory in 25 games.

Jim Pappin had given Toronto an early lead, but Frank St. Marseille scored his first NHL goal in the second period for St. Louis.

Los Angeles pulled a less spectacular upset by spotting the injury-ridden Bruins a first period goal by Eddie Shack and then blasting home two scores in the last 86 seconds of the second period. Ted Irvine scored at 18:34 and Gordon Labossiere won it at 19:45.

Lowell MacDonald sealed Boston's first loss in nine games with a third-period goal as Boston played without Bobby Orr and Ted Green.

The victory shoved the Kings ahead of Philadelphia as Bobby Hull tapped in his 23rd and 24th goals and Denis DeJordy stopped the Flyers with his first shutout this season.

Vic Hadfield's second-period goal gave New York a 3-1 lead and the Rangers held off fast-closing Montreal, which has not won in eight games.

Seven Minnesota players scored, including Ray Cullen, who assisted on two goals.

Z Is for Zelmo in St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pros know their basketball from A to Z, and in the case of the St. Louis Hawks, Z is for Zelmo.

Zelmo Beaty scored 12 straight points in the third quarter, made the basket which sent the game into overtime and then scored four points in the extra period as the Hawks nipped the Baltimore Bullets 114-112, Sunday night.

In the only other National Basketball game, Seattle outlasted Los Angeles 133-123.

Baltimore, dropping its sixth straight game, led by seven points with 3:40 left, but then the Hawks surged back to send the game into overtime at 106-106 on Beaty's goal.

Paul Silas scored 25 and Beaty 22 for the Western Division leading Hawks. Don Ohl poured in 27 and Earl Monroe 26 for Baltimore.

Al Tucker scored 35 points for Seattle, which ended Los Angeles' winning streak at five games. Elgin Baylor notched 35 for the Lakers.

Can Buccaneers Steal the ABA?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New Orleans Buccaneers look like they're stealing the Western Division title of the American Basketball Association.

The Buccaneers have played only 25 games, but they have won 19 and hold a six-game lead over second-place Denver.

New Orleans' latest triumph came Sunday night as Doug Moe led the way with 25 points in a 125-110 blasting of Dallas. Bobby Wilson paced Dallas with 24 points.

Minnesota maintained its one-half game lead over runner-up Indiana in the Eastern Division as both lost in the only other games on the schedule. Minnesota bowed 114-99 to Pittsburgh, and Indiana was taken 107-87 by Houston.

Minnesota hit on only six field goal attempts in the first 21 minutes, and the Pipers, led by Art Heyman, who finished with 31 points, pulled to a commanding 52-34 halftime lead. Les Hunter scored 21 for the Muskies, who suffered their first loss in nine home games.

Art Becker scored 21 and Willie Somerset 20, including 10 in the final quarter, to pace the Houston victory. Roger Brown led Indiana with 23.

St. Louis edged Baltimore 114-110 in overtime, and Seattle topped Los Angeles 133-123 in Sunday's only National Basketball Association action.

135 Points for Murphy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bonnies of St. Bonaventure are on the march again after a long absence from the ranks of college basketball powers.

The Bonnies posted their third triumph in a row Saturday by nipping highly ranked Toledo University 94 - 93 in overtime. Bill Butler led his teammates with 30 points.

It was the first time this season that the Bonnies scored less than 100 points.

More than 3,000 students and fans registered their approval Sunday when the team returned to the tree - shaded campus in Olean. The Bonnies play Xavier tonight.

The Bonnies' victory almost overshadowed the 100 - 76 triumph of Niagara University over Iona.

Calvin Murphy, the 5 - foot - 10 Niagara dynamo, dumped in 37 points as the Puple Eagles won their second game in three starts. He has scored 135 points in his first three varsity starts.

In the nightcap of the twin bill at Buffalo, Canisius upset Murray State, Ky., 71-68.

Cornell lost its first game of the young season, 73-59, to Army.

Buffalo also went down to defeat for the first time in four starts, 85 - 63, at the hands of Syracuse.

Rutgers romped to an 82 - 69 conquest of Colgate.

In other games:

Alfred bounced back from a halftime deficit to beat Brockport State, 90-78; LeMoyne scrambled to a 74-64 win over Scranton; Geneseo edge Harpur, 66-64, in overtime; Hartwick won a hard-fought 100-93 decision over Ithaca; Roberts Wesleyan downed McMaster, Ont., 96-68; Rochester Tech rolled past Fredonia, 81-74; St. John Fisher led all the way in downing Waterloo, Ont. Lutheran, 76-61; Rochester withstood a closing rush and beat Toronto, 86-79; Buffalo State coasted past Cortland, 94-69; Assumption dumped Siena, 91-72; Brooklyn College stopped Plattsburgh, 82-72; MIT eked out a 68-67 decision over RPI, and Potsdam State slammed Queen's, Ont., 86-60.

Alcindor's 45 Points Pace UCLA's 121-80 Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Wooden didn't say so, but he may have been thinking of Houston.

"Although I feel the Bruins would win over any opponent in a series of games on a neutral court," said the coach of top-ranked and unbeaten UCLA, "I know quite well the hazards that often befall visiting teams and the possibility of good teams coming up with great nights."

Wooden's juggernaut rolled over Iowa State 121-80 Saturday night, making the Cyclones their 37th consecutive victim and third this year. And it left Iowa State Coach Glen Anderson shaking his head in bewilderment.

"They're the finest college basketball team I've ever seen," he said.

Lew Alcindor tossed in 45 points and five other Bruins scored in double figures.

Houston, ranked No. 2 in the nation, scored its fourth straight victory, beating Illinois 54-46 at Champaign with Elvin Hayes scoring 25 points.

Houston and UCLA meet Jan. 20 in the Astrodome a game that could set a college basketball attendance record.

UCLA is idle this week, while Houston plays in its own Bluebonnet Classic Wednesday and Thursday. The Courgars' first round opponent is George Washington.

While UCLA and Houston rolled along as expected, three other members of the Top Ten suffered upsets in Saturday action. No. 3 Louisville and No. 4 Kansas were upset in a doubleheader at Chicago while No. 5 North Carolina lost to eighth-ranked Vanderbilt 89-76 at Nashville, Tenn.

Chicago Loyola tumbled Kansas 83-73 and unheralded Northwestern stunned Louisville 88-83 in the Chicago doubleheader.

All other top ten teams in action won, No. 7 Purdue rebounding from a Friday defeat by Washington and beating the same team 84-77. Rick Munt scored 30 points for the winners.

Kentucky, No. 9, playing at home, pushed its record to 4-0 with a 64-49 triumph over Penn while No. 10 Boston College beat Connecticut 76-70 on the road.

Kingston Club Pistol Winners

Kingston Pistol Club posted a 1093 aggregate to lead the Ulster County Pistol League competition.

New Paltz was runnerup with 1078, followed by Upper Esopus 1021 and Wittenberg, 967.

Frank Steltz of Kingston and Nelson Christiana of New Paltz tied for high gun honors with 277.

The results:

Kingston (1093) — Frank Steltz 277, Hugh Helsley 273, Earl Buton 273, William Coler 270.

New Paltz (1078) — Nelson Christiana 277, Gil Lasher 270, Louis Cheka 267, Bud Confer 264.

Brown Victor In Ivy Hockey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A funny thing happened to Cornell on its way to defending its NCAA crown in college hockey.

The Big Red was stunned, 6-3, by Brown in an Ivy League opener Saturday night. The loss stopped Cornell's winning streak at 19 games — 16 of them last year and 3 this year.

The Bruins led 2-0 after the first period and 4-1 at the end of the second en route to the upset. Goalie Don McGinnis of Brown stopped 38 shots, while Cornell goalie Ken Dryden was credited with 23 saves.

In other games Saturday, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute coasted to a 9 - 4 victory over Providence College, St. Nick's (N.J.) club team turned in a 6-5 upset of Colgate, and Army posted a 6-4 triumph over Middlebury.

Super-Thief Houston Picks the Lock

Browns Clinch Century Division

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Houston, Cleveland's 245-pound super-thief, has picked the lock to the Century throne-room, leaving only one divisional battle still raging in the National Football League—the Coastal war between Baltimore's unbeaten Colts and Los Angeles' relentless Rams.

Linebacker Houston intercepted a fourth-quarter pass Sunday and lumbered 18 yards for the decisive touchdown as the Browns clinched the Century Division crown with a 20-16 victory over St. Louis.

A week ago, Houston's 79-yard scoring run with another pass theft put the wraps on a 24-14 victory over New York that eliminated the Giants from the Century race.

While the Browns joined Green Bay's Central champs and Dallas' Capitol kings in the NFL semifinal playoff bracket, the Colts whipped New Orleans 30-10, running their unbeaten string to 13 games and setting up next Sunday's Coastal showdown with Los Angeles.

The Rams stayed alive Saturday by blocking a Green Bay punt in the final minute and scoring with 34 seconds to play for a 27-24 nod over the Packers. They tied the Colts in an earlier meeting and are one game off the pace going into the finale in title-frantic Los Angeles.

In Sunday's other NFL games, Dallas drubbed Philadelphia 38-17; San Francisco outscored Atlanta 34-28; Detroit smacked New York 30-7; Washington edged Pittsburgh 15-10 and Chicago and Minnesota played to a 10-10 deadlock.

The Browns led 13-9 when Houston, a rugged, eight-year pro, batted a Jim Hart pass into the air, grabbed the ball on the fly and raced across untouched. Those six points stood up for Cleveland despite Hart's 15-yard TD pass to Jackie Smith late in the period. A desperate 41-yard pitch from Hart to Smith carried to the Browns' 18 as time ran out.

Frank Ryan's 38-yard scoring pass to Paul Warfield and two field goals by Lou Groza offset three three-pointers by St. Louis' Jim Bakken before Houston came up with the big play for the Browns.

The Colts rolled to their 11th victory—they have tied two—despite a sub-par performance by quarterback Johnny Unitas, who completed 10 of 24 passes for 148 yards and failed to connect for a touchdown.

Baltimore's tough defense set up short scoring thrusts by Tony Lorick, Tom Matte and Jerry Hill, however, and Lou Michaels booted three field goals as the Colts continued their drive to become the first NFL team to go without a loss since the 1942 Chicago Bears.

Dan Reeves caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Craig Morton and threw a 45-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel, triggering the Cowboys' romp over Philadelphia.

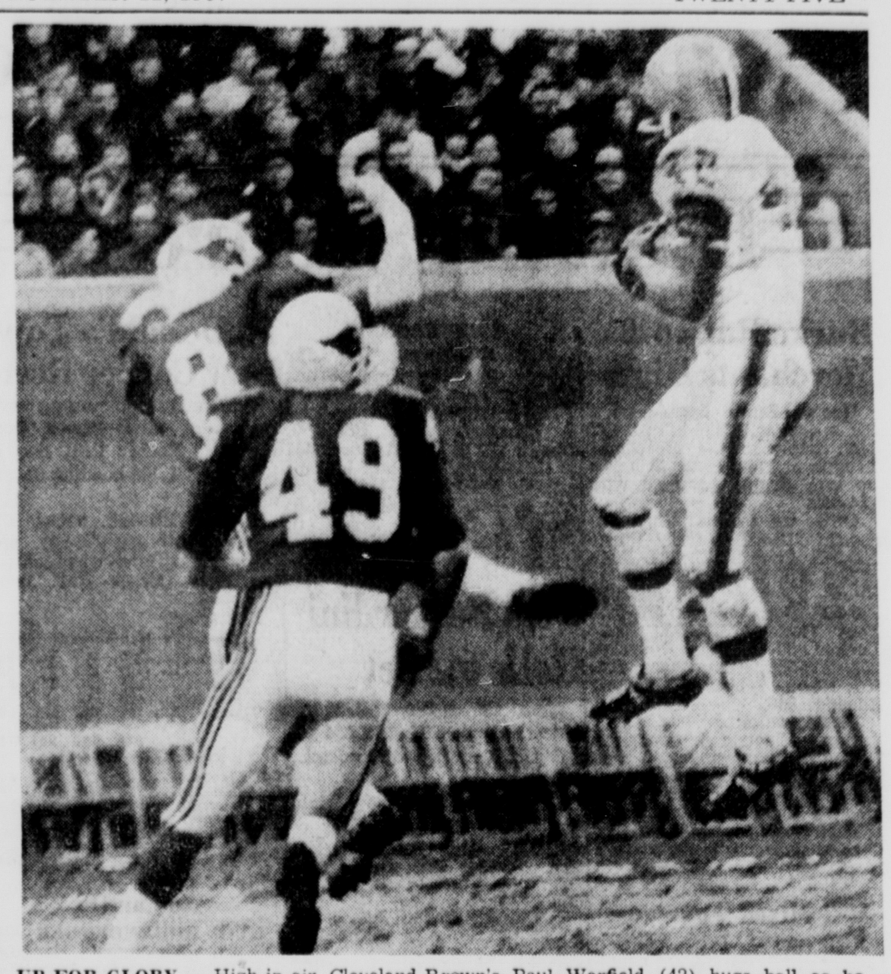

Eagles center Jim Ringo started his 181st consecutive game, setting an all-time pro record.

George Mira, making his first start this year, flipped two touchdown passes as the 49ers held off the Falcons and snapped a six-game losing string. Randy Johnson, held in check in the first half, kept Atlanta in the game with three TD passes after intermission.

Karl Sweetan led the Lions past New York with three scoring passes. The Detroit defense shut off Fran Tarkenton, who hit on only three of 16 pass attempts and was thrown four times for losses of 63 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen, stymied most of the game by Pittsburgh's defense, got off a 33-yard touchdown pass to Charlie Taylor with less than three minutes remaining to bring the Redskins from behind. After Taylor scored the go-ahead touchdown, Paul Krause stopped the Steelers' last-ditch drive with his third interception of the game.

A 25-yard, fourth quarter field goal by Fred Cox earned Minnesota its third tie of the season and nullified brilliant, muddy-field running display by the Bears' Gale Sayers. Sayers splashed for 131 yards in 20 carries, scored Chicago's touchdown on a seven-yard run and set up Mac Percival's field goal with a 38-yard dash.

UP FOR GLORY — High in air, Cleveland Brown's Paul Warfield (42) hugs ball as he 37-yard TD pass in 2nd quarter of Cleveland-St. Louis game. Warfield, covered by Cardinal defenders, Larry Wilson (8) and Jimmy Burson (49) went up between the two for spectacular TD pass from quarterback Frank Ryan. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Blanda Toes Raiders to Title

4 Field Goals Send Houston To 19-7 Defeat

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

An accurate toe and a good passing arm are a tough combination to beat in football—even when they belong to different men who are of different generations.

This was the case Sunday when the kicking of George Blanda and the passing of Bob Griese combined to give Oakland the Western Division championship of the American Football League.

Blanda, who broke in professionally with the Chicago Bears in 1949, booted four field goals in five tries in leading Oakland to a 19-7 victory over Houston.

Griese, who was hardly strong enough to hold a football in 1949, passed for two touchdowns as Miami upset San Diego 41-24.

Oakland's victory gave the Raiders an 11-1 record and a 2½-game lead over San Diego. It also kept Houston, 7-4-1, from breaking a first-place tie in the Eastern Division with the New York Jets, who lost 21-7 to Kansas City in the only other Sunday game. Buffalo trounced Boston 44-16 Saturday.

That Heady Feeling

The 40-year-old Blanda, who quarterbacked Houston to two AFL titles and was No. 1 at the position for most of seven season before being dropped by the club after last year, was feeling higher than some of his kicks.

"This was fantastic, the best day of my career, to come back here and show all these rube fans that the booing doesn't bother the old man."

Blanda was roundly booed the first time he went on the field, but it took more than boos to stop him Sunday.

Trailing 7-0 at halftime, Oakland got started with Blanda's 12-yard field goal in the third period and took a 9-7 lead after Blanda booted three-pointers of 32 and 31 yards in the final period.

The Raiders sewed it up when Hewritt Dixon raced 27 yards for a touchdown and Blanda kicked a 45-yarder. Houston scored in the second quarter on a 28-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Hoyle Granger.

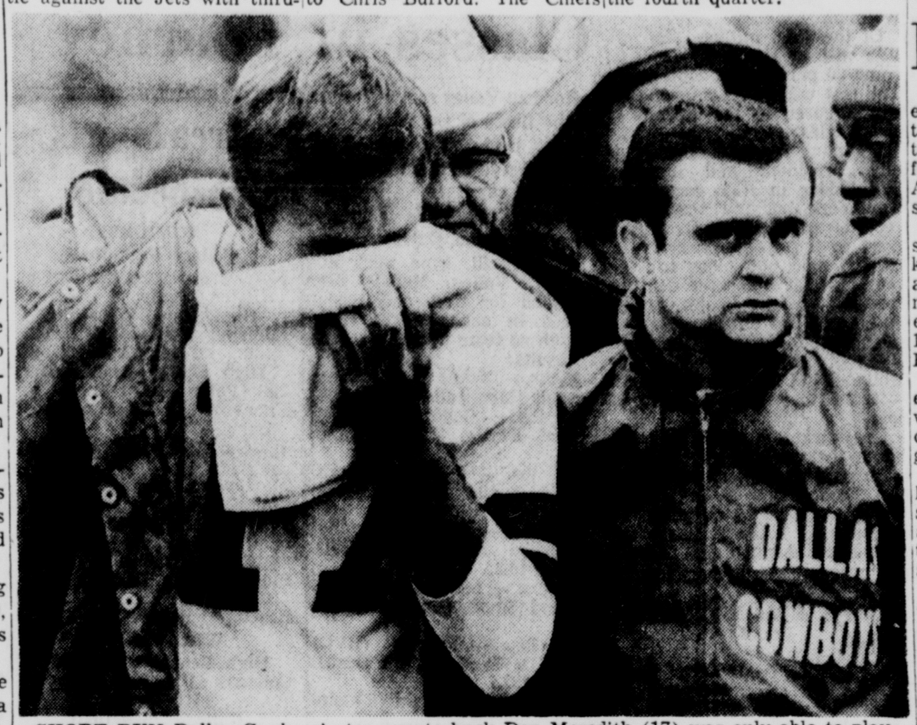

Leads in Scoring

Blanda, signed as a free agent by Oakland for his kicking and insurance quarterbacking, also kicked himself into the AFL scoring lead with 47 conversions and 19 of 28 field goals for 104 points.

Griese passed Miami into a 17-13 lead by hitting Doug Moreau for 10 yards, and then the 22-year-old rookie showed he could use his feet, too, by scoring on a one-yard run.

After San Diego closed to within 27-24 Griese passed 13 yards to Howard Twilley for a TD.

Kansas City broke a scoreless tie against the Jets with third-period touchdowns on Curtis McClinton's one-yard run and an 11-yard pass from Len Dawson to Chris Burford. The Chiefs clinched it on Fred Williamson's 77-yard return of an intercepted pass for a TD to make it 21-0 in the fourth quarter.

SHORT RUN Dallas Cowboys' star quarterback Don Meredith (17) was only able to play a few minutes during first quarter against Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles' defensive tackles broke his nose. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Leo Stars In Debut

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Leo's exciting pro debut was the main talking point today as the Boston Patriots began preparations for the finale of their dismal American Football League season at Miami next Sunday.

The former Harvard star sparkled on several punt and kickoff returns and also caught a touchdown pass in the waning moments to provide the lone encouraging sign in the Pats' 44-16 loss to the Buffalo Bills at Fenway Park Saturday.

"He did as well as you could ever expect," Coach Mike Holovak said. I'd say he was our one bright spot in the whole game.

"I've never had a guy start his pro career so late in the season," Holovak added. 'It's not an ideal way to break in. But he took his licks well. That's the sign."

Leo, who spent the early part of the season in military service and then worked out with the Patriots' taxi squad for several weeks before being activated, said he wasn't particularly nervous for his debut.

He indicated that this was largely because of the meaningless aspects of the game as far as the teams were concerned. Both are out of the running for Eastern Division honors.

'Usually I go into a game with butterflies in my stomach, but I didn't have them this time," Leo said. "It's tough to get excited about a game like this. If a championship or something is at stake, then you're more nervous."

Butterflies or not, Leo was the primary attraction to many fans and experts as they waited to see whether he could make the big adjustment from Ivy League football to the rougher pro variety.

He gave the answer, standing up well under the knocks as he returned six kickoffs for 117 yards, almost went all the way on a 43-yard punt return, and played at the flanker position on several series, finally combining with quarterback Babe Parilli on a 25-yard scoring pass play.

'It's pretty rugged out there," Leo said afterwards. "They hit hard. I wasn't disappointed."

"He's got a lot of smarts," said Buffalo punter Paul MaGuire, who had the best view of Leo's spectacular punt return and eventually wound up tackling the Patriot rookie himself to prevent the touchdown.

Corbin Wrecks Gators

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — They used to say Ken Corbin—a tackle converted to left linebacker—had concrete blocks or boards for hands. But the 218-pound senior changed all that Saturday when he intercepted two passes, the first steals of his football career, and ran both into touchdowns.

Corbin's performance sparked the University of Miami to a 20-13 victory in its traditional grudge match against the University of Florida Gators.

"I was tired and I kept thinking any second somebody would catch me. I couldn't picture myself outrunning their fast backs," Corbin said after his first interception and the ensuing 80-yard runback in the first quarter.

In the third quarter, after a 45-yard runback on the other interception, Corbin said: "I had confidence on the second run."

Corbin's teammates used to call him CBH, which was short for "Concrete Block Hands," and Miami Coach Charlie Tate dubbed him "Board Hands."

But Tate said Corbin lost his nicknames on Saturday.

The 6-foot-2 Corbin only had the chance to make the interceptions because sophomore Dick Sorenson was out with injuries. All season in second and long yardage or third and long defensive situations Sorenson has replaced Corbin. But not Saturday.

In other games Saturday, San Diego State drubbed San Francisco State 27-6 in the Camelia Bowl; Fairmont, W.Va., State won the NAIA championship with a 28-21 victory over Eastern Washington; Eastern Kentucky topped Ball State 28-13 in the Grantland Rice Bowl.

Samford took Arkansas A&M 20-7 in the Space City Classic; Arizona downed Henderson County, Tex., 20-7 in the National Junior College Bowl and New Mexico Military edged Cisco, Tex., 20-13 in the junior college Wool Bowl.

French Trotter Wins Second at Yonkers

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Ruy Blas IV, the French import, made it two in a row at Yonkers Raceway when he breezed to a 2 - length victory over Fool's Dandy in Saturday night's feature trot.

Super-Thief Houston Picks the Lock

Browns Clinch Century Division

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Houston, Cleveland's 245-pound super-thief, has picked the lock to the Century throne-room, leaving only one divisional battle still raging in the National Football League—the Coastal war between Baltimore's unbeaten Colts and Los Angeles' relentless Rams.

Linebacker Houston intercepted a fourth-quarter pass Sunday and lumbered 18 yards for the decisive touchdown as the Browns clinched the Century Division crown with a 20-16 victory over St. Louis.

A week ago, Houston's 79-yard scoring run with another pass theft put the wraps on a 24-14 victory over New York that eliminated the Giants from the Century race.

While the Browns joined Green Bay's Central champs and Dallas' Capitol kings in the NFL semifinal playoff bracket, the Colts whipped New Orleans 30-10, running their unbeaten string to 13 games and setting up next Sunday's Coastal showdown with Los Angeles.

The Rams stayed alive Saturday by blocking a Green Bay punt in the final minute and scoring with 34 seconds to play for a 27-24 nod over the Packers. They tied the Colts in an earlier meeting and are one game off the pace going into the finale in title-frantic Los Angeles.

In Sunday's other NFL games, Dallas drubbed Philadelphia 38-17; San Francisco outscored Atlanta 34-28; Detroit smacked New York 30-7; Washington edged Pittsburgh 15-10 and Chicago and Minnesota played to a 10-10 deadlock.

The Browns led 13-9 when Houston, a rugged, eight-year pro, batted a Jim Hart pass into the air, grabbed the ball on the fly and raced across untouched. Those six points stood up for Cleveland despite Hart's 15-yard TD pass to Jackie Smith late in the period. A desperate 41-yard pitch from Hart to Smith carried to the Browns' 18 as time ran out.

Frank Ryan's 38-yard scoring pass to Paul Warfield and two field goals by Lou Groza offset three three-pointers by St. Louis' Jim Bakken before Houston came up with the big play for the Browns.

The Colts rolled to their 11th victory—they have tied two—despite a sub-par performance by quarterback Johnny Unitas, who completed 10 of 24 passes for 148 yards and failed to connect for a touchdown.

Baltimore's tough defense set up short scoring thrusts by Tony Lorick, Tom Matte and Jerry Hill, however, and Lou Michaels booted three field goals as the Colts continued their drive to become the first NFL team to go without a loss since the 1942 Chicago Bears.

Dan Reeves caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Craig Morton and threw a 45-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel, triggering the Cowboys' romp over Philadelphia.

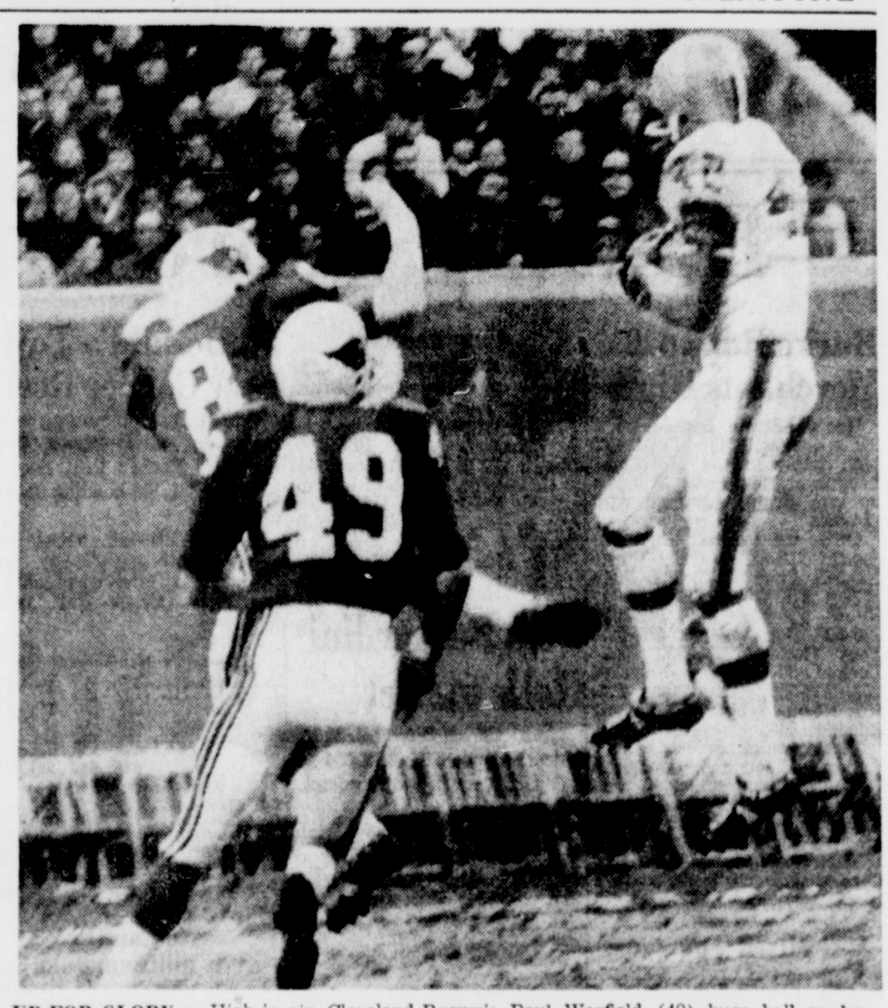

Eagles center Jim Ringo started his 181st consecutive game, setting an all-time pro record.

George Mira, making his first start this year, flipped two touchdown passes as the 49ers held off the Falcons and snapped a six-game losing string. Randy Johnson, held in check in the first half, kept Atlanta in the game with three TD passes after intermission.

Karl Sweetan led the Lions past New York with three scoring passes. The Detroit defense shut off Fran Tarkenton, who hit on only three of 16 pass attempts and was thrown four times for losses of 63 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen, stymied most of the game by Pittsburgh's defense, got off a 33-yard touchdown pass to Charlie Taylor with less than three minutes remaining to bring the Redskins from behind. After Taylor scored the go-ahead touchdown, Paul Krause stopped the Steelers' last-ditch drive with his third interception of the game.

A 25-yard, fourth quarter field goal by Fred Cox earned Minnesota its third tie of the season and nullified brilliant, muddy-field running display by the Bears' Gale Sayers. Sayers splashed for 131 yards in 20 carries, scored Chicago's touchdown on a seven-yard run and set up Mac Percival's field goal with a 38-yard dash.

UP FOR GLORY — High in air, Cleveland Brown's Paul Warfield (42) hugs ball as he 37-yard TD pass in 2nd quarter of Cleveland-St. Louis game. Warfield, covered by Cardinal defenders, Larry Wilson (8) and Jimmy Burson (49) went up between the two for spectacular TD pass from quarterback Frank Ryan. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Blanda Toes Raiders to Title

4 Field Goals Send Houston To 19-7 Defeat

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

An accurate toe and a good passing arm are a tough combination to beat in football—even when they belong to different men who are of different generations.

This was the case Sunday when the kicking of George Blanda and the passing of Bob Griese combined to give Oakland the Western Division championship of the American Football League.

Blanda, who broke in professionally with the Chicago Bears in 1949, booted four field goals in five tries in leading Oakland to a 19-7 victory over Houston.

Griese, who was hardly strong enough to hold a football in 1949, passed for two touchdowns as Miami upset San Diego 41-24.

Oakland's victory gave the Raiders an 11-1 record and a 2½-game lead over San Diego. It also kept Houston, 7-4-1, from breaking a first-place tie in the Eastern Division with the New York Jets, who lost 21-7 to Kansas City in the only other Sunday game. Buffalo trounced Boston 44-16 Saturday.

That Heady Feeling

The 40-year-old Blanda, who quarterbacked Houston to two AFL titles and was No. 1 at the position for most of seven season before being dropped by the club after last year, was feeling higher than some of his kicks.

"This was fantastic, the best day of my career, to come back here and show all these rube fans that the booing doesn't bother the old man."

Blanda was roundly booed the first time he went on the field, but it took more than boos to stop him Sunday.

Trailing 7-0 at halftime, Oakland got started with Blanda's 12-yard field goal in the third period and took a 9-7 lead after Blanda booted three-pointers of 32 and 31 yards in the final period.

The Raiders sewed it up when Hewritt Dixon raced 27 yards for a touchdown and Blanda kicked a 45-yarder. Houston scored in the second quarter on a 28-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Hoyle Granger.

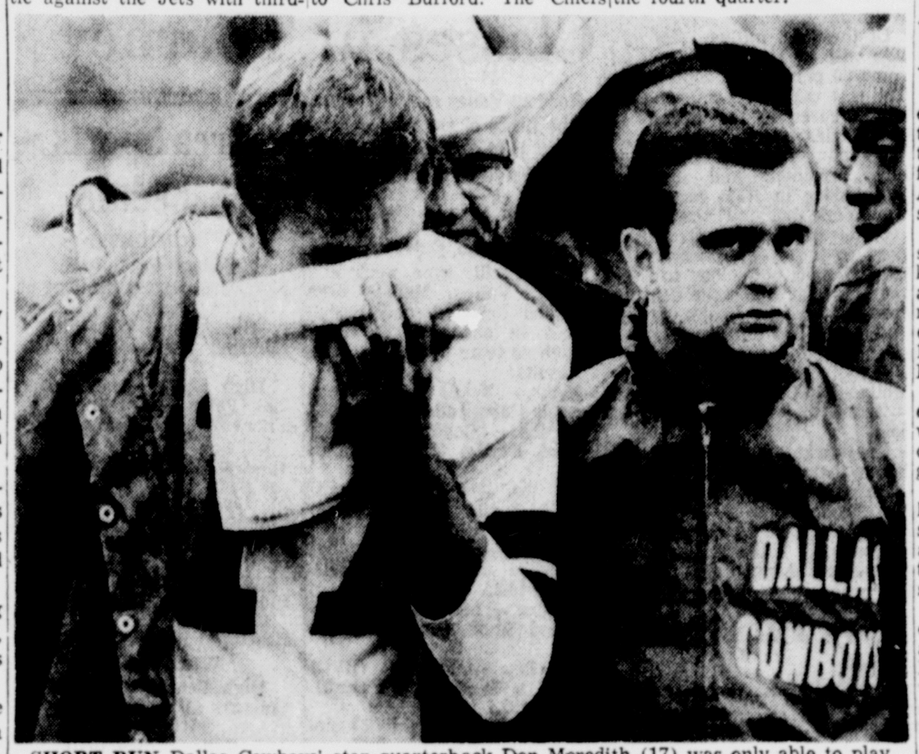

Leads in Scoring

Blanda, signed as a free agent by Oakland for his kicking and insurance quarterbacking, also kicked himself into the AFL scoring lead with 47 conversions and 19 of 28 field goals for 104 points.

Griese passed Miami into a 17-13 lead by hitting Doug Moreau for 10 yards, and then the 22-year-old rookie showed he could use his feet, too, by scoring on a one-yard run.

After San Diego closed to within 27-24 Griese passed 13 yards to Howard Twilley for a TD.

Kansas City broke a scoreless tie against the Jets with third-period touchdowns on Curtis McClinton's one-yard run and an 11-yard pass from Len Dawson to Chris Burford. The Chiefs clinched it on Fred Williamson's 77-yard return of an intercepted pass for a TD to make it 21-0 in the fourth quarter.

SHORT RUN Dallas Cowboys' star quarterback Don Meredith (17) was only able to play a few minutes during first quarter against Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles' defensive tackles broke his nose. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Leo Stars In Debut

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Leo's exciting pro debut was the main talking point today as the Boston Patriots began preparations for the finale of their dismal American Football League season at Miami next Sunday.

The former Harvard star sparkled on several punt and kickoff returns and also caught a touchdown pass in the waning moments to provide the lone encouraging sign in the Pats' 44-16 loss to the Buffalo Bills at Fenway Park Saturday.

"He did as well as you could ever expect," Coach Mike Holovak said. I'd say he was our one bright spot in the whole game.

"I've never had a guy start his pro career so late in the season," Holovak added. 'It's not an ideal way to break in. But he took his licks well. That's the sign."

Leo, who spent the early part of the season in military service and then worked out with the Patriots' taxi squad for several weeks before being activated, said he wasn't particularly nervous for his debut.

He indicated that this was largely because of the meaningless aspects of the game as far as the teams were concerned. Both are out of the running for Eastern Division honors.

'Usually I go into a game with butterflies in my stomach, but I didn't have them this time," Leo said. "It's tough to get excited about a game like this. If a championship or something is at stake, then you're more nervous."

Butterflies or not, Leo was the primary attraction to many fans and experts as they waited to see whether he could make the big adjustment from Ivy League football to the rougher pro variety.

He gave the answer, standing up well under the knocks as he returned six kickoffs for 117 yards, almost went all the way on a 43-yard punt return, and played at the flanker position on several series, finally combining with quarterback Babe Parilli on a 25-yard scoring pass play.

'It's pretty rugged out there," Leo said afterwards. "They hit hard. I wasn't disappointed."

"He's got a lot of smarts," said Buffalo punter Paul MaGuire, who had the best view of Leo's spectacular punt return and eventually wound up tackling the Patriot rookie himself to prevent the touchdown.

Corbin's performance sparked the University of Miami to a 20-13 victory in its traditional grudge match against the University of Florida Gators.

"I was tired and I kept thinking any second somebody would catch me. I couldn't picture myself outrunning their fast backs," Corbin said after his first interception and the ensuing 80-yard runback in the first quarter.

In the third quarter, after a 45-yard runback on the other interception, Corbin said: "I had confidence on the second run."

Corbin's teammates used to call him CBH, which was short for "Concrete Block Hands," and Miami Coach Charlie Tate dubbed him "Board Hands."

But Tate said Corbin lost his nicknames on Saturday.

The 6-foot-2 Corbin only had the chance to make the interceptions because sophomore Dick Sorenson was out with injuries. All season in second and long yardage or third and long defensive situations Sorenson has replaced Corbin. But not Saturday.

Racks Up 39.04 Points in First Match Play

Big Bob Shelightner achieved the rather difficult feat of winning eight straight head-to-head matches Sunday to take the early lead in the Daily Freeman-Chamber of Commerce Individual All Star Classic at Ferraro's Bowlerama.

Shelightner bowled over four straight opponents to pile up 39.04 Petersen points in opening individual play with 8 wins and a pinfall of 1554.

Veteran Charlie Manfro, who won five games and lost three, moved into second place with 36.28 points. Bob Overfield also won 5 and lost 3 but had smaller pinfall than Manfro and settled for third place with 36.03 points.

Manfro's 1578 total for the eight games led the field and was 24 pins higher than Shelightner. But the latter picked up ground with the eight wins.

BOB SHELIGHTNER

Petersen Points are allotted as follows: 1 point for each game won and 1 point for each 50 pins knocked down. Fractional points also are carried.

Has Couple Breaks

The pins fell in Shelightner's favor to preserve his 8-0 streak. He was able to beat Rudi Hohenberger 148-133 and topped John Ferraro, 178-149. In his other game below "200," the Port Ewen blaster beat Vince Carpino, 182-136.

The leader posted 205-201 to sweep a pair from Chris Gallo and took Ferraro with 405, picking up 10 points against each opponent.

Manfro rolled high sets of 200, 219, 216 and 200. He swept Hohenberger with a 408 double and split his series with Carpino, Ferraro and Chris Gallo.

Overfield, one of the tournament surprises, also swept Hohenberger with a 406 double and split with Carpino, Ferraro Sr. and Gallo. He ran into the highest game of the day, a 253 by John Ferraro for one of his losses.

Trailing the three leaders are Carpino (4-4) with 34.11 points; Gallo (4-4), 34.08 points.

Jack Ferraro won three of eight games and finished with 33.22, while his father, also 3-5, posted 32.42. Hohenberger captured one of eight games to place eighth with 28.15 points.

Carpino Bombs 460

Ferraro Jr., had better pinnage than either Gallo or Carpino but ran into a buzzsaw in his two-game set with Carpino, who blasted a 460 double off solos of 235-225. Ferraro was a double loser with fine games of 208-202.

Shelightner's lead is far from secure and in next Sunday's (2 p. m.) finals he must face Manfro and Overfield. The title is still "in the wood" for nearly the entire field, depending, of course on who can knock down the big games.

Scoring conditions were tough on lanes 31-38 Sunday as is evidenced by the failure of any bowler to bag a 1600 score.

Next Sunday's finals will crown the first officially recognized Ulster County match game champion. The winner receives $100 in cash and the Freeman-C of C trophy. Second place is worth $50 and a trophy.

Fisher Fires 298 Solo in Mixer

Joseph Fisher was in a rut for two games in the Ferraro Sunday Mixer. He had 150 and 157.

Then Joe caught on fire like never before in his career and proceeded to startle onlookers with a sizzling 298 solo to bring fame and a heap of honors to his household.

Fisher rolled 11 strikes in a row and then on the fateful 12th ball crossed over to the 1-2 (Brooklyn or Jersey) side and drew the 5-9 setup.

For his heroic stint, Fisher not only earned the plaudits of his league mates, but also qualified for a 298 ring, a sterling membership card in the 11-In-A-Row Club and the Century Award emblem, all through the courtesy of the American Bowling Congress.

How's that for a fellow who rolled only 307 in his first two games. Oh yes, Joe's three-game total amounted to 605 — also high for the league.

Other qualifiers: Bruce Hinkley 202-577, Fred Brinkman 203-221-570; Keith Kempton 212-584, Austin Cullen 200-568, John J. Spada 216-563, Doug Tyler 211-557, George Acker 554, Mike Gervini 546, Frank Bartroff 545, Orville Klomps 225-541, Bob Myers 541, Rose Schatzel 491.

Will Real Owner Stand Up?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Will the real owner of the Philadelphia Eagles' football team please stand up?

For the next day or so at least, financially-troubled builder-sportsman Jerry Wolman is the owner of the National Football League franchise — on paper and in practice.

But when the 40-year-old Wolman signs a $14.5 million deal—probably Wednesday — with a group headed by Norman S. Raab, a clothing manufacturer, he is expected to become a mere figurehead.

Technically, he won't be selling the Eagles. He'll be attempting to borrow his way out of a financial crisis in other business interests brought on by "a tight money market," according to Wolman.

Of the $14.5 million, $2.5 million will be the actual sale of some 30 per cent of club stock. The rest will be as a three-year loan secured by the balance of the Eagles' stock.

Wolman remains listed as club president and majority stockholder in NFL records in New York, but until the loan is repaid, effective control will pass to the Raab interests.

This, said one close to Wolman is what made the deal attractive to the Raab group. Raab and his brother, Max — who tried to buy an American Football League franchise for Philadelphia several years ago —figure they have nothing to lose.

They want a team and the worse that could happen to them is to wind up with 30 per cent of the Eagles and a financially-healthy majority stockholder in Wolman. If Wolman fails, they would get the whole ball of wax.

Singles Spree Helped Roberto

CINCINNATI (AP) — You've still got to hit singles—and a lot of them—if you want to win the National League's batting championships.

The league's official 1967 batting records bear this out. Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates won the crown for the fourth time with a .357 batting average. His "singles average" was a lot higher than that—.713.

Clemente went to bat 585 times to accumulate the best hitting average of his 13-year major league career. He collected a total of 209 hits and drove in 110 runs—second only to Orlando Cepeda's 111 Clemente's hits included 150 singles, 26 doubles, 10 triples and 23 home runs.

In fact, only one of the top six batters came up with a "singles average" of less than .700, and home run king Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves, who hit 39 homers and 105 singles, wound up in a seventh-place tie with Richie Allen of Philadelphia. Both batted .307 for the season.

The top six batters, with their batting averages and "singles averages" (in parentheses) were:

Roberto Clemente, Pittsgurgh, .357 (.713); Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia, .339 (.744); Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, .338 (.839); Curt Flood, St. Louis, .335 (.825); Rusty Staub, .333 (.709) and Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, .325 (.661).

Aaron, with his 39 home runs, still accumulated a "singles average" of .570 and drove in 109 runs for third place in that department. It was his fourth home run crown.

The Atlanta outfielder also tied Lou Brock of St. Louis for the most runs scored with 113. Noone came near Brock's total of 52 stolen bases—or the 18 times he was caught stealing.

Maury Wills of the Pirates hit more singles than anybody else —162—and tied the league record by leading in that category four times. His final batting average of .302 put him in a tie for ninth place and his "singles average" was .871.

Jewish Center All-Stars Drop One to Albany, 75-55

Kingston Jewish Community Center All-Stars dropped a league contest to Albany JCC, 75-55, at the winner's court Saturday, to bring their league record to 1-1.

Albany led 15-14 after the first quarter and 29-24 at the half. They outscored Kingston 29-8 in the first quarter to bring the tally to 58-32 and then outlasted a last period comback by Kingston to take the win.

Dave Goldman led the Kingston squad with 14 points off seven field goals. Joe Clair was high for Albany with 21 markers off seven field goals and seven free throws.

Too Much Bench

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Joe Ripmaster was on the university of Colorado football squad for two seasons and never left the bench. This year when he was sent in with the kickoff team late in the game with Iowa State, Rip injured his knee and had to be helped off the field.

Harris Fights Barreto Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris, boxing's latest eccentric, takes off his mink bow tie and mink cufflinks and dons his flaming red trunks and red shoes tonight in a bid for his 23rd straight victory.

Harris is slated to go 10 rounds against Miguel Barreto, of Puerto Rico, in a fight Gypsy's manager says is a prelude to a welterweight title shot at champion Curtis Cokes in Dallas next month.

Harris beat Barreto last August in a tough and very close fight in which many booed the verdict. The bald Philadelphian, rated No. 1 in the welterweight rankings by the World Boxing Association, is expected to weigh 154 against 145 or 146 for Barreto.

Barreto's manager, Woody Larroseaux, claims the Puerto Rican hurt both hands in the fourth round of the last fight against Harris and expressed confidence his man would inflict Gypsy's first defeat.

Barreto, who boasts a 17-2 record and kayoed Dick French Nov. 9 in his latest start, says he knows now how to combat the unorthodox Harris.

Racks Up 39.04 Points in First Match Play

Big Bob Shelightner achieved the rather difficult feat of winning eight straight head-to-head matches Sunday to take the early lead in the Daily Freeman-Chamber of Commerce Individual All Star Classic at Ferraro's Bowlerama.

Shelightner bowled over four straight opponents to pile up 39.04 Petersen points in opening individual play with 8 wins and a pinfall of 1554.

Veteran Charlie Manfro, who won five games and lost three, moved into second place with 36.28 points. Bob Overfield also won 5 and lost 3 but had smaller pinfall than Manfro and settled for third place with 36.03 points.

Manfro's 1578 total for the eight games led the field and was 24 pins higher than Shelightner. But the latter picked up ground with the eight wins.

BOB SHELIGHTNER

Petersen Points are allotted as follows: 1 point for each game won and 1 point for each 50 pins knocked down. Fractional points also are carried.

Has Couple Breaks

The pins fell in Shelightner's favor to preserve his 8-0 streak. He was able to beat Rudi Hohenberger 148-133 and topped John Ferraro, 178-149. In his other game below "200," the Port Ewen blaster beat Vince Carpino, 182-136.

The leader posted 205-201 to sweep a pair from Chris Gallo and took Ferraro with 405, picking up 10 points against each opponent.

Manfro rolled high sets of 200, 219, 216 and 200. He swept Hohenberger with a 408 double and split his series with Carpino, Ferraro and Chris Gallo.

Overfield, one of the tournament surprises, also swept Hohenberger with a 406 double and split with Carpino, Ferraro Sr. and Gallo. He ran into the highest game of the day, a 253 by John Ferraro for one of his losses.

Trailing the three leaders are Carpino (4-4) with 34.11 points; Gallo (4-4), 34.08 points.

Jack Ferraro won three of eight games and finished with 33.22, while his father, also 3-5, posted 32.42. Hohenberger captured one of eight games to place eighth with 28.15 points.

Carpino Bombs 460

Ferraro Jr., had better pinnage than either Gallo or Carpino but ran into a buzzsaw in his two-game set with Carpino, who blasted a 460 double off solos of 235-225. Ferraro was a double loser with fine games of 208-202.

Shelightner's lead is far from secure and in next Sunday's (2 p. m.) finals he must face Manfro and Overfield. The title is still "in the wood" for nearly the entire field, depending, of course on who can knock down the big games.

Scoring conditions were tough on lanes 31-38 Sunday as is evidenced by the failure of any bowler to bag a 1600 score.

Next Sunday's finals will crown the first officially recognized Ulster County match game champion. The winner receives $100 in cash and the Freeman-C of C trophy. Second place is worth $50 and a trophy.

FREEPORT, Bahamas (AP) —Jean-Pierre Beltoise, France, roared to victory Sunday in the International Formula V Sports Car Championship.

Fisher Fires 298 Solo in Mixer

Joseph Fisher was in a rut for two games in the Ferraro Sunday Mixer. He had 150 and 157.

Then Joe caught on fire like never before in his career and proceeded to startle onlookers with a sizzling 298 solo to bring fame and a heap of honors to his household.

Fisher rolled 11 strikes in a row and then on the fateful 12th ball crossed over to the 1-2 (Brooklyn or Jersey) side and drew the 5-9 setup.

For his heroic stint, Fisher not only earned the plaudits of his league mates, but also qualified for a 298 ring, a sterling membership card in the 11-In-A-Row Club and the Century Award emblem, all through the courtesy of the American Bowling Congress.

How's that for a fellow who rolled only 307 in his first two games. Oh yes, Joe's three-game total amounted to 605 — also high for the league.

Other qualifiers: Bruce Hinkley 202-577, Fred Brinkman 203-221-570; Keith Kempton 212-584, Austin Cullen 200-568, John J. Spada 216-563, Doug Tyler 211-557, George Acker 554, Mike Gervini 546, Frank Bartroff 545, Orville Klomps 225-541, Bob Myers 541, Rose Schatzel 491.

Will Real Owner Stand Up?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Will the real owner of the Philadelphia Eagles' football team please stand up?

For the next day or so at least, financially-troubled builder-sportsman Jerry Wolman is the owner of the National Football League franchise — on paper and in practice.

But when the 40-year-old Wolman signs a $14.5 million deal—probably Wednesday — with a group headed by Norman S. Raab, a clothing manufacturer, he is expected to become a mere figurehead.

Technically, he won't be selling the Eagles. He'll be attempting to borrow his way out of a financial crisis in other business interests brought on by "a tight money market," according to Wolman.

Of the $14.5 million, $2.5 million will be the actual sale of some 30 per cent of club stock. The rest will be as a three-year loan secured by the balance of the Eagles' stock.

Wolman remains listed as club president and majority stockholder in NFL records in New York, but until the loan is repaid, effective control will pass to the Raab interests.

This, said one close to Wolman is what made the deal attractive to the Raab group. Raab and his brother, Max — who tried to buy an American Football League franchise for Philadelphia several years ago —figure they have nothing to lose.

They want a team and the worse that could happen to them is to wind up with 30 per cent of the Eagles and a financially-healthy majority stockholder in Wolman. If Wolman fails, they would get the whole ball of wax.

Singles Spree Helped Roberto

CINCINNATI (AP) — You've still got to hit singles—and a lot of them—if you want to win the National League's batting championships.

The league's official 1967 batting records bear this out. Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates won the crown for the fourth time with a .357 batting average. His "singles average" was a lot higher than that—.713.

Clemente went to bat 585 times to accumulate the best hitting average of his 13-year major league career. He collected a total of 209 hits and drove in 110 runs—second only to Orlando Cepeda's 111. Clemente's hits included 150 singles, 26 doubles, 10 triples and 23 home runs.

In fact, only one of the top six batters came up with a "singles average" of less than .700, and home run king Henry Aaron of the Atlanta Braves, who hit 39 homers and 105 singles, wound up in a seventh-place tie with Richie Allen of Philadelphia. Both batted .307 for the season.

The top six batters, with their batting averages and "singles averages" (in parentheses) were:

Roberto Clemente, Pittsgurgh, .357 (.713); Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia, .339 (.744); Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, .338 (.839); Curt Flood, St. Louis, .335 (.825); Rusty Staub, .333 (.709) and Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, .325 (.661).

Aaron, with his 39 home runs, still accumulated a "singles average" of .570 and drove in 109 runs for third place in that department. It was his fourth home run crown.

The Atlanta outfielder also tied Lou Brock of St. Louis for the most runs scored with 113. Noone came near Brock's total of 52 stolen bases—or the 18 times he was caught stealing.

Maury Wills of the Pirates hit more singles than anybody else —162—and tied the league record by leading in that category four times. His final batting average of .302 put him in a tie for ninth place and his "singles average" was .871.

Jewish Center All-Stars Drop One to Albany, 75-55

Kingston Jewish Community Center All-Stars dropped a league contest to Albany JCC, 75-55, at the winner's court Saturday, to bring their league record to 1-1.

Albany led 15-14 after the first quarter and 29-24 at the half. They outscored Kingston 29-8 in the first quarter to bring the tally to 58-32 and then outlasted a last period comback by Kingston to take the win.

Dave Goldman led the Kingston squad with 14 points off seven field goals. Joe Clair was high for Albany with 21 markers off seven field goals and seven free throws.

Harris Fights Barreto Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris, boxing's latest eccentric, takes off his mink bow tie and mink cufflinks and dons his flaming red trunks and red shoes tonight in a bid for his 23rd straight victory.

Harris is slated to go 10 rounds against Miguel Barreto, of Puerto Rico, in a fight Gypsy's manager says is a prelude to a welterweight title shot at champion Curtis Cokes in Dallas next month.

Harris beat Barreto last August in a tough and very close fight in which many booed the verdict. The bald Philadelphian, rated No. 1 in the welterweight rankings by the World Boxing Association, is expected to weigh 154 against 145 or 146 for Barreto.

Barreto's manager, Woody Larroseaux, claims the Puerto Rican hurt both hands in the fourth round of the last fight against Harris and expressed confidence his man would inflict Gypsy's first defeat.

Barreto, who boasts a 17-2 record and kayoed Dick French Nov. 9 in his latest start, says he knows now how to combat the unorthodox Harris.

Lucy Promises Rare Treat for Movie Fans

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Long-memoried movie fans draw a rare treat tonight with the appearance of Richard Arlen and Buddy Rogers on "The Lucy Show."

Ah, visions of biplanes dog fighting in the sky ("You can't send those boys up in those flying coffins!") and marcelled footballers battling it out on the gridiron ("Put me in, coach—I know I can win it.") Arlen and Rogers were part of the glittering Paramount team during the 1920s and 1930s.

Good Plot

They are turning up on Lucille Ball's show as a piece of inspired casting. The plot has Lucille and Carol Burnett graduating as airline hostesses and joining the hedge-hopping airline of Arlen and Rogers. The point is that Arlen and Rogers starred in "Wings," made just 40 years ago.

Time has been kind to both stars. Arlen is 67 but still trim of frame and luxuriant of hair. Buddy's curly locks have receded a bit, but he retains his ruddy-faced handsomeness at 63. Arlen has continued his acting career, appearing in the westerns of producer A. C. Lyles, as well as making forays to the lecture circuit. Rogers has dabbled in production and watches after the investments of himself and his wife, Mary Pickford.

The two old friends met for a post-taping lunch at the old home lot, Paramount, and talked naturally drifted back to "Wings."

"I was making $200 a week at the time, and they couldn't afford to drop me," said Arlen. "I had borrowed so much money from the studio that they had to keep me on until I repaid it. That was a trick I had learned from Bill Boyd, who later became Hopalong Cassidy. He had done the same thing when he was signed by Paramount."

"I was making $75 a week, but they only gave me $65," said Rogers. "They took $10 a week out for a suit they had given me.

"That made me sore. Here we were, doing our own flying in 'Wings'—and being our own cameramen as well; the cameras were strapped to the plane and we'd turn them on and off. Well, one day I had to make a forced landing in a cornfield, and I came back hopping mad. I was risking my life for Paramount and the studio was taking 10 lousy bucks out of my paycheck for a suit of clothes!"

Both actors had the last word. Within a few years Arlen was being paid $5,000 a week on a 52-week-per-year contract. And Rogers' pay jumped to $10,000.

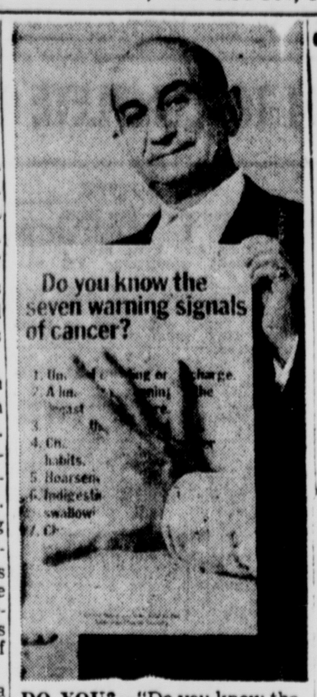

They found ways to get rid of the money. Rogers' delight was a car built especially for the Dupont family.

Earthquake Reported in Western India

BOMBAY (AP) — An earthquake shook Western India before dawn today, and the Maharashtra state government said 60 persons were killed at Koyna, 200 miles south of Bombay.

A report in New Delhi told of only two dead but said 500 were injured.

The report from the state government, said most of the casualties occurred near Koynanagar, a town of 10,000 built for workers at the giant Koyna hydroelectric dam and plant.

The government said the Koyna dam was not damaged but another hydroelectric plant at Khopoli, between Bombay and Poona, was put out of commission.

GI's Die in Texas

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Richard L. Mess, 26, an Army military policeman from Hornell, N.Y., died Friday when the automobile in which he was riding struck the side of a moving freight in El Paso.

Also killed in the accident was William C. Machacek, 21, of Lyons, Ill. Authorities said the two servicemen were off duty at the time of the accident.

Lucy Promises Rare Treat for Movie Fans

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Long-memoried movie fans draw a rare treat tonight with the appearance of Richard Arlen and Buddy Rogers on "The Lucy Show."

Ah, visions of biplanes dog fighting in the sky ("You can't send those boys up in those flying coffins!") and marcelled footballers battling it out on the gridiron ("Put me in, coach—I know I can win it.") Arlen and Rogers were part of the glittering Paramount team during the 1920s and 1930s.

Good Plot

They are turning up on Lucille Ball's show as a piece of inspired casting. The plot has Lucille and Carol Burnett graduating as airline hostesses and joining the hedge-hopping airline of Arlen and Rogers. The point is that Arlen and Rogers starred in "Wings," made just 40 years ago.

Time has been kind to both stars. Arlen is 67 but still trim of frame and luxuriant of hair. Buddy's curly locks have receded a bit, but he retains his ruddy-faced handsomeness at 63. Arlen has continued his acting career, appearing in the westerns of producer A. C. Lyles, as well as making forays to the lecture circuit. Rogers has dabbled in production and watches after the investments of himself and his wife, Mary Pickford.

The two old friends met for a post-taping lunch at the old home lot, Paramount, and talked naturally drifted back to "Wings."

"I was making $200 a week at the time, and they couldn't afford to drop me," said Arlen. "I had borrowed so much money from the studio that they had to keep me on until I repaid it. That was a trick I had learned from Bill Boyd, who later became Hopalong Cassidy. He had done the same thing when he was signed by Paramount."

"I was making $75 a week, but they only gave me $65," said Rogers. "They took $10 a week out for a suit they had given me.

"That made me sore. Here we were, doing our own flying in 'Wings'—and being our own cameramen as well; the cameras were strapped to the plane and we'd turn them on and off. Well, one day I had to make a forced landing in a cornfield, and I came back hopping mad. I was risking my life for Paramount and the studio was taking 10 lousy bucks out of my paycheck for a suit of clothes!"

Both actors had the last word. Within a few years Arlen was being paid $5,000 a week on a 52-week-per-year contract. And Rogers' pay jumped to $10,000.

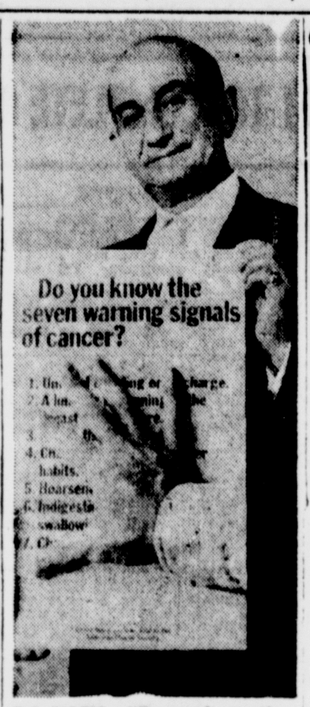

They found ways to get rid of the money. Rogers' delight was a car built especially for the Dupont family.

LOW SENIORITY — SACRAMENTO, CALIF: Office space at the State Capitol is a little short during extensive remodeling and what space is available is being assigned to legislators on a seniority basis. Assemblyman Floyd Wakefield has obviously found out that a freshman legislator doesn't have much seniority. When they assigned him to the men's room on the 4th floor they promised he would have a better office very soon, but he's been here since September. (UPI TELEPHO

GOP Governors Set To Determine Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, so far reluctant to put themselves behind any single presidential hopeful, are determined to make themselves a force in shaping the issues on which the GOP candidate will run.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee fixed that goal today as the party leadership conferred at a session of the Republican coordinating committee.

Their priority target now is a share of the leadership of the platform committee at the next national convention. The governors' candidate for that role is Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is in line to be the platform chairman. Chafee, the chairman of the Republican Governors Association, acknowledged there is little the governors can do beyond asking National Chairman Ray C. Bliss to give Shafer a share of the platform job.

"We'll just have to be quite forceful in saying how much we want Gov. Shafer," Chafee said. Twenty-six strong, "the governors represent a very substantial force in the Republican party," Chafee said.

They expressed discontent with what they considered congressional dominance of the party policy-making machinery.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller contended in Palm Beach that the administrative know-how of the state house should be blended with legislative experience in shaping party policy. And Arizona's Jack Williams complained congressional Republicans tend to become "national-minded" and lose touch with state problems.

While the governors contented themselves with talk of policy, not of candidates, Colorado's John A. Love said they will still be a potent force when the time arrives to select a nominee.

Love, who has not stated a presidential preference, said timing will be a key factor in exerting gubernatorial influence. He said that's why most of the governors are unwilling now to align themselves with any candidate. "I think to jump too soon is going to be a disadvantage, as well as to go too late," he said.

Chafee, who wants Michigan Gov. George Romney nominated for president, blamed political problems at home for the governors' inability to mass their power behind any single candidate now. "Many of them feel that by choosing one candidate they would be a devisive force," Chafee said.

Chafee said there is "a good chance that a majority of the governors" will be publicly aligned with one of the presidential candidates by the time they confer again early in June.

In other political developments:

—It was learned that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who still hasn't announced his expected candidacy for the GOP nomination, has made tentative reservations for 100 rooms in a Miami Beach, Fla., hotel during the week the Republican national convention will be held there.

—Mrs. John F. Kennedy ended the self-imposed political exile that began with the assassination of her husband to attend a New York Democratic fund-raising dinner. Mrs. Kennedy, who received a standing tribute from those attending the $500-a-plate dinner, said later of the affair: "I loved it."

Committee Formed for Charter Items

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Thirteen delegates to the recent Constitutional Convention — eight of them from New York City — have formed a non - partisan committee to salvage "good government" features of the defeated constitution.

Assemblyman S. William Green, R - Manhattan, and former Democratic Assemblyman Bentley Kassal, chairman of the state chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action, head the committee.

They said the group would seek approval of sections that would:

— Authorize citizens suits to bar unconstitutional action.

—Broaden the governor's power to reorganize executive departments.

— Grant the right of trial by jury on misdemeanor charges in New York City.

—Give greater powers to state and local governments for community and economic development.

The 13 group members:

Armand L. Adams, Ithaca, Frederic P. Norton, Kenmore, Joseph V. Reed Jr., Manhattan, Raymond J. Rice, Manhasset, James M. White, Rochester, Franklin R. Weissberg, Manhattan, all Republicans.

David Bromberg, Manhattan, George D. Covington, Manhattan, Mrs. Hortense W. Gabel, Manhattan, Arthur Levitt Jr., Manhattan, Neal P. McCurn, Syracuse, Leonard B. Sand, Manhattan, and Jack J. Weisser, Manhattan, all Democrats.

Pollution Controls Considered

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Communities could curtail the use of gasoline - powered automobiles, busses and trucks during air - pollution emergencies, under a proposal being considered by a Senate-Assembly study committee.

The proposal was contained in a broad policy outline reported Sunday by the Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety. Details remain to be developed.

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-East Meadow, the committee chairman, said the growing air pollution program "requires as a matter of health and survival that gasoline internal combustion engines, which cause 50 per cent of it, be banished during emergencies."

Speno added that he believed most private vehicles used in urban areas should be and eventually would be operated by electric batteries or fuel - cell propulsion.

The proposal will be aired, along with other traffic measures, at a public hearing next Thursday in the Capitol.

The committee also will seek public opinion on measures that would:

—Require three hours of driver education as a prerequisite to licensing.

—Establish an accident investigation team of medical and mechanical experts to make on-the-scene studies of the causes of accidents.

—Set up a highway planning review board to prevent unnecessary road construction.

— Require "safety labelling" of automobiles, as a guide to consumers.

WANT-AD WONDERS Trade Mark

MAN RECEIVES "DUCKY" REPLIES TO WANT AD

A family doctor in London started something when he advertised for a mate for his pet Muscovy drake. He got a flood of replies — but from women wanting to marry him. "Dear Duckey", began one letter. The doctor, already married, hastily inserted another ad. This one announced that the drake had lost interest.

LOW SENIORITY — SACRAMENTO, CALIF: Office space at the State Capitol is a little short during extensive remodeling and what space is available is being assigned to legislators on a seniority basis. Assemblyman Floyd Wakefield has obviously found out that a freshman legislator doesn't have much seniority. When they assigned him to the men's room on the 4th floor they promised he would have a better office very soon, but he's been here since September. (UPI TELEPHO

GOP Governors Set To Determine Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, so far reluctant to put themselves behind any single presidential hopeful, are determined to make themselves a force in shaping the issues on which the GOP candidate will run.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee fixed that goal today as the party leadership conferred at a session of the Republican coordinating committee.

The governors' three-day conference in Palm Beach, Fla., turned out to be another gathering of the presidentially nonaligned. That left the state executives with national policy-making efforts as their current avenue to influence the 1968 campaign.

Their priority target now is a share of the leadership of the platform committee at the next national convention. The governors' candidate for that role is Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is in line to be the platform chairman, Chafee, the chairman of the Republican Governors Association, acknowledged there is little the governors can do beyond asking National Chairman Ray C. Bliss to give Shafer a share of the platform job.

"We'll just have to be quite forceful in saying how much we want Gov. Shafer," Chafee said. Twenty-six strong, "the governors represent a very substantial force in the Republican party," Chafee said.

They expressed discontent with what they considered congressional dominance of the party policy-making machinery.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller contended in Palm Beach that the administrative know-how of the state house should be blended with legislative experience in shaping party policy. And Arizona's Jack Williams complained congressional Republicans tend to become "national-minded" and lose touch with state problems.

While the governors contented themselves with talk of policy, not of candidates, Colorado's John A. Love said they will still be a potent force when the time arrives to select a nominee.

Love, who has not stated a presidential preference, said timing will be a key factor in exerting gubernatorial influence. He said that's why most of the governors are unwilling now to align themselves with any candidate. "I think to jump too soon is going to be a disadvantage, as well as to go too late," he said.

Chafee, who wants Michigan Gov. George Romney nominated for president, blamed political problems at home for the governors' inability to mass their power behind any single candidate now. "Many of them feel that by choosing one candidate they would be a devisive force," Chafee said.

Chafee said there is "a good chance that a majority of the governors" will be publicly aligned with one of the presidential candidates by the time they confer again early in June.

In other political developments:

—It was learned that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who still hasn't announced his expected candidacy for the GOP nomination, has made tentative reservations for 100 rooms in a Miami Beach, Fla., hotel during the week the Republican national convention will be held there.

—Mrs. John F. Kennedy ended the self-imposed political exile that began with the assassination of her husband to attend a New York Democratic fund-raising dinner. Mrs. Kennedy, who received a standing tribute from those attending the $500-a-plate dinner, said later of the affair: "I loved it."

Pollution Controls Considered

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Communities could curtail the use of gasoline - powered automobiles, busses and trucks during air - pollution emergencies, under a proposal being considered by a Senate-Assembly study committee.

The proposal was contained in a broad policy outline reported Sunday by the Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety. Details remain to be developed.

Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-East Meadow, the committee chairman, said the growing air pollution program "requires as a matter of health and survival that gasoline internal combustion engines, which cause 50 per cent of it, be banished during emergencies."

Speno added that he believed most private vehicles used in urban areas should be and eventually would be operated by electric batteries or fuel - cell propulsion.

The proposal will be aired, along with other traffic measures, at a public hearing next Thursday in the Capitol.

The committee also will seek public opinion on measures that would:

—Require three hours of driver education as a prerequisite to licensing.

—Establish an accident investigation team of medical and mechanical experts to make on-the-scene studies of the causes of accidents.

—Set up a highway planning review board to prevent unnecessary road construction.

— Require "safety labelling" of automobiles, as a guide to consumers.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that I, Raymond W. Garraghan, Mayor of the City of Kingston, New York, will conduct a Public Hearing on Wednesday, December 13, 1967, at 10:00 A. M. in the Common Council Chambers, City Hall, Kingston, New York relative to the proposed Local Law:

1. Compensation of the City Judge.

ELEANOR M. BRUHN
Deputy City Clerk

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, BY THE GRACE OF GOD FREE AND INDEPENDENT.

To JOSEPHINE PASENTI

GREETINGS:

YOU AND EACH OF YOU ARE HEREBY CITED TO SHOW CAUSE at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster at the Surrogate's Office in the City of Kingston, N. Y., on the 2nd day of January, 1968, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why a certain instrument in writing, dated July 28, 1961 relating to both real and personal estate, presented to said Surrogate's Court, should not be proved, admitted to probate and recorded as the last Will and Testament of JOSEPH F. PASENTI, late of the Town of Rochester, Ulster County, deceased, upon petition of CLARA B. PASENTI of the Village of High Falls, the Executrix named therein.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused the seal of said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS, Hon. ARTHUR A. DAVIS, JR., Surrogate of our said County of Ulster, at Kingston, N. Y., this 16th day of November, 1967.

[L. S.]

/s/ MATTHEW A. WEISHAUPT JR., Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

Committee Formed for Charter Items

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Thirteen delegates to the recent Constitutional Convention — eight of them from New York City — have formed a non - partisan committee to salvage "good government" features of the defeated constitution.

Assemblyman S. William Green, R - Manhattan, and former Democratic Assemblyman Bentley Kassal, chairman of the state chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action, head the committee.

They said the group would seek approval of sections that would:

— Authorize citizens suits to bar unconstitutional action.

—Broaden the governor's power to reorganize executive departments.

— Grant the right of trial by jury on misdemeanor charges in New York City.

—Give greater powers to state and local governments for community and economic development.

The 13 group members:

Armand L. Adams, Ithaca, Frederic P. Norton, Kenmore, Joseph V. Reed Jr., Manhattan, Raymond J. Rice, Manhasset, James M. White, Rochester, Franklin R. Weissberg, Manhattan, all Republicans.

David Bromberg, Manhattan, George D. Covington, Manhattan, Mrs. Hortense W. Gabel, Manhattan, Arthur Levitt Jr., Manhattan, Neal P. McCurn, Syracuse, Leonard B. Sand, Manhattan, and Jack J. Weisser, Manhattan, all Democrats.

WANT-AD WONDERS Trade Mark

MAN RECEIVES "DUCKY" REPLIES TO WANT AD

A family doctor in London started something when he advertised for a mate for his pet Muscovy drake. He got a flood of replies — but from women wanting to marry him. "Dear Duckey", began one letter. The doctor, already married, hastily inserted another ad. This one announced that the drake had lost interest.

Dear Abby

Lots of Husbands Are True

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1967 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I suspected my husband of being untrue to me, so I went to lawyer about a separation or divorce. My husband denies any unfaithfulness and he wants us back together again. (We have children).

My lawyer told me that every man is untrue to his wife at one time or another, and my husband is no exception. He said the most trusting a wife is, the better it is for her husband. It makes cheating easier.

Is this true, Abby? I just can't believe it. My husband is a good father, and he said he was happy with me in every way. My lawyer says I have two choices. Go back to my husband for the children's sake and put up with his cheating, or divorce him and raise my children alone. Please say something to help me. I love my husband, but I am so confused.

M IN FLA.

DEAR M: There are plenty of faithful married men, and your husband could be one of them. The only thing you can be sure of is that your lawyer cheats on his wife. Give your husband another chance.

DEAR ABBY: I work and make a pretty good salary. The guy I go with is still in college and he gets an allowance, which is almost as much as my salary, but he never seems to have any money. I am always helping him out with money for gas, cigarets, and movies. If he would ask me for a regular "loan" and pay me back, I wouldn't mind, but he always says he left his money in his other pants. He's real groovy otherwise and I really dig this guy. How should I handle it? DIGS HIM

DEAR DIGS: If you give him any more money, you left your brains in your other head. Lend him bus fare and tell this groovy guy to go home and get his wallet.

DEAR ABBY: I am 69 and my wife is a little older. In our younger years, unfortunately, I was too busy making a living to learn how to play cards. My complaint is that my wife goes out with a group of ladies who have been her lifelong friends and they play cards on the average of twice a week.

I have no objections to that except sometimes she doesn't get home until 1 o'clock in the morning. In the meantime I sit alone. She takes the car and picks up some of the others and at her age her reflexes could be slowing down and if she gets into an accident, that is all I need.

She says it is her "diversion."

I say, "Why can't we do something together for diversion?"

She thinks I'm selfish. Well, if worrying about her is selfish, then I'm selfish. Please print this with your answer, but don't use my name or town. I will be governed by your advice.

SELFISH

DEAR SELFISH: Are you honestly worried about your wife? Or are you a little jealous because her "diversion" does not include you? Don't expect your wife to give up her card playing after all these years. Occupy yourself on those nights, and you won't be so lonely, resentful, and worried.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "T and J": When I said, "Your marriage has little chance to succeed," I didn't necessarily mean it would probably end in divorce. There are many marriages today that are utter failures, tho undissolved.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars—

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1967

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Some plans concerning money may have to be revised. Be flexible. Catch up on correspondence. Open up additional avenues of information. If versatile, success crowns efforts.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): One close to you could make major concession. Might be in form of peacemaking gift. Be gracious. Appreciate friendly gestures. Avoid unreasonable attitude.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Some of your assignments, tasks may appear unclear. You will have to ask questions, obtain answers. Don't permit pride to stand in way of progress. Examine various procedures.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You may be tempted to go too far where pleasure is concerned. Key is a greater degree of self-discipline. Remember promises, responsibilities. Be considerate. Family needs attention.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): What you feel to be your ambition may be mere desire. Realize this and look deeply. Avoid superficial conclusions. Subtle influences appear to dominate. Wait for something solid.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Emphasis on travel, writing, expressing thoughts. Check files. Be sure of information. Be authoritative. The more confidence you show, the better. Others are observing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): News concerning money and secret methods is spotlighted. You find things out today. Base actions on knowledge that certain phase of activity is ended. Don't hang on to past.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Emphasis on how you deal with opposition. Today take initiative but keep guard up. Strive for breakthrough. Be creative enough to untangle red tape. Pay heed to partner.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Concentrate on how to accomplish goals. Seek contact through special group, organization. Not wise to alienate self from associates, co-workers. Be co-operative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Spotlight on romantic interests. Personal magnetism soars. Opposite sex attracted. Be generous without being extravagant. Wonderful for purchase of gift for child.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are on more solid ground. Especially good for discussing residence, home improvements, real estate. If thorough, you could make profitable deal. Genuine bargain is available.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Pleasant results indicated from special call or message. Keep communication lines open. Someone who can aid you are trying to get in touch.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have fine sense of humor, possess creative talent, including understanding of music. Would make good drama critic. You are restless, possess intellectual curiosity. One of your faults is being concerned with too much at once. Learn to concentrate your forces. Then the world could be your oyster.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for TAURUS, GEMINI. Special word to AQUARIUS: parent or those in authority tend to disagree. Don't get caught in middle of dispute.

Opening lead—♦ K

Jim: "How about a discussion of the rubber bridge tournament at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas in October?"

Oswald: "It is quite an event. If they also awarded Master Points, they would probably have 1,000 pairs entered. As it is, quite a few top experts go there to play for the prize money and to have a general good time. All matches are straight rubber bridge beginning with eight hands and getting longer as you stay in. Also the method of play insures three days of play for every entery with some chance to share in the prize money right up to sudden death matches on the third day."

Jim: "Since a match is a definite number of hands, there are some unusual situations that arise on the last hand. For instance, on this hand Curtis Smith and Bobby Nail of Houston needed to bid and make a grand slam to win the match. Bobby opened one no-trump with the North hand and Curtis jumped right to seven spades."

Oswald: "The bid would be silly in any other game, but I see that Curtis would make the hand if he played correctly. He did, didn't he?"

Jim: "He won the first trick with the diamond ace and played two rounds of spades, winding up in his own hand. Then he took the heart finesse successfully. Business was looking up."

Oswald: "Yes, it was. I assume he ruffed a diamond, entered dummy with the ace of hearts, ruffed another diamond, ruffed his last heart in dummy, ruffed dummy's next to last diamond and played out his last trump to discard a club from dummy."

Jim: "This also forced East to make his third discard of a club since he had to hang on to the jack of diamonds. Smith had a perfect count by this time and was able to make the last three tricks with clubs because each opponent was holding two clubs and it didn't matter where the queen was."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Pumpkins, a colorful symbol of opulent fall harvests, originated in Mexico and Central America, having been cultivated by the Indians long before the arrival of Columbus, says The World Almanac. Pumpkins are related to the squash and were used by the colonists to make pumpkin soup, stew, pudding, bread and griddle cakes, as well as pie.

DEAR ABBY: I am 69 and my wife is a little older. In our younger years, unfortunately, I was too busy making a living to learn how to play cards. My complaint is that my wife goes out with a group of ladies who have been her lifelong friends and they play cards on the average of twice a week.

I have no objections to that except sometimes she doesn't get home until 1 o'clock in the morning. In the meantime I sit alone. She takes the car and picks up some of the others and at her age her reflexes could be slowing down and if she gets into an accident, that is all I need.

She says it is her "diversion." I say, "Why can't we do something together for diversion?"

She thinks I'm selfish. Well, if worrying about her is selfish, then I'm selfish. Please print this with your answer, but don't use my name or town. I will be governed by your advice.

SELFISH

DEAR SELFISH: Are you honestly worried about your wife? Or are you a little jealous because her "diversion" does not include you? Don't expect your wife to give up her card playing after all these years. Occupy yourself on those nights, and you won't be so lonely, resentful, and worried.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "T and J": When I said, "Your marriage has little chance to succeed," I didn't necessarily mean it would probably end in divorce. There are many marriages today that are utter failures, tho undissolved.

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars—

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1967

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Some plans concerning money may have to be revised. Be flexible. Catch up on correspondence. Open up additional avenues of information. If versatile, success crowns efforts.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): One close to you could make major concession. Might be in form of peacemaking gift. Be gracious. Appreciate friendly gestures. Avoid unreasonable attitude.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Some of your assignments, tasks may appear unclear. You will have to ask questions, obtain answers. Don't permit pride to stand in way of progress. Examine various procedures.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You may be tempted to go too far where pleasure is concerned. Key is a greater degree of self-discipline. Remember promises, responsibilities. Be considerate. Family needs attention.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): What you feel to be your ambition may be mere desire. Realize this and look deeply. Avoid superficial conclusions. Subtle influences appear to dominate. Wait for something solid.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Emphasis on travel, writing, expressing thoughts. Check files. Be sure of information. Be authoritative. The more confidence you show, the better. Others are observing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): News concerning money and secret methods is spotlighted. You find things out today. Base actions on knowledge that certain phase of activity is ended. Don't hang on to past.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Emphasis on how you deal with opposition. Today take initiative but keep guard up. Strive for breakthrough. Be creative enough to untangle red tape. Pay heed to partner.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Concentrate on how to accomplish goals. Seek contact through special group, organization. Not wise to alienate self from associates, co-workers. Be co-operative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Spotlight on romantic interests. Personal magnetism soars. Opposite sex attracted. Be generous without being extravagant. Wonderful for purchase of gift for child.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are on more solid ground. Especially good for discussing residence, home improvements, real estate. If thorough, you could make profitable deal. Genuine bargain is available.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Pleasant results indicated from special call or message. Keep communication lines open. Some who can aid you are trying to get in touch.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have fine sense of humor, possess creative talent, including understanding of music. Would make good drama critic. You are restless, possess intellectual curiosity. One of your faults is being concerned with too much at once. Learn to concentrate your forces. Then the world could be your oyster.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for TAURUS, GEMINI. Special word to AQUARIUS: parent or those in authority tend to disagree. Don't get caught in middle of dispute.

Opening lead—♦ K

Jim: "How about a discussion of the rubber bridge tournament at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas in October?"

Oswald: "It is quite an event. If they also awarded Master Points, they would probably have 1,000 pairs entered. As it is, quite a few top experts go there to play for the prize money and to have a general good time. All matches are straight rubber bridge beginning with eight hands and getting longer as you stay in. Also the method of play insures three days of play for every entery with some chance to share in the prize money right up to sudden death matches on the third day."

Jim: "Since a match is a definite number of hands, there are some unusual situations that arise on the last hand. For instance, on this hand Curtis Smith and Bobby Nail of Houston needed to bid and make a grand slam to win the match. Bobby opened one no-trump with the North hand and Curtis jumped right to seven spades."

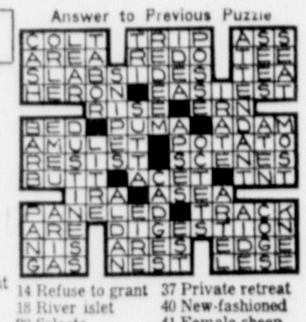

Oswald: "The bid would be silly in any other game, but I see that Curtis would make the hand if he played correctly. He did, didn't he?"

Jim: "He won the first trick with the diamond ace and played two rounds of spades, winding up in his own hand. Then he took the heart finesse successfully. Business was looking up."

Oswald: "Yes, it was. I assume he ruffed a diamond, entered dummy with the ace of hearts, ruffed another diamond, ruffed his last heart in dummy, ruffled dummy's next to last diamond and played out his last trump to discard a club from dummy."

Jim: "This also forced East to make his third discard of a club since he had to hang on to the jack of diamonds. Smith had a perfect count by this time and was able to make the last three tricks with clubs because each opponent was holding two clubs and it didn't matter where the queen was."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Pumpkins, a colorful symbol of opulent fall harvests, originated in Mexico and Central America, having been cultivated by the Indians long before the arrival of Columbus, says The World Almanac. Pumpkins are related to the squash and were used by the colonists to make pumpkin soup, stew, pudding, bread and griddle cakes, as well as pie.

White House Wedding Lovely

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewers may complain a bit these days about the "sameness" of television—The same old plots, the same old jokes, the same old faces. Maybe that is partly true, but there was a particularly interesting demonstration of diversity of programming over the weekend.

Anyone with a television set and access to a network channel on Saturday could have been the next best thing to an invited guest at the White House wedding of Lynda Bird Johnson. And it was a lovely, dignified wedding complete with radiant bride, handsome, uniformed bridegroom and beaming proud parents.

Sunday afternoon there was the usual choice of political interviews and football games. In the evening, viewers all over the country could have watched a live and lively number from the current stage hit, "Hello Dolly" and then seen Ed Sullivan walking out into a rainy New York street to unveil the marquee of a theater renamed in his honor.

This was immediately followed by excerpts from the famous Christmas show of the Radio City Music Hall in New York, a show which each holiday season results in long lines of patiently waiting people.

Then, on the educational network there was a violinist Yehudi Menuhin and Indian sitarist Ravi Shankar playing a duet during a concert in the United Nations General Assembly hall.

Sullivan on CBS was having a premature celebration of 20 years in television. It was an arbitrary date for the anniversary show since his first television broadcast took place in June 1948. But by June 1968, the Sullivan show will have gone into summer reruns.

Aside from the appearance of Pearl Bailey—one of his first guests—in the "Hello, Dolly" number, there was little in the program's entertainment portion to mark the anniversary—Alan King fuming about the outstretched hands of the holiday season; Gwen Verdon in an elaborate dance number; Robert Merrill in an operatic aria, and Wayne and Shuster in a sketch. But there were celebrities in the audience and the mayor of the city presided over the theater dedication ceremonies.

The Music Hall spectacle, made a year ago, was a valiant attempt to overcome the camera problems posed by a big, busy show on a big stage. The settings were beautiful, the costumes lovely in color. But to show the whole it was necessary to move the camera back so far the performers looked like ants. There seemed to be no way of capturing the marvelous precision of the famous kicking.

Recommended tonight: "Winged World," CBS 7:30-8:30 EST, another in the National Geographic Society specials; "Movin' With Nancy," NBC, 8-9, Nancy Sinatra's first special with assists from Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., and her father, Frank Sinatra.

The pretty waitress answered in a horse whisper,

Miss Smith — Vanilla, strawberry, and chocolate.

Trying to be sympathetic, the diner said,

Mr. Jones — You got laryngitis?

Miss Smith (with an effort) — No, just vanilla, strayberry, and chocolate.

White House Wedding Lovely

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewers may complain a bit these days about the "sameness" of television—The same old plots, the same old jokes, the same old faces. Maybe that is partly true, but there was a particularly interesting demonstration of diversity of programming over the weekend.

Anyone with a television set and access to a network channel on Saturday could have been the next best thing to an invited guest at the White House wedding of Lynda Bird Johnson. And it was a lovely, dignified wedding complete with radiant bride, handsome, uniformed bridegroom and beaming proud parents.

Sunday afternoon there was the usual choice of political interviews and football games. In the evening, viewers all over the country could have watched a live and lively number from the current stage hit, "Hello Dolly" and then seen Ed Sullivan walking out into a rainy New York street to unveil the marquee of a theater renamed in his honor.

This was immediately followed by excerpts from the famous Christmas show of the Radio City Music Hall in New York, a show which each holiday season results in long lines of patiently waiting people.

Then, on the educational network there was a violinist Yehudi Menuhin and Indian sitarist Ravi Shankar playing a duet during a concert in the United Nations General Assembly hall.

Sullivan on CBS was having a premature celebration of 20 years in television. It was an arbitrary date for the anniversary show since his first television broadcast took place in June 1948. But by June 1968, the Sullivan show will have gone into summer reruns.

Aside from the appearance of Pearl Bailey—one of his first guests—in the "Hello, Dolly" number, there was little in the program's entertainment portion to mark the anniversary—Alan King fuming about the outstretched hands of the holiday season; Gwen Verdon in an elaborate dance number; Robert Merrill in an operatic aria, and Wayne and Shuster in a sketch. But there were celebrities in the audience and the mayor of the city presided over the theater dedication ceremonies.

The Music Hall spectacle, made a year ago, was a valiant attempt to overcome the camera problems posed by a big, busy show on a big stage. The settings were beautiful, the costumes lovely in color. But to show the whole it was necessary to move the camera back so far the performers looked like ants. There seemed to be no way of capturing the marvelous precision of the famous kicking.

Recommended tonight: "Winged World," CBS 7:30-8:30 EST, another in the National Geographic Society specials; "Movin' With Nancy," NBC, 8-9, Nancy Sinatra's first special with assists from Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., and her father, Frank Sinatra.

Heart Transplants---Its Inception and Its Promise for the Future

Editors Note: The following article has been specially written for The Associated Press by Prof. Christian Barnard of Groote Schuur Hospital, Cape Town, who, Dec. 3, lead a team of surgeons performing the world's first human heart transplant. In it he describes the operation and talks about the future of heart transplants.

BY CHRISTIAN N. BARNARD

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — At the beginning of November, 1967, following a successful kidney transplant operation some weeks earlier (at Groote Schuur Hospital) a decision was taken to attempt a human heart transplant operation.

Ten years of experience in open heart surgery and a four year research program on organ transplantation had given us the background for confidence of a successful outcome to this undertaking.

It did not take long to find a patient suitable for cardiac transplant, and Mr. Louis Washkansky was considered to have heart disease incurable by any known treatment other than cardiac transplantation.

He also had the correct mental approach and moral courage to submit himself to this new operation.

His blood was examined to determine the pattern of antigens on his red cells and white cells, as this would help us to select a sequent stage by a comparison suitable cardiac donor at a subof a similar antigenic analysis in the prospective donor.

A suitable donor would be a young person with an inevitably fatal disease or injury but having an undamaged heart.

Suitable young people in this category are almost exclusively patients involved in severe accidents.

Little Time

As so little time is usually available between the time of the accident and the time of death of a severely injured patient, all possible preparations were made for the proposed operation beforehand.

The entire team to be involved in the transplant operation was on continuous stand-by.

Twelve units of fresh blood were drawn from 12 fresh volunteers and crossmatched daily in case they should be needed for this proposed operation.

On Saturday, Dec. 2, a young lady, Miss Denise Ann Darvall, was admitted to Groote Schuur Hospital having suffered severe injuries in an (auto) accident shortly before.

Intensive resuscitation was commenced immediately she was admitted, but when seen shortly afterwards by a neurosurgeon she was declared to have inevitably fatal brain damage.

Intensive resuscitation was continued and permission was obtained from the girl's father to remove her heart and kidneys after death for use in transplant operations.

The team was alerted, and the injured girl and Mr. Washkansky were taken to adjoining operating theaters where preparations were continued for two simultaneous open-heart operations.

The blood tests of the injured girl showed both the red cells and the white cells to be almost perfectly compatible with those of Mr. Washkansky, a great encouragement to us.

It became obvious that our treatment of the injured girl was rapidly failing to avert the fatal outcome, and Mr. Washkansky was anesthetized about 1.30 a.m. Sunday.

The Operation

The operation commenced. Within half an hour of the commencement of the open-heart operation, when Mr. Washkansky's body had been cooled to protect his vital organs, the injured girl died, and the electrocardiograph showed complete paralysis of her heart.

The heart of the girl was exposed, connected to a heart-lung machine, and cardiopulmonary bypass was commenced with cooling of the blood in the by-pass (heart-lung) machine.

When her heart was cooled sufficiently, it was removed by dividing the major veins and arteries and disconnected from the heart-lung machine in the first operating theater.

Her heart was transferred to the second operating theater, where it was reconnected within minutes to the second heart-lung machine and perfused (fed) with cold blood.

The perfusion continued during implantation of the heart.

Mr. Washkansky's aorta was clamped to isolate his heart from the blood circulating in the body and his severely damaged heart was excised (cut out), leaving portions of both atrial chambers to serve as the stem on to which the new heart would be grated.

While the rest of Mr. Washkansky's body continued to be perfused from the heart-lung machine, the donor heart was sutured in position, using fine silk sutures to join the atria and main arteries of the new heart to those of Mr. Washkansky.

Firstly, the left atria of the patient and the new heart were joined to each other, and following this the right atria were similarly united. Next, the divided ends of the pulmonary arteries were sutured together, and lastly the two aortas were joined, the cannula (tube) which perfused the new grafted heart being removed during the final stages of the suturing of the aorta.

Clamp Released

The clamp of Mr. Washkansky's aorta was released, and the new heart was perfused by blood pumped into the aorta from the heart-lung machine.

Air was excluded from all chambers of the heart, and the rewarming of the blood in the heart-lung machine was commenced.

When the correct temperature had been reached, the new heart was given an electric shock through paddles placed on either side of the heart, and some 2 hours after it had stopped it started beating once more.

The rewarming of Mr. Washkansky's body continued, and some 20 minutes later the flow from the heart-lung machine was reduced, and little by little the heart took over the circulation.

Ten minutes later the heart-lung machine was switched off finally, and the new heart was beating strongly and supporting abundant life in its new body.

The tubes connecting the patient to the heart-lung machine were removed, and his chest was closed.

An X-ray picture of his chest showed all to be functioning well, and the electrocardiogram was satisfactory.

He was allowed to recover consciousness and then returned to the sterile postoperative intensive-care room some 6½ hours after the operation commenced.

He was still on assisted mechanical ventilation, largely as a preventive measure, and his progress continued to be satisfactory during the rest of Sunday.

Artificial ventilation was stopped on the following morning, and since this time he has continued to breathe satisfactorily, his heart has functioned well, and his postoperative progress has been eminently satisfactory in every way.

The future of this operation appears most encouraging, and plans are under way for a second heart transplant operation at Groote Schuur Hospital within the next few weeks.

The practical application of this operative procedure in the field of heart disease is unlikely to be very wide for a number of years.

Heart Supply

The difficulties are not only those associated with the organization of a large and highly skilled team but are most particularly concerned with the supply of suitable hearts for transplantation.

The development of new techniques in suppressing the rejection of foreign tissue may allow a more indiscriminate choice of donor hearts on the grounds of immunological compatibility (less tendency for the body to reject a grafted heart) and may even allow the transplantation of organs from one species to another—for instance animals to man.

Research work in the field of organ preservation may advance sufficiently to allow the establishment of organ banks, but despite all these possible future expansions of the technique the demand for new hearts is very likely always to exceed the supply.

Artificial hearts are the logical alternative, and even though these are more likely to be freely available in the future, their development, and even more so their perfection, are still many years ahead.

Experience in the past has shown that man-made devices used in cardiac surgery are at best a poor substitute for a normally functioning organ.

The vast majority of human hearts function perfectly for up to 80 years, and few if any machines can match this continuous performance.

The Weather

MONDAY, DEC. 11, 1967

Sun rises at 7:14 a.m.; sun sets at 4:24 p.m., EST.

Weather: Rain or drizzle.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 26 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 35 degrees.

Weather Forecast

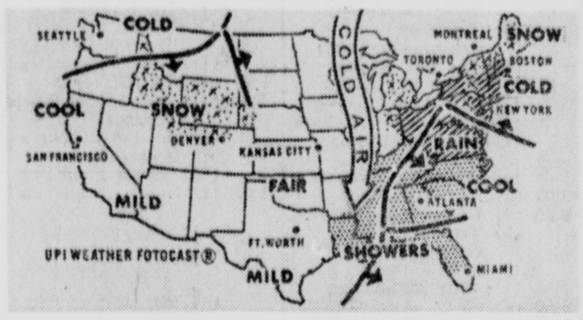

Lower Hudson Valley:
Upper Hudson Valley:

Sleet and freezing rain changing to rain this morning. Periods of rain or drizzle this afternoon and tonight. A more general rain likely Tuesday. Highs mainly in the 30s. Lows tonight, upper 20s and 30s. Highs Tuesday, 30s to mid 40s. Generally easterly and southeasterly winds, 6 to 18.

Northeastern New York:

Snow developing over most areas before changing to freezing rain and sleet and then to rain today. Periods of rain or drizzle tonight and possibly snow flurries in the extreme north. A more general rain likely Tuesday. Highs today, 25 to 35. Little temperature change tonight. Highs Tuesday, mid to upper 30s. Generally easterly and southeasterly winds, 8 to 18.

For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Tuesday

During tonight, snow and freezing rain will occur in New England and the Lakes region, with periods of rain and showers southward into the upper half of Florida. Snow or snow flurries are expected in the Rocky Mountain area, otherwise, fair to partly cloudy skies should prevail elsewhere. A slow warming may be noted in the Plains and Plateau regions. Her heart was transferred to the second operating theater, where it was reconnected within minutes to the second heart-lung machine and perfused (fed) with cold blood.

The perfusion continued during implantation of the heart.

Mr. Washkansky's aorta was clamped to isolate his heart from the blood circulating in the body and his severely damaged heart was excised (cut out), leaving portions of both atrial chambers to serve as the stem on to which the new heart would be grated.

While the rest of Mr. Washkansky's body continued to be perfused from the heart-lung machine, the donor heart was sutured in position, using fine silk sutures to join the atria and main arteries of the new heart to those of Mr. Washkansky.

Firstly, the left atria of the patient and the new heart were joined to each other, and following this the right atria were similarly united. Next, the divided ends of the pulmonary arteries were sutured together, and lastly the two aortas were joined, the cannula (tube) which perfused the new grafted heart being removed during the final stages of the suturing of the aorta.

Clamp Released

The clamp of Mr. Washkansky's aorta was released, and the new heart was perfused by blood pumped into the aorta from the heart-lung machine.

Air was excluded from all chambers of the heart, and the rewarming of the blood in the heart-lung machine was commenced.

When the correct temperature had been reached, the new heart was given an electric shock through paddles placed on either side of the heart, and some 2 hours after it had stopped it started beating once more.

The rewarming of Mr. Washkansky's body continued, and some 20 minutes later the flow from the heart-lung machine was reduced, and little by little the heart took over the circulation.

Ten minutes later the heart-lung machine was switched off finally, and the new heart was beating strongly and supporting abundant life in its new body.

The tubes connecting the patient to the heart-lung machine were removed, and his chest was closed.

An X-ray picture of his chest showed all to be functioning well, and the electrocardiogram was satisfactory.

He was allowed to recover consciousness and then returned to the sterile postoperative intersive-care room some 6½ hours after the operation commenced.

He was still on assisted mechanical ventilation, largely as a preventive measure, and his progress continued to be satisfactory during the rest of Sunday.

Artificial ventilation was stopped on the following morning, and since this time he has continued to breathe satisfactorily, his heart has functioned well, and his postoperative progress has been eminently satisfactory in every way.

The future of this operation appears most encouraging, and plans are under way for a second heart transplant operation at Groote Schuur Hospital within the next few weeks.

The practical application of this operative procedure in the field of heart disease is unlikely to be very wide for a number of years.

Heart Supply

The difficulties are not only those associated with the organization of a large and highly skilled team but are most particularly concerned with the supply of suitable hearts for transplantation.

The development of new techniques in suppressing the rejection of foreign tissue may allow a more indiscriminate choice of donor hearts on the grounds of immunological compatibility (less tendency for the body to reject a grafted heart) and may even allow the transplantation of organs from one species to another—for instance animals to man.

Research work in the field of organ preservation may advance sufficiently to allow the establishment of organ banks, but despite all these possible future expansions of the technique the demand for new hearts is very likely always to exceed the supply.

Artificial hearts are the logical alternative, and even though these are more likely to be freely available in the future, their development, and even more so their perfection, are still many years ahead.

Experience in the past has shown that man-made devices used in cardiac surgery are at best a poor substitute for a normally functioning organ.

The vast majority of human hearts function perfectly for up to 80 years, and few if any machines can match this continuous performance.
